How to Use This Guide

Welcome to The Sims 3 Ambitions™, the second expansion pack for The Sims 3™. Whereas the first expansion pack, The Sims 3 World Adventures™, sent your Sims on far-flung journeys around the globe, Ambitions expands on the adventures you find right in your neighborhood. Ambitions introduces several new careers for Sims, but unlike the careers found in The Sims 3 base game, the occupations of Ambitions require much more active participation. Sims can sign up to exorcise the neighborhood as a Ghost Hunter, re-model homes as an Architect, put out five-alarm blazes as a Firefighter, and more. All-new careers require new skills, too. Ambitions includes two new skills: Inventing and Sculpting. New traits, moodlets, wishes, socials, and objects are also part of the Ambitions package.

This book serves as your career advancement guide for these exciting new opportunities. Every step of the career ladder is explained with detailed tips and strategies for getting promotions faster, which in turn fattens your Sim's bank account and makes them much happier. We detail the development of the new skills as well as explain how the original skill set is used to rocket to new promotions. The newest neighborhood, Twinbrook, is also completely mapped out, so you'll know exactly where everything is in this bustling community—including valuable collectibles. If The Sims 3 Ambitions is your first time playing The Sims 3, we've also included a full chapter on the essentials of playing, called The Sims 3 Primer.

The Sims 3 Primer: Are you just getting started in The Sims 3? This primer will get you started with useful information on features from the base game that are directly related to advancements in Ambitions. Skill and relationship development. Mood management. Wishes and opportunities. We'll make sure you're ready for Ambitions.

New Simology: This chapter details all of the brand-new traits, skills, moodlets, socials, and wishes (both normal and Lifetime Wishes) introduced in Ambitions. Learn how to become a master sculptor. Check out the new tattoos. If it will make your Sim happy, you'll find it here.

New Venues & Real Estate: In addition to new skills and careers, you now have a handful of brand-new venues like the consignment store and laundromat. The real estate system has also been enhanced, offering new ways to expand your empire beyond investing in properties.

Tour of Twinbrook: Ambitions lets you explore a whole new neighborhood, named Twinbrook. This tour details all the sights, including new career venues, commerce, and hidden collectible locations.

Professions Guide: Every new career in Ambitions is thoroughly detailed in this section, including job requirements, new schedules, how to get great promotions faster, and all of the rewards for having a great shift. Original careers from The Sims 3 are charted here, too.

New Objects: And what will you do with all the Simoleons earned at your Sim's new career? Spend them on all-new objects, of course! New Buy Mode tables give the prices and values of every new object.

The Sims 3 Primer

Is this your first time diving into The Sims 3? If you are entirely new to the bestselling series of games (well over 100 million The Sims games have been sold around the world), then everything in The Sims 3 is brand new. But if you are just checking into the game after experiencing The Sims or The Sims 2, then you will be surprised at how much the game has changed. Yes, you still control your Sims as they embark on individual narratives created from the houses you build, the relationships you forge, and the dreams you pursue.

However, The Sims 3 gives you even greater control over your Sims' destinies—even though life does tend to hurl a curveball (or five) while you play. There are more enhanced options for creating new Sims—both on the inside and outside. A new mood system uses hundreds of little moodlets to help you steer Sims toward happiness by letting you know exactly what the Sim is feeling at that second. New social interactions help you guide matters of the heart. And finally, a new Lifetime Wish system gives your Sims overarching dreams to achieve, giving their lives a sense of structure.

Not everything you do with your Sims has to be in pursuit of this big dream. No contract says you must be 100 percent benevolent. No enforcement mechanism prevents you from charting a new course. The whole point of the changes in The Sims 3 is to give you a new level of interaction and control to make your game experience—the life experiences of your Sims—as unique as a snowflake.

Leading a New Life

When you dive into Create a Sim, you have complete control over the physical appearance of your Sim and can deck him or her out in any number of outfits. Frumpy? Flashy? The choice is yours. But there is so much more to a Sim than the clothes, the number of wrinkles, or the hairdo. What makes a truly lasting impact on your new Sim is how you designate and develop their personality. Before exiting Create a Sim, you give your Sim up to five traits that are the building blocks of their personality. But it doesn't end there. Traits lead to wants and desires. How you indulge these wishes also affects your Sim's well-being, measured by their current mood. Use this section to learn all about shaping personalities, weighing wishes, and managing mood. The happier you make your Sim, the more rewarding life is on both sides of the screen.

Personality

The fifth tab of the Create a Sim tool is where you determine your Sim's personality. If the Sim is a young adult or older, you may assign five traits that define their personality. There are more than 60 traits to choose from in the Create a Sim tool—and not all of them are positive. For every Ambitious trait, there is the Loser trait.

Traits affect your Sim's lifelong wishes and goals as well as their core personality. The selections you make here stick with your Sims for the remainder of their lives (well, there is actually a way around this...but more on that later). Choose carefully because these traits have far-reaching effects on all aspects of life, from how the Sim functions in a social situation to how they like to spend quiet time at home—if at all.

NOTE

Selecting certain traits removes others from the available list. For example, if you select Technophobe, then the Computer Whiz trait is no longer available.

Your trait choices also affect your Sim's Lifetime Wish. The Lifetime Wish is the big dream your Sim hopes to grab.

Depending on the combination of your traits, you have five different Lifetime Wishes to choose from. There is no obvious mathematical formula for determining which traits combinations result in which Lifetime Wishes you are offered, but common sense plays into it. Selecting the Bookworm trait makes it more likely your Sim will be offered the Illustrious Author Lifetime Wish.

NOTE

Look for full definitions of the 31 Lifetime Wishes after the trait list.

We have compiled a list of all of the available traits in the The Sims 3 here so you can make informed decisions when determining your Sim's personality.

Traits

There are 63 possible traits to choose from in The Sims 3. Traits include personality triggers such as Brave, Frugal, Loner, and Unlucky. They range from positive to negative with a handful of relatively neutral traits somewhere in the middle. Because these five traits not only make up the core of your Sims' personality but also affect what Lifetime Wishes are available to them, consider how they might factor into the kind of life you'd like to live inside The Sims 3.

Lifetime Wishes

At the very end of the Create a Sim process, you select a Lifetime Wish for your new Sim. This wish is the Sim's main goal in life—it is the dream that ultimately defines them. While you do not necessarily have to play the game strictly to satisfy these wishes, they do give you some structure. Plus, fulfilling a Lifetime Wish rewards your Sim with Lifetime Happiness points—a lot of them. Lifetime Happiness points are a currency that your Sim banks when you help them satisfy smaller wishes or maintain high spirits. While you can amass a lot of Lifetime Happiness points by fulfilling the day-to-day wishes and making sure your Sim is consistently happy, there is no bigger payout than the Lifetime Wish.

NOTE

You can create multiple Sims at the beginning of a game and then define their relationships within a single household, such as spouses, house mates, siblings, and parents. Families and house mates share Simoleons.

A Day in the Life

Once you create a Sim and a place for them to call home, it is finally time to venture into the world and start living it up. The journey will not always be easy, but it will be full of fun and surprises. However, before taking on that first brave day, you need to be familiar with a handful of terms that will not only appear throughout this entire guide, but also be critical to succeeding within the game.

Mood

There are a handful of ways to measure your Sim's life progress, such as Simoleons or the current career promotion, but mood is how you measure your Sim's immediate condition. Your Sim's happiness and/or misery is displayed right there on the Mood meter—shaped like an upside-down exclamation point—which turns green when the Sim is pleased and bright red when something is seriously amiss. There is a yellow point in the middle of the Mood meter that gives you a warning. Inject something fun or enjoyable into your Sim's day or mood will continue to plummet.

To succeed in life, you must keep your Sim happy. Pushing the Mood meter in to the green indicates happiness. And if you can boost the Sim's mood all the way into the "bubble" at the top of the meter, then you know your Sim is truly happy. As long as the Mood meter is in that bubble, the Sim accumulates Lifetime Happiness points. This lasts until the mood drops out of the bubble, even if the Sim is still shown to be happy by a largely green meter.

Moodlets

Mood is a bird's-eye view of everything the Sim is feeling at that given moment. Moodlets are slivers of that mood. These smaller emotions, feelings, and cravings are not passive indicators—these are real-time assessments that should never be ignored.

REQUIRED READING

Wishes: Every Sim has desires, both immediate and long-term. When you created a Sim, you gave it a Lifetime Wish. However, Sims also come up with smaller wishes each day that they would love for you to help them fulfill. Fulfilled wishes boost your Sim's mood and award Lifetime Happiness points.

Lifetime Happiness Points: These are the ultimate barometer of your Sim's fulfillment. When you complete a wish, your Sim earns Lifetime Happiness points. You also earn these points when you boost your Sim's mood over a certain threshold. Lifetime Happiness points can be traded in for Lifetime Rewards, which affect your Sim's personality and aptitude.

Skills: Sims can learn a variety of talents, such as writing, fishing, painting, and athletics. These skills are often tied into careers or hobbies. Certain activities increase your skill ranking. You can track your Sims' skills in their Skill Journals.

Careers: In order to maintain their households, Sims must have a constant source of income. Careers provide that. There are a multitude of career tracks in Sunset Valley, from athlete to journalist. Sims can also seek out part-time jobs or turn their skills into moneymaking opportunities, such as penning books from home. Each career has several levels of promotion.

Opportunities: From time to time, Sims encounter opportunities that result in rewards when completed. Opportunities are typically related to careers and skills, but special opportunities pop up just by exploring Sunset Valley and talking to people. Rewards include job promotions, physical objects, Simoleons, or relationship boosts.

Moodlets: The Sims 3 introduce a new measurement of your Sim's happiness—moodlets. Moodlets are factors that affect your overall mood. They are good, bad, and neutral. Most moodlets have a timer that denotes how long they affect overall mood. Some negative moodlets can be eliminated by correcting behavior or environment. To make your Sims' life better and earn more Lifetime Happiness points, adjust your Sims' life so they experience more positive moodlets.

Needs: As in The Sims™ 2, Sims have individual needs like Bladder, Hunger, Hygiene, Social, Fun, and Energy. These needs are affected by environment, activities, and relationships. While mood and moodlet take center stage in making sure your Sim is happy, don't neglect basic needs. When buying objects for your lot, be sure to keep an eye on how certain objects affect specific needs. For example, a nicer bathtub or shower will increase your Sim's Hygiene rating.

Socials: Socials are the interactions that take place between Sims. There are literally hundreds of socials. Not all socials are available right away. Some are unlocked by developing skills. Other socials are activated by the traits you give your Sims. Use socials to direct a conversation and engage other Sims, paying attention to their likes and dislikes so you can build better relationships. Who knows what could happen? Playfully teasing the right Sim could lead to a lifelong love, while joking with a sourpuss could result in a new nemesis.

Some moodlets demand immediate attention, such as moodlets that indicate hunger or a lack of hygiene. These negative moodlets contribute to a decreased overall mood, which affects so much of your Sim's life, such as their performance at work. Negative moodlets can typically be dispelled with an action, such as taking a shower to get rid of the Grungy moodlet.

There are three types of moodlets: positive, neutral, and negative. To keep mood up, you need to do more things that inspire positive moodlets. Moodlets have varying degrees of effect on overall mood. Some moodlets are very minor and do not necessarily cause a mood swing. However, these little annoyances can add up to an unhappy Sim if they are ignored.

To combat these, rectify any conditions causing a negative moodlet and seek out activities that cause positive moodlets.

Moodlets are timed—they only last for a certain time before they either vanish, or in the case of several negative moodlets, lead into worse moodlets. While a moodlet is active, it contributes to the overall mood. There is no state of decay. As soon as the timer on a moodlet expires, that moodlet's effect on the overall mood vanishes.

Here is a list of all of the moodlets your Sim can feel, broken down by effect—positive, negative, and neutral. The duration of each moodlet is also included so you know how long the effects of a moodlet will influence overall mood.

Mood Boosting Tips and Tricks

We have collected a host of suggestions for increasing the appearance of positive moodlets as well as minimizing negative moodlets. Because a good mood has such a far-reaching effect, use these tricks to maintain a smile on your Sim.

Food Boosts

The simple act of eating can have a very positive effect on your Sim. Not only does it negate hunger, but quality food can also put a Sim on cloud nine (or clouds one through eight, depending on how good the meal is). Here are some tricks for maximizing mood through eating:

- Develop the Cooking skill. As your Sim approaches level 10, they make higher and high quality meals. Quality meals result in the Good Meal, Great Meal, and Amazing Meal moodlets depending on the skill of the cook and the number of times the recipe has been prepared.
- Sims get better at a recipe the more they make a dish. Fortunately, they do not get tired of eating the same thing so if your Sim masters a dish like Goopy Carbonara and keeps making it, Sims get moodlet boosts for eating it.
- Place leftovers in the fridge of Excellent or Perfect recipes and eat them whenever the Sim is hungry. Buying a more expensive fridge helps leftovers keep longer so you waste little time making additional servings every day and can enjoy a quick mood boost from eating good food.

When a Sim finally reaches level 10 of the Culinary career, they get a special fridge that not only keeps leftovers for a long time, but Sims get the Superior Equipment moodlet just for walking past it.

If your Sim makes a new recipe and does a poor job resulting in a disgusting meal, don't eat it. Just rely on a quick meal to satiate hunger. The Sim is sad over wasting food, but the mood hit for the Nauseous moodlet is worse.

At level 10 of the Cooking skill, Sims can buy the Baked Angel Food Cake recipe. Eating a serving of this recipe results in the Warm Fuzzies moodlet, which gives an easy mood boost for five hours.

Eating out at the diner or bistro always results in a food-related mood boost. Sure, it costs Simoleons, but the eight-hour moodlet boost will pump up your Sim's overall mood. Try eating at the bistro or diner before going to work for an extended mood boost.

Dining at the bistro occasionally (but not too often) results in the Divine Meal moodlet. This moodlet boost lasts for an entire week and offers +75 to your Sim's mood. Talk about a happiness generator.

Feed Ambrosia to your Sims so they get the coveted Divine Meal moodlet. The recipe is available from the bookstore once Sims reach level 10 of the Cooking skill. However, the recipe does not come cheap. It costs §12,000 and it's worth every single Simoleon.

No time to cook? Just grab a quick snack. If you let your Sim get too hungry, they get the Very Hungry and Starving moodlets. These negative moodlets last a long time and are terrible to have, especially before going to work.

In addition to buying a good fridge, splurge on a good stove. This reduces the chances of preparing a meal that results in the negative Uneven Cooking moodlet while working on new recipes.

Environment Boosts

Sims are affected by their surroundings at home. You can boost mood by making sure your Sims have a pleasant pad. Sure, it may cost a little money to get the best stuff and make your Sims happy, but maxing out mood is almost always worth the expenditure.

Sims love new stuff. In fact, buying a new object for the house results in the appropriately named New Stuff! moodlet, which is a quick mood booster.

Keep your lot clean. It doesn't take that long to pick up dishes or make sure objects in the bathroom are clean. Mop up puddles right away, too. Dirty houses result in negative moodlets like Filthy Surroundings. Walking through a dirty house on the way to work is a real mood-killer.

Master the Painting skill so your Sims create Masterpieces. Masterpieces add huge environmental boosts to rooms that help foster the Decorated moodlets.

Spend some Simoleons on nice objects such as paintings and sculptures so Sims get the Decorated moodlets just for passing through a room.

Install a fireplace in your Sim's house. When Sims walk past it while a fire crackles, they get the Cozy Fire moodlet. If they linger near the fireplace, they get the Warmed moodlet.

Speaking of heat, if a gardening Sim grows a Flame Fruit and keeps it in their personal inventory, they always enjoy the Warmed moodlet.

Place a swimming pool on your lot. Sims get the Lovely Pool moodlet when they are near it.

Buy the rubber duckie from the supermarket and place it on the tub in your house. Every time Sims take a bath, they get the Duck Time Fun moodlet. That's an easy mood booster.

- ❖ All Sims like music. Place a stereo in your house and play music for your Sims so they get the Enjoying the Music moodlet. The potency of this moodlet increases with the quality of the stereo. If a Sim with the Handiness skill upgrades the stereo so it plays music in all rooms, all Sims in the house enjoy the moodlet boost when music is played.
- ❖ In addition to digging on music from a stereo, Sims also like the sound of the guitar. A skilled musician can cause the Enjoying the Music moodlet, too.
- ❖ Not all chairs are created equal. When browsing the chairs, look at the comfy rating. The higher the rating, the comfier the chair. (And, chances are, the more expensive the chair, too.) However, spend the extra Simoleons for the comfy chairs and sofas. Sitting in one—even for just a few moments—results in the Comfy moodlet.
- ❖ Your Sim gets the Pristine Picture moodlet boost from watching a quality TV. If a handy Sim tinkers with it, the chance of getting this moodlet increases. It's another easy way to boost overall mood.

Social Boosts

With the exception of Loner Sims, Sims love to be social. Many positive moods come from being a gadfly or a schmoozer, so consider these tricks while dealing with other Sims. Your next social interaction could put your Sim's mood up into the green!

- ❖ Parties put Sims in good moods. If you put together an awesome party that your guests enjoy, you get the Threw a Great Party moodlet, which lasts an entire day.
- ❖ Know a Sim who is a Great Kisser? A little smooch from this Sim results in a nice little moodlet, Great Kiss. On the way out the door, that's an easy pick-me-up.
- ❖ Meeting a new Sim is always enjoyable, but when your Sim converts that acquaintance into a friendship, they can enjoy the New Friend moodlet. So, get out there and socialize. Just watch out for clumsy conversations so you don't end up with negative moodlets like Embarrassed or Boring Conversation.

- ❖ If you have multiple Sims in your household, have them stop and compliment each other for a moment to get the Flattered moodlet.

Need Boosts

Each Sim has six primary needs. Addressing these needs often boosts the overall mood. Because we already dealt with food-related mood boosts, these strategies are related to the remaining needs.

- ❖ It's tempting to push your Sims to the limits of sleep in order to squeeze as much into a day as possible. However, getting a full night's sleep gives the Well Rested moodlet for a full 10 hours. That's a great moodlet to have before going to work.
- ❖ Got a spare hour? Take a nap. The Had a Nice Nap moodlet is a quick fix that adds a nice mood bump for a few hours.
- ❖ Obviously, Sims like to have fun. Giving your Sim something to do they enjoy (often related to traits, such as giving a good book to a Bookworm) will bring on the Entertained moodlet. Keep it up for six hours and that moodlet turns into the Having a Blast moodlet, which is an even bigger mood booster.
- ❖ Hygiene is an important need. It's not just that Sims do not like being around stinky Sims, but taking care of Hygiene needs can often result in a positive mood boost.
- ❖ The Minty Breath moodlet boost is a quick hit for very little effort. Just brush your Sim's teeth at any sink. Make it a habit.
- ❖ Buy a quality shower and enjoy the Exhilarating Shower moodlet boost. Get this right before heading out the door to work (along with a quality meal) to have a great day at the office.

Whoa—is your Sim afflicted by the Strained moodlet? Get rid of it as soon as possible with a massage or fun activity!

Out and About Boosts

There are many ways to boost your Sim's mood outside the house. Many community lots such as the theater have positive effects on mood, so if your Sim is down in the dumps, try these suggestions for turning that frown upside-down:

- If your Sim has the Loves the Outdoors trait, just going out into nature results in the One with Nature moodlet. It's an easy mood booster achieved by just going outside, so consider making sure your Sim has this trait.
- Visiting a city park gives Sims the Beautiful Park moodlet. It offers a nice mood bump. However, you can kick your mood up another notch by bringing a stereo when heading to the park. Place the stereo on the ground near your Sim and play some music. Now your Sim not only gets the Beautiful Park moodlet, but also the Enjoying the Music moodlet.
- Many facilities such as the theater or science facility offer tours. If your Sim has a trait that is related to the location, take the tour and enjoy the Impressed and/or Fascinated moodlets.
- The day spa is a positive moodlet factory. Buying treatments at the day spa results in a variety of moodlets—all of them positive. The more expensive the spa treatment, the better the effect. The body treatments, for example, result in the Rejuvenated moodlet. If you spring for the top treatment, you can get up to +100 on your mood for 24 hours. You are effectively buying happiness!
- Go to the movies! This is a cheap way to get an extended mood boost called Saw a Great Movie. It lasts for 16 hours, so if you catch a flick the night before work, you'll enjoy the effect of the moodlet for the majority of the next day's shift.
- On your way out of the house, stop by the mailbox and donate some Simoleons to charity. The more Simoleons you donate, the bigger the boost from the Charitable moodlet. The moodlet lasts an entire day, so it's an effective way to pump up a Sim.

Needs

Needs are not as central to The Sims 3 as they were in previous editions of the series. Needs are still important—after all, Sims gotta use the bathroom and eat when they are hungry—but these needs now manifest themselves through moodlets. For example, when a Sim is terribly hungry, they let you know through the Hungry moodlet that appears right in the moodlet box that is always visible.

There is still a Need panel you can reference to get a closer look at exact need levels. This a helpful way to head off a potential negative moodlet. There are six needs to monitor:

- Bladder
- Energy
- Fun
- Hunger
- Hygiene
- Social

Each need in the Needs panel is accompanied by a meter that shows you the exact level of the need at that moment, such as whether or not the need is being met (the meter appears green) or the need has been ignored for far too long (red). If you check in on the Needs panel and you see that the Hunger meter is yellow, the satisfaction of that need has dropped below 50 percent and is on its way to red territory. When that meter turns red, a negative moodlet associated with that need appears and the Sim's overall mood takes a hit.

CAUTION

While more attention is paid to moodlets, you ignore the Needs panel at your own risk. Just pop into the Needs panel and survey the satisfaction levels, thus heading off a negative moodlet.

Wishes

It is through wishes that Sims feel both fulfilled and productive, but not all wishes are equal. In fact, there are other ways to define a Sim's life besides Lifetime Wishes. The day-to-day desires of Sims are also very important, such as the desire to chat with another Sim or learn a new recipe. These smaller wishes commonly factor into the overarching Lifetime Wish, and also help with skill development and the career advancement.

Fulfilling a promised wish to a Sim results in the acquisition of Lifetime Happiness points. The reward is not nearly as much as a Lifetime Wish, but the points from fulfilling smaller wishes really add up over time.

NOTE

Not every wish is worth the same number of Lifetime Happiness points to every Sim. Depending on a Sim's wants, traits, and needs, a wish is worth a different amount than it would be to another Sim.

Making Wishes Come True

Almost as soon as your Sims move into their new houses, they start expressing wishes and desires via the Wish panel at the bottom of the screen. Sims can have up to four active wishes at any time and express one in the arched bubble above the Wish panel. To promise a new wish to a Sim, left-click on it. That moves it into the Wish panel. If you find an incoming wish more appealing than a promised wish but have no more empty slots, right-click on one of promised wishes to remove it. There is no penalty for getting rid of a promised wish.

The Wish panel

You cannot undo a denied wish—once it's gone, it's gone. It may come back later, but don't count on it.

Once added to the Wish panel, a wish stays there until it is either fulfilled or denied. The number of Lifetime Happiness points for a promised wish do not deteriorate over time either. If you hold on to the Have a Baby wish for several days before attempting to fulfill it, it is still worth the same number of Lifetime Happiness points as the first moment it appeared.

Wishes are not universal. Every Sim wants different things, although you may see similar wishes appear within Sims in the same household that have similar traits, skills, or careers. Ages also affect the wishes, as a child will want different things than an adult. It is also important to note that some promised wishes disappear when a Sim ages up. Because the Sim is moving into a new age group and possibly gaining a new trait that affects personality, that Sim is likely to have totally different desires.

Lifetime Happiness Points

Whether you accumulate Lifetime Happiness points by boosting mood up into the bubble or by fulfilling wishes, they all go into the same pot. These Lifetime Happiness points can then be traded for Lifetime Rewards, which are a collection of special objects, skill modifiers, or personality tweaks that can make your Sim's life easier or send it spiraling into an entirely new direction.

Opportunities

As you live each day, your Sim encounters opportunities related to social situations, careers, and skills. These opportunities often come out of nowhere—just as they do in real life. Opportunities provide short-term goals, but they are not mandatory. There is no penalty for dismissing an opportunity or for not completing an opportunity. However, because each opportunity has a reward, such as Simoleons or a promotion, it pays to pursue them as best as you can.

NOTE

You get many opportunities from being social, so definitely get out there and mingle.

Many opportunities are time-sensitive. If you are presented with an opportunity with a time limit, such as participating in a cook-off, you are given the deadline right up front. Keep these deadlines in mind because many opportunities actually require a little work. You cannot expect to complete an opportunity with just 10 minutes left on the clock.

To track your active opportunities, use the Opportunity panel. There are three opportunity categories: skill, career, and special. You can only have one opportunity in each category at a time. You cannot stack opportunities or bank them for later.

Skills

Sims love to learn—they are just waiting for a little nudge from you. Sims can pick and eventually master a variety of skills, from writing to gardening to learning how to play the guitar. Learning a skill is a good way to shape a Sim's personality, especially if the skill is aligned with a specific trait, such as the Gardening skill and the Green Thumb trait. Skills are also a great way for Sims who do not want a traditional career to make money and contribute to the household. Some skills can also be treated as part-time jobs, like growing harvestables or working on a novel.

Development

Any Sim can learn any skill—all it takes is a time commitment and a drive to be the best. Some traits help a Sim master a skill sooner or at least more efficiently. For example, the Bookworm trait lets Sims read faster, which helps speed the process of learning from books.

Some skills can be first learned by reading a book or taking a class, which gives you a full level boost. Learn the first few levels of a skill by doing. When the levels are getting harder to attain, attend a class or pick up a book. You will reduce the time required to reach that next level.

Use public equipment whenever possible to save money early in your Sim's life. The Athletic skill, for example, is improved by using gym equipment.

Sims learn a little faster when they are in a good mood, so do things that give Sims positive moodlets before and while trying to master a skill. For example, learning the Logic skill by playing chess at the park can give your Sim the Comfy and Beautiful Park moodlets.

Cheap equipment can slow skill development. At first you may only be able to afford a cheap stove, for example. But when you can afford it, trade up. Your Sim will learn a little faster.

Skill Journal

Sims don't start out with any skills. When a skill is first learned, it is added to the Skill panel, and an entry in the Sim's Skill Journal tracks the development of the skill. The journal charts more than current skill level, though. Skills that produce tangibles, such as Writing or Painting, have each created work logged in the journal. Other journal entries track time spent doing various activities. The Skill Journal also details Skill Challenges, which are specific titles bestowed on a Sim who completes a set of requirements.

Athletic

Want to feel the burn? Develop the Athletic skill to positively affect your Sim's health in a variety of ways, from body shape to longevity. There are two types of exercise: strength and cardio. Using the weights improves muscle definition, while cardio drops pounds.

Acquire by: Take Athletic Class, Use Exercise Equipment, Swim, Workout with TV, Workout with Stereo Development tools: Shut-In Treadmill, Exercise Queen, Pool, TV, Stereo

Development Benefits

Developing the Athletic skill is essential for the Professional Sports career, but it's also useful for the Law Enforcement career. If Sims want to excel at work, they must hone this skill on home equipment, at the gym or pool, or on the machines at the stadium. Sims can also exercise at home with the TV or a stereo, but the workout is not as effective as one with dedicated equipment. The higher the Sim's skill, the longer they can exercise without earning the Fatigued moodlet.

Here are the benefits of developing the Athletic skill:

Level 1: As soon as Sims hit the first level of this skill, they can choose to jog to locations as exercise.

Level 3: Sims can earn the Pumped moodlet from extended workouts once they reach level 3.

Level 5: Once Sims reach level 5 of the development ladder, they also run faster when directed around town on foot via the Go Here interaction.

Level 6: At level 6, athletic Sims learn the Train interaction, which lets them help other Sims improve their Athletic skill. It requires an exercise machine.

When another Sim is getting trained by a level 6 athlete, the exercising Sim loses weight and gains Athletic skill faster than if they were exercising alone.

As the Athletic skill is developed, Sims earn new “tones” for workouts. These special tones modify a workout, which can lead to earning or avoiding certain moodlets. The Don't Break a Sweat tone is good for minimizing the amount of Hygiene decay so the Grungy moodlet doesn't kick in as soon. Use these tones to get the best possible workout for the current situation:

Don't Break a Sweat (Level 1): Bad Hygiene is a real problem with extended workouts. Use this tone to work out without a heavy Hygiene decay.

Good Pacing (Level 3): Good Pacing lets you increase the length of a workout before the Fatigued moodlet takes effect.

Push Self (Level 5): Use Push Self to increase the speed of building muscle, dropping pounds, and gaining skill. However, after Push Self is used, Sims wake up with the Sore moodlet.

Quick Burst (Level 7): Quick Burst allows your Sim to get a lot of body shape change and skill much faster than usual, but the Sim gets fatigued and sore much more quickly as well. Working out with other tones until fatigued will always yield more skill and body shape change than working out until fatigued using Quick Burst, but Quick Burst gives you faster skill gains.

Skill Challenges

Body Builder: Body Builders have dedicated at least 60 hours to strength workouts. This dedication pays off, because they are never fatigued after strength workouts.

Marathon Runner: Marathon Runners must run at least 500 kilometers before they earn this title. However, accomplishing this incredible feat guarantees them a longer, healthier life.

Fitness Nut: Fitness Nuts have spent 75 hours focusing on cardio workouts. All that time experiencing the burn means they are no longer fatigued after cardio workouts.

Charisma

Everybody knows someone who can breeze into a room, seamlessly enter any conversation, and suddenly become the focal point. The key to such feats is Charisma. This skill is essential for Sims who want to effectively socialize. Tuning this skill unlocks new social interactions that simplify befriending other Sims and developing meaningful relationships.

Acquire by: Take Charisma Class, Read Charisma Manual, Practice Speech in a Mirror

Development tools: Books, Socials, Mirror, Parties

Development Benefits

Enhancing the Charisma skill opens exciting new avenues of conversation as well as a special social that guarantees a smooth recovery from any conversational snafus. However, developing the skill requires more than just taking a class and then practicing your charismatic moves with a book or by talking into the mirror. It requires making friends and maintaining relationships during the course of the skill development. Each level of the skill requires a specific number of friends and relationships. Without these connections, you cannot advance up the skill tree, no matter how long you practice that wolfish grin in the mirror.

Here are the number of friends and relationships required to develop the Charisma skill:

CHARISMA – DEVELOPMENT

| Level | Required Friends | Required Relationships |
|-------|------------------|------------------------|
| 1 | 0 | 0 |
| 2 | 0 | 2 |
| 3 | 1 | 3 |
| 4 | 2 | 4 |
| 5 | 3 | 6 |
| 6 | 4 | 8 |
| 7 | 5 | 10 |
| 8 | 6 | 15 |
| 9 | 8 | 20 |
| 10 | 10 | 25 |

TIP

Sims who develop the Charisma skill increase the effectiveness of social interactions at work, such as Meet Co-Workers or Suck Up to Boss.

NOTE

Whenever you use a positive social, the Charisma skill gets a little boost.

Practice your Charisma skill by working on your speech in the mirror at home.

Charismatic Sims get additional greetings that start a conversation right, such as Amusing Introduction and Friendly Introduction. These greets are more potent than regular greets. As the skill develops, more greet modifiers appear that increase the social weight of the greeting and can steer the conversation. Here are the modified greetings with each advancing level:

CHARISMA – GREETINGS

| Level | Greet Modifier | Type of Greet |
|-------|----------------|---------------|
| 1 | Friendly | Friendly |
| 2 | Amusing | Funny |
| 3 | Interesting | Impressive |
| 4 | Flirty | Romantic |
| 5 | Affectionate | Romantic |
| 6 | Funny | Funny |
| 7 | Impressive | Impressive |
| 8 | Hilarious | Funny |
| 9 | Loving | Romantic |
| 10 | Hot | Romantic |

Three special socials unlock as you develop the Charisma skill. Once you reach a specific level, you learn these new socials:

Charming Introduction (Level 1): Sometimes, introductions are the toughest part of the conversation. Sims with high Charisma levels become more adept at introductions, as seen by the modified greets. Once charismatic Sims reach level 10, their Charming Introduction rockets them into Friend status right away.

Get to Know (Level 3): This social helps with discovering the traits and interests of other Sims. Once learned, this social becomes more powerful as the Sim approaches level 10 of the skill. Eventually, there is no possibility of rejection when inquiring about traits and interests.

Smooth Recovery (Level 5): Oops. You said the wrong thing. If you have the Smooth Recovery social, you can try to revive the conversation. If may not always work, but as the skill nears level 10, the chance of success increases.

Skill Challenges

Celebrity: Celebrities are Acquaintances with at least 25 local Sims. Celebrities build relationships faster due to a hefty starting relationship bonus.

Personable: Personable Sims have learned at least 50 traits of their friends and neighbors. They learn traits more quickly when conversing with new people.

🌱 Super Friendly: Super Friendly Sims can honestly say they have at least 20 Friends. It seems like an impossibly large number of relationships to juggle, but for Super Friendly Sims, friendships never decay.

🌱 Everybody's Best Friend: To be Everybody's Best Friend, have at least 10 Best Friends. Your Friends skip Good Friend and jump immediately to Best Friends.

🌱 Comedian: Comedians have successfully told 100 jokes, which amounts to quite a few laughs. Jokes told by Comedians rarely fall flat.

Cooking

Save for using the bathroom and sleeping, no activity is more crucial to a Sim than eating. Food is a central part of every Sim's life, so having a Sim around who can actually cook is a boon to everybody's mood. However, very few Sims are awesome in the kitchen right away—even those with the Natural Cook trait. Cooking must be practiced. It's hard work, but it has great rewards. Very few things offer a pick-me-up quite like a good meal.

Acquire by: Class, Prepare Meals, Read Cookbook

Development tools: Books, Meal Preparation Interactions, Foodstuffs, Recipes

Development Benefits

Sims must eat to survive. At first, Sims have access to just a handful of recipes, but can also just grab quick meals out of the fridge. Quick meals have zero prep time, are eaten quickly, and reduce hunger. However, quick meals and snacks do not help develop the Cooking skill, nor can they be served to groups of Sims like a full meal.

TIP

Ditch the cheap stove as soon as possible so you stop getting the Uneven Cooking moodlet. Plus, more expensive stoves help with both the speed of preparing a recipe and the quality of the end result.

The shortcomings of quick meals make developing the Cooking skill so important. Not every member of a household needs to excel at the skill, but a general acquaintance with it is very useful. Prepared meals build the Cooking skill while being made, can serve groups of Sims, and if made well, can improve mood.

Quality of Food

As the Sim develops the skill, the food they make improves. The more recipes learned also improves the variety of dishes served, which has a positive effect on every Sim who eats them. When a Sim first tries to cook a recipe, there is a good chance they will fail and create a disgusting version of the dish. It is still edible, but it hits Sims with a negative moodlet. A recipe's quality is affected by the Sim's level of Cooking skill and the number of times they've cooked the dish. Eventually, a dish the Sim once botched will provide great happiness, inspiring moodlets such as Good Meal and Amazing Meal.

TIP

Recipes that use harvestables grown by a Sim with the Gardening skill also use the quality of the harvest to determine the quality of the meal. The better quality the harvestable, the better the meal.

Recipes Learned

Two types of recipes are opened by developing the Cooking skill: learned recipes and acquired recipes. Learned recipes are purchased in the bookstore, but cannot be opened until the skill reaches a specific level. The acquired recipes are those automatically gifted when the Sim reaches a specific cooking level.

TIP

At level 10 of the Cooking skill, you can learn the coveted Ambrosia recipe. This special recipe requires Life Fruit and Death Fruit. If Ambrosia was made properly, eating it will extend your Sim's life a little during the current age.

Skill Challenges

- Star Chef: Star Chefs have prepared at least 50 meals, so they clearly know their way around the kitchen. The dishes they prepare are higher quality and thus more pleasing.
- World-Class Chef: World-Class Chefs have prepared at least 75 dishes and are masters of the kitchen. World-Class Chefs prepare meals significantly faster.
- Menu Maven: Menu Mavens have learned to prepare all recipes. Recipes are earned by improving the Cooking skill and can be purchased at the bookstore. Menu Mavens prepare higher quality food.

Fishing

The Fishing skill is good for three things: keeping food on the table, earning money, and relaxing. Sims with the Angler trait have a head start on other Sims who pick up a rod and reel, but any Sims can take a class to advance the Fishing skill or just plop a bobber in the water and start learning through experience.

Acquire by: Take Fishing Class, Read Fishing Book, Fishing

Development tools: No tools needed

Development Benefits

The Fishing skill begins one of three ways: reading a book, taking a class, or just going out to a body of water and using the Fish interaction. Once the Fishing skill is underway, the skill increases either by continued reading or continued fishing. Just having a hook under the surface is enough to develop the skill, but this is a slow way to learn. The skill actually gets a bump when you catch a fish. And the bigger the fish, the bigger the skill bump.

TIP

Certain traits in addition to Angler affect the Fishing skill. Loves the Outdoors Sims get great moodlets from just being outside and fishing. Hates Outdoors, Easily Bored, or Clumsy dampen the ability to catch fish.

When a fish is hoisted out of the water, the Sim holds it up and the weight of the fish is automatically logged in the Skill Journal. If it's a new type of fish, that is also noted.

Once the Sim reaches level 3 with the Fishing skill, they can choose the Bait interaction at the water's edge to use a specific type of bait while fishing. Bait is essential if a Sim hopes to catch more than just the basic fish. Gaining levels also unlocks the ability to catch certain fish. However, just unlocking a type of fish does not guarantee actually catching it.

Using any bait slightly increases the chance of catching all fish. It also drastically increases the chance of catching the fish that loves that specific bait type. Higher quality bait tends to catch bigger fish, but only for fish that specifically like that bait. So use Perfect bait to catch the biggest fish. You can also use bait to catch fish that are somewhat higher level than your Sim's Fishing skill. Sims can catch fish up to 3 levels higher than their skill by using the right bait, although it will be harder to catch those fish until the Sim is higher skill.

Each fish has one favorite type of bait, and you should use that bait to catch that fish. Here is a table with the bait that each type of fish prefers:

FISHING

| Fish | Skill Level Required | Commonality | Locations Found | Preferred Bait | Minimum weight | Maximum weight | Value at min weight | Value at max weight | Skill Points for Catching |

Skill Challenges

- Amateur Ichthyologist: Amateur Ichthyologists have caught at least one of every fish type. Their deep understanding of marine life helps them catch the bigger fish.
- Commercial Fisherman: Commercial Fisherman have caught at least 350 fish. They catch more fish in less time than normal Sims.

Gardening

Gardening is a great skill for Green Thumb Sims, Sims who want to cook, and Sims who like the outdoors. This skill tree lets you turn a backyard into a harvestable-growing paradise. But gardening is a lot of work and takes time to master.

Acquire by: Take Gardening Class, Read Gardening Book, Plant Seed

Development tools: Gardening Books, Seeds

Development Benefits

Learn the Gardening skill by taking a class or reading a Gardening book. You can also plant a seed and cultivate it to start developing the skill. Once the skill has been acquired, Sims can choose the Plant interaction from seeds and other harvestables in their personal inventories. Once a seed has been planted, Sims can water it. As they continue leveling, they unlock two more critical interactions: Weed and Fertilize.

Here are the unlockable interactions or specials for the development of the Gardening skill:

Weed (Level 2): Once the Weed interaction is unlocked, Sims can pull up choking weeds before they damage a harvestable. The higher the skill level, the less time it takes to clear weeds around a plant.

Fertilize (Level 3): Fertilizing is key to growing the best harvestables. No one fertilizer is better for a particular plant. The quality of the fertilizer is what affects the potential growth of the harvestable.

Uncommon Seeds (Level 5): Once the Sim reaches this level, they can plant uncommon seeds.

Revive Plant (Level 6): If a Sim has the Green Thumb trait, this interaction is unlocked at level 6. A dying plant can be rescued with a pretty high success rate by using this interaction on it.

Rare Seeds (Level 7): Once the Sim reaches this level, they can plant rare seeds.

Special Plants (Levels 8, 9, and 10): At level 8, you get the first of three special gardening opportunities from the chef at the bistro. There is one opportunity per level: 8, 9, and 10. Once all three have been completed, the Sim receives Omni Plant seeds and the ability to plant them.

NOTE

What's an Omni Plant? Imagine a plant that grows into whatever fertilizer you give it. Give the Omni Plant a book and the Omni Plant will soon blossom great texts.

TIP

Grow garlic and watermelon for simple cash crops. Just keep planting the highest quality of these harvestables and churn that garden until it becomes a money machine.

The better care you give a plant and the higher your Gardening skill level, the better quality fruit a plant produces. Plants range from Horrifying to Perfect, just like prepared recipes from the Cooking skill. Better quality harvestables are worth more when sold.

To raise the best harvestables, you must show no mercy with your plants. Keep growing as many as you can and dispose of the lowest quality ones, so you keep breeding higher quality harvestables. Combine this tactic with raising your skill level to keep growing better harvestables. Using quality harvestables in your cooking improves the quality of recipes, which in turn gives out better meal-related moods.

Seeds

Sims need seeds to grow harvestables. Not all seeds are easy to grow into successful plants, though. Sims must level up the Gardening skill to plant all types of seeds: common, uncommon, and rare.

Many seeds can just be bought from the EverFresh Supermarket, such as grape or tomato. Just buy the fruit and then plant it. However, Sims can also find seeds by exploring. Every morning, there are new seeds in new locations, so look around daily to see what's on the ground. The farther away from houses and commerce buildings Sims look, the more likely they are to find uncommon and rare seeds. Seeds are unknown when found. To discover what the seed will grow, it must be planted and nurtured. Once you grow a harvestable from a found seed, you recognize that seed in the wild.

Fertilizer

There are many different types of fertilizer to use on your plants to help them grow into high-quality harvestables. Here's a full list of the best fertilizers:

FERTILIZERS

| Ingredient | Effectiveness | Fish | Effectiveness |
|--------------|---------------|------------------|---------------|
| Cheese | 1 | Anchovy | 1 |
| Burger Patty | 1 | Goldfish | 1 |
| Egg | 1 | Alley Catfish | 1 |
| Lettuce | 1 | Rainbow Trout | 2 |
| Tomato | 1 | Minnnow | 3 |
| Onion | 1 | Jellyfish | 3 |
| Potato | 1 | Tuna | 3 |
| Apple | 1 | Salmon | 4 |
| Lime | 1 | Black Goldfish | 4 |
| Grapes | 1 | Swordfish | 4 |
| Watermelon | 2 | Red Herring | 5 |
| Steak | 3 | Tragic Clownfish | 5 |
| Bell Pepper | 3 | Siamese Catfish | 5 |
| Garlic | 3 | Piranha | 5 |
| Flame Fruit | 3 | Blowfish | 5 |
| Life Fruit | 4 | Shark | 6 |
| | | Lobster | 6 |
| | | Angelfish | 7 |
| | | Vampire Fish | 7 |

Skill Challenges

♦ Master Planter: A Master Planter must plant every type of plant available. Once you have mastered the varieties, you can reduce weed growth significantly on future plants.

♦ Botanical Boss: Botanical Bosses must harvest at least 75 Perfect fruits and vegetables. The plants of Botanical Bosses almost never die from neglect.

♦ Master Farmer: Master Farmers have harvested at least 650 fruits and vegetables. The plants of Master Farmers remain watered and fertilized longer, meaning their gardens are more efficient.

Guitar

Who doesn't love the gift of music? A smooth jam litling on a summer's breeze brings joy to all who hear it. So why not become the source of such aural pleasures by picking up the guitar and developing this skill. The Guitar skill can be enjoyed by any Sim, not just those who have embarked on the Music career.

Acquire by: Take Guitar Class, Play Guitar

Development tools: Guitar

Development Benefits

To get started on the Guitar skill, take a Guitar class or just pick up a guitar for the Sim's household. The guitar can slide into the Sim's personal inventory, so they can take it to the park or the beach.

Once Sims know how to play, they only have a few available compositions. Only by leveling up the skill does the Sim learn more music and eventually reach a point where they can buy sheet music from the bookstore and really play some impressive tunes. As the skill improves, the Sim gets better at playing music and makes fewer mistakes. Here's the level progression of the Guitar skill:

Level 1–4: Sim learns at least two basic practice-level songs per level.

Level 5: Sim earns three new songs—real songs that other Sims enjoy listening to.

Level 6–10: Sim learns at least one new song per level and performs it without fail.

Level 5 is particularly important to this skill. At this level, the Sim stops just noodling around with the Play interaction and moves up to the Perform interaction. Other Sims get the Enjoying Music moodlet if around a performing Sim. Level 5 Sims can also Serenade other Sims, which is a romantic social that can aid a romantic conversation following the song's conclusion.

Guitar-playing Sims can also Play for Tips in public locations. This is not the most lucrative activity, but it does add some extra change to the household bank account. The higher your skill, the more you make in tips. To really make money with this skill, practice hard and be sure to socialize. Soon, you will receive opportunities to play at parties or venues. That's where the real money is.

Sheet Music

You can buy sheet music from the bookstore or earn it from opportunities and give it to your Sim to practice. To learn from sheet music, left-click on the music from the Sim's personal inventory and select the Learn interaction. The Sim starts playing the song and when the meter is full, the Sim knows the song by heart and can perform it.

CAUTION

Sheet music cannot be shared among Sims. Once sheet music is learned, it disappears.

Skill Challenges

- ◆ Master Guitarist: Master Guitarists learn to play every song awarded to them and available for purchase at the bookstore. After learning so many songs, they receive a special master track!
- ◆ Guitar Star: Guitar Stars must play at 10 parties and venues in the town to earn their title. Afterward, they earn more money for tips and performances.
- ◆ Money Maker: Earn $5,000 playing the guitar to earn a new master track to perform. Money can be earned through tips or by completing opportunities.

Handiness

Stuff breaks. But when it does, it's usually inconvenient. Sims with the Handiness skill are suddenly valuable folks to have around. The Handiness skill is good for repairing broken objects, and can even ensure against future calamity.

Acquire by: Take Handiness Class, Read Handiness Book, Try to Repair an Object

Development tools: Handiness Skill Books, Tinkering with Objects, Repairing an Object, Upgrading an Object

Development Benefits

Once the Handiness skill has been acquired via a course or a book, Sims can further develop it at home by either Tinkering with objects or attempting to Repair a broken object, such as a stove, stereo, dishwasher, or toilet. Any mechanical or electric object has the potential to break after every use. When an electrical object breaks, it typically smokes or sparks. A broken toilet is clogged and refuses to flush. When this happens, the Repair interaction becomes available.

When the Repair option is selected, a handy Sim will start working on the object. Depending on the level of the Handiness skill, the Sim risks getting electrocuted by the object. This causes the Singed moodlet, which drops the overall mood. (Remove this moodlet with a bath or shower.) The higher the Handiness skill, the less chance the Sim will be shocked while repairing the object.

This is the risk of trying to fix an electrical object when the Handiness skill has not been adequately developed.

A repaired object is not back to 100 percent. Once an object breaks, it has started its steady downhill slide. The chance of a repaired object breaking again goes up. The more it breaks and is repaired, the higher the chance of repeat breaks until the object finally goes absolutely kaput and must be replaced.

TIP

If you're lucky, insurance will kick in a few Simoleons to cover the costs of replacing an object destroyed by fire.

Upgrading

Once the Handiness skill reaches level 3, the Sim learns the Upgrade interaction. Upgrading lets a Sim add a new effect or function to an existing object. This is not a universal interaction once learned. Subsequent levels after earning the Upgrade interaction unlock extra upgrades that the handy Sim can install. Upgrades can provide many benefits, from making an object unbreakable or self cleaning or fireproof to strictly improving it, for instance the stereo's speakers can be improved to produce a bigger Enjoying Music moodlet.

Here is the list of objects that can be upgraded, the function of the upgrade, and the level required to perform the upgrade:

TIP

Each object can only have one upgrade at a time, so choose wisely.

At level 3, a Sim can add a self-cleaning upgrade to objects that get dirty, such as the stove or refrigerator. At level 6 of the skill, Sims can upgrade any mechanical/electrical object so that it is unbreakable with the Prevent Breakage interaction. This upgrade takes time, but doing so helps develop the skill. Success with these upgrades is not guaranteed. If the upgrade fails (there's a small chance of this happening) then the object is either broken beyond repair or gets dirty and must be cleaned. Finally, at level 10, the Sim gets a membership card to a guild. Build Mode objects are then 25 percent off.

Skill Challenges

- Electrician: Electricians have repaired at least 10 electrical objects. The experience gained means they will never be electrocuted by an electrical object again.
- Plumber: Plumbers have repaired at least 10 plumbing objects. They are so good at repairs that plumbing objects repaired by them never break again.
- Tinkerer: Tinkerers have finished at least 10 unique upgrades on household items. Installing the "Unbreakable" upgrade on multiple objects only counts as one unique upgrade, so it helps to experiment with different upgrade options! Tinkerers never fail when upgrading objects.

Logic

Intelligence is always a treasured asset, so pursue the Logic skill to improve your Sim's brainpower. The Logic skill involves the use of the telescope and chess set objects, but also gives Sims additional computer interactions.

Acquire by: Take Logic Class, Read Logic Book, Play Chess, Use Telescope

Development tools: Chess Set, Telescope, Logic Books, Computer

Development Benefits

The development of the Logic skill starts with attending the Logic class at the science facility, reading a Logic book, or playing chess at a chess board (at home or in a public location). This skill has many benefits beyond the ability to win chess matches. For example, this skill unlocks the Solve the Unsolvable interaction with the computer, which gives the logic-minded Sim a chance to earn some Simoleons at home. (This interaction is not a guaranteed success.)

As this skill is developed, it shortens the time it takes to develop other skills, with the exception of Athletic and Charisma. This skill also increases the chance of winning all varieties of games. Winning games gives Sims a mood boost.

At level 3 of the Logic skill, Sims have a new interaction with the telescope. They can now do more than just Stargaze, they can Search Galaxy. This is another money-making opportunity for Sims, as every new celestial body found earns them a little extra cash from the science facility. New finds are logged in the Skill Journal, too. When a Sim finds a new object in the heavens, they can name it.

At level 5, Sims unlock the ability to Tutor other young Sims: children and teens. Tutoring not only develops the Logic skill, but it helps the student and can provide a mood bump. Tutored Sims always do better in school, so if a child suffers from lagging grades, interacting with a logical Sim is a great remedy. If the mentored student has the Logic skill, too, they develop the skill while being tutored, but at a slower pace.

TIP

There is a “hidden” skill: Chess. Like other skills, the more you play chess, the better you get at it. You will soon start winning more and more games.

At level 5 Logic skill, Sims can start talking about the things they find while using the telescope. Talking about a celestial object is a friendly social that improves the building relationship between two Sims. However, for a real social bump, tell a Sim that you named a celestial object after them. This instant relationship builder helps with making new friends or developing a romantic relationship.

At level 10 Logic skill, the Sim can tutor any other Sim from teen to elder in any of the skills with the exception of Athletic and Charisma. The catch is that the logical Sim must also have the skill they are teaching and they cannot teach past their current level. For example, if Catherine has level 5 Writing skill, she cannot tutor Chris past level 5. This development process is much faster than reading a skill-related book but not as fast as actually practicing the skill.

Skill Challenges

- Grand Master: Chess Grand Masters have reached the coveted fifth level of the competitive chess circuit. Those who engage Grand Masters in chess improve their abilities in Logic and Chess twice as quickly.
- Celestial Explorer: Celestial Explorers have discovered 20 celestial bodies through their telescope. Their extensive knowledge of the heavens allows them to discuss the stars with their friends and neighbors.
- Teacher Extraordinaire: Teachers Extraordinaire have spent at least 20 hours tutoring young Sims. Because of this, they are twice as effective when tutoring.
- Skill Professor: Skill Professors have spent at least 30 hours tutoring other Sims in different skills. Because of this, they are twice as effective when teaching skills to others.

Painting

One of the hardest skills to develop, Painting is also one of the most rewarding. Watch in wonder as Sims create works of art before your very eyes, working from inspiration they gathered from themselves or your own input. Like Writing, this is a personalized skill that requires a lot of direction from you. But once this skill is mastered, it's not only satisfying, but very lucrative. Great paintings can sell for a pretty penny.

Acquire by: Take Painting Class, Practice at Easel

Development tools: Easel

Development Benefits

The Painting skill is actually fairly easy to acquire, but it is not exactly cheap. You must either pay for a Painting class at the community school or spring for an easel. With an easel, use the Practice interaction on the easel to pick up a brush and just mess around. After a considerable amount of time, the skill is acquired. Once level 1 of the Painting skill has been acquired, though, the development path is pretty clear: practice, practice, practice.

The Dabble interaction is replaced by Practice and you can choose the size of the canvas you want the Sim to practice on. The smaller the canvas, the faster the painting is completed. The size of the canvas also factors into the price a painting fetches, but more on that in a moment. The Practice interaction disappears when there is a canvas on the easel—then you can only continue practicing unless you chose to Scrap the Painting and start all over with a new one.

Once a Painting is completed, a Sim can either Sell it and earn a few Simoleons, put it in personal inventory, or drag it right onto the wall. You can also give the painting a name.

At level 5 of the skill, Paint replaces Practice as the interaction with the easel. Now the Sim can start earning money with this skill. As soon as the Sim unlocks skill level 6, they can paint a Brilliant painting, which is worth a decent number of Simoleons and can add environmental bonuses to rooms and inspire the Decorated moodlet. At level 9, the Sim has the chance to create a Masterpiece painting, which is even more valuable than a Brilliant painting.

The value of a painting is determined by several factors. The canvas size partially determines the value, as does the number of paintings a Sim has produced. Brilliant or Masterpiece paintings get massive value boosts, too. There is a degree of randomness in a painting's value. One somewhat morbid factor greatly enhances a painting's value: death. If the painter is deceased, the painting's appreciation accelerates.

TIP

At skill level 5, a Sim's paintings increase in value over time. Keep checking the painting to see its current appreciation.

BROWNIE BITES

This is a little sinister, but it's a great trick. If you have an elder Sim in the house, make them a painter. Concentrate on that skill. Make them painting factories. Get them to produce as many quality works as possible before they die. Then, once they do pass, all of their paintings are worth more!

Skill Challenges

- ◆ Brushmaster: Brushmasters have painted at least 30 paintings, and as a result paint much faster than normal painters.
- ◆ Proficient Painter: Proficient Painters have proven their worth by painting at least six Brilliant paintings. They then paint far more Brilliant paintings and Masterpieces than less proficient painters.
- ◆ Master Painter: Master Painters have painted at least five Masterpieces. Every painting they sell is worth much more than normal paintings.

Writing

Writing is another personalized skill that is deeply involving but also rewarding. Sims who learn the Writing skill unlock a world of possibilities when they sit down to the computer. Naturally, the Bookworm Sim has a jump on this skill thanks to the relevant trait. But any Sim with time and dedication can become a bestselling author.

Acquire by: Attend Writing Class, Practice Writing at Computer

Development tools: Computer, Books

Development Benefits

Once the Writing skill has been acquired, Sims have several new interactions at the computer. The Refine Writing Skill is a good way to continue developing the skill. No novels come out of this activity—just skill development. Once a writer reaches level 2 of the skill, they can start writing novels.

When the Sim pushes back from the computer, the development is added to the Skill meter. Continue Writing Novel and Scrap Current Novel are two more interactions that affect a novel-in-progress. A scrapped novel tosses out an incomplete work but the skill development remains.

Various novel genres are unlocked as the skill is further developed. The higher the genre in the skill tree, the more it is worth when published. Here are the genres, the levels required to unlock them, and the reactions they can cause to their readers:

NOVEL GENRES UNLOCKED BY WRITING

| Genre | # of Books Required |
|------------|---|
| Fantasy | Write 3 sci-fi novels |
| Satire | Write 3 humor novels |
| Vaudeville | Write 3 of each: drama, sci-fi, humor, mystery, romance |

| Genre | Level |
|-----------------|-------|
| Fiction | 0 |
| Non-Fiction | 0 |
| Science Fiction | 1 |
| Trashy Novel | 2 |
| Drama | 3 |
| Humor | 5 |
| Romance | 10 |
| Masterpiece | 10 |

CAUTION

You can only work on one novel at a time. If you want to start a new novel in a newly unlocked genre, you must scrap the current novel.

Royalties

A Sim who's writing a novel regularly submits chapters to an agent and gets a small stipend. It's enough to live on, but nothing extravagant. Once a novel has been completed, though, the royalties start rolling in. When the novel is finished, the Sim is immediately told if the book is good or not and if it is a success. The royalty amount is listed, as well as how the amount will be paid out. (Typically, royalties are paid over the course of several weeks with lump sums dropped into the household account at a specific time on a specific day.)

The royalty amount is decided by: level of Writing skill, desirability of the genre (check the Skill Journal, which also tracks the number of books written and the amount pulled in so far), and a certain degree of randomness. The author's traits can also affect the amount of royalties paid. Here are the traits that boost the profitability of specific genres:

TRAITS – GENRES

| Genre | Trait |
|-----------------|---|
| Trashy Novel | Flirty |
| Drama | Commitment Issues |
| Sci-Fi | Computer Whiz, Genius |
| Humor | Good Sense of Humor, Inappropriate, Mean-Spirited |
| Satire | Grumpy, Hot-Headed, Over-Emotional |
| Mystery | Genius |
| Romance | Hopeless Romantic |
| Historical | Perfectionist |
| Children's Book | Artistic, Childish, Family Oriented |
| Vaudeville | Bookworm |
| Autobiography | Charismatic, Unlucky, Daredevil, Insane, Kleptomaniac |

Skill Challenges

- Speed Writer: Speed Writers are so prolific that they've earned $15,000 in royalties. Speed Writers write much faster than normal writers.
- Prolific Writer: Prolific Writers have written at least 20 books in their career. They are so well known that they tend to write far more Hits and Best-sellers than their counterparts.
- Specialist Writer: Writers must pen at least five novels in a specific genre to be known as a Specialist Writer. Such Specialist Writers write far more Hits and Best-sellers in their particular genre than most.

Relationships and Socializing

Relationships in The Sims 3 actually unfold not that differently from those in the real world. How you treat other Sims is the biggest metric in your overall relationship with them. If you insult another Sim, expect them to get upset in the immediate conversation and for that to have a lasting effect on your relationship. Conversely, a constant stream of support or praise will boost the immediate interaction and lead to a longer-lasting positive relationship. Developing a successful romance means spotting if the other party is receptive to your advances and knowing when to cool your jets.

The social structure of The Sims 3 is not navigated with obvious metrics. There is a touch of mystery in conversations that makes socializing more organic. You need to consider the current attitude of the Sim in the conversation, often referred to as the Target. (Your current Sim is known as the Actor.) That attitude affects the long-term status of your relationships with different Sims.

Let's detail some basic concepts that will assist with understanding how relationships work: long-term relationship (LTR), short-term context (STC), and commodities. Understanding these three factors is the key to brushing back some of the mystery of social interaction.

Long-Term Relationship (LTR)

The long-term relationship represents the state of the relationship between two Sims, which extends beyond the time during which a conversation is taking place. LTR essentially describes the way two Sims view each other at a given moment. Every Sim outside the family starts out as a Stranger. Once initial contact is made, the LTR moves up to Acquaintance and can never fall back into Stranger. However, Acquaintance is the proverbial fork in the road. From here, the LTR can blossom into friendship or deteriorate into rivalry.

The LTR is visually measured by the bar below the portrait of the Sim you are conversing with. If the relationship develops in a positive manner, the right half of the bar fills. Positive relationship status is noted with green. If the relationship is souring, that meter empties back out and can even dip into the left side, which is red. The red bar denotes a negative LTR.

NOTE

The natural tendency of the LTR is to decay toward zero from either end of the relationship spectrum. Zero puts you back into Acquaintance territory. Decay occurs naturally with each passing day that you do not contact a Sim you have a relationship with.

How to achieve the different LTRs is explained in the Friendships (and Enemies) section of this chapter, but here is a list of all of the LTRs:

|--------------------------------------|-------------------|
| Stranger | Romantic Interest |
| Acquaintance | Ex-Spouse |
| Disliked | Ex |
| Distant Friend | Enemy |
| Friend | Old Enemies |
| Good Friend | Partner |
| Best Friend | Fiancee |
| Best Friends Forever (teens only) | Spouse |

Short-Term Context (STC)

Short-term contexts are what a Sim thinks about the other Sim in the course of the current conversation, not as an LTR. The STC is displayed in the conversation box in the screen's upper-left as the conversation unfolds. For example, the box may say that "Jenny thinks Sasha is being amusing." STC is affected by the kind of socials used in a conversation. Each social has a commodity attached to it that directs the course of a conversation. These are all of the STCs:

|----------------------|---------------|
| Dull | Friendly |
| Drab | Very Friendly |
| Insufferably Tedious | Amusing |
| Odd | Funny |
| Creepy | Hilarious |
| Frightening | Flirty |
| Very Scary | Seductive |
| Impolite | Hot |
| Insulting | Awkward |
| Unforgivably Rude | Very Awkward |
| OK | Steamed |

Not all STCs are symmetrical. One Sim can have a totally different impression of a conversation than the other. The only symmetrical STCs are those associated with the following commodities: friendly, funny, amorous, and steamed. It is very possible that Jenny could think Sasha is being Dull while Sasha does not.

STC also modulates the way socials are accepted. Instead of just hot and cold, STCs and their respective commodities temper reactions. Depending on your LTR and STC, you can see different degrees of reaction to a social. Trying to kiss a Sim on the cheek in the context of the Flirty STC will be a lot more successful than the Friendly STC.

NOTE

The STC of a conversation contributes to the kind of decay an LTR undergoes each day.

Commodity

So, each STC is associated with a commodity? What's a commodity? Think of these as the general categories a social or STC falls under. They are based on specific emotions we all feel, such as awkwardness or love. Use the commodity of a social to inspire an STC, which in turn affects the overall LTR. Here are the seven commodities:

|-----------|---------|
| Boring | Funny |
| Creepy | Amorous |
| Insulting | Awkward |
| Friendly | Steamed |

As you look at the different STCs and socials in this chapter, check the associated commodities so you can push a conversation in the desired direction.

Decay and Normalizing

Relationships do not operate under inertia. They decay over time if not tended to, even if that time period is as short as 24 hours. This is why regular socializing is so important. Decay is not necessarily a negative slide. While positive relationship can indeed decay into mere Acquaintance, a negative relationship can normalize into the far more desirable Acquaintance. (Apparently Sims don't keep grudges quite like we do.)

TIP

Decay can be slowed by something as simple as a phone call.

As mentioned, the STC of a conversation contributes to LTR decay. These commodities dictate the decay. The amount of decay is also determined by the LTR itself. An LTR above zero, which starts heading toward positive territory, will have a different amount of decay from a specific STC/commodity than a negative LTR, which is below zero. No hard math on-screen shows the numerical value of an LTR, but you can sort of eyeball it.

Here's an example of how this decay works: Jenny and Sasha are Good Friends. If their last encounter was Impolite, then after a few days, the LTR will decay to just Friends. Conversely, if Jenny and Sasha have the Disliked LTR, the relationship will normalize into Acquaintance if the last STC was Friendly.

NOTE

Decay and normalization are not confined only to friends and pre-marriage Sims. This also applies to familial relationships, such as father or wife. However, the bonds of blood are far deeper than those of friends, so it takes a lot more to adversely affect a familial relationship. Not that it cannot be done. You can absolutely sour a familial relationship with insulting socials.

Friendships (and Enemies)

Now that we've explained the four basics of socialization—LTR, STC, commodity, and decay—let's look at how relationships bloom and wither...and what you can do to affect the course of these relationships. Naturally, Sims want friends. Social is a need, after all. Socializing and having friends have various effects on the course of your Sims' lives.

Friendships are a universally positive thing. Having friends, particularly in an expanded social circle, opens you up to a wealth of opportunities for receiving good moodlets. Positive moodlets are the key to earning those coveted Lifetime Rewards. Friendships can result in such pleasing moodlets as Flattered or Nicely Decorated, such as if you are invited over to a friend's house that has some great environmental bonuses.

Achieving the different LTRs is done through conversations—and conversations are made up of socials. But there is much more to a conversation/STC than just employing a handful of socials. A Sim's personality is hugely important in determining which socials can be used—and should be used. And it's not only the traits of the Actor that matter. Learning the traits of the Target is also quite important.

The Art of the Conversation

So, you've approached another Sim, you left-clicked on them, and now you are staring at a menu of different social options. How do you navigate the social structure of a conversation? Well, your options are partially defined by your LTR, current mood, age, and your traits. Categories of socials include things like Friendly, Funny, Mean, Romantic, and Special. Special leads to socials that are encouraged by the Actor having a specific trait, such as Bookworm. Inside the Bookworm menu, there will be options to talk about books or the bookstore.

The menu of available social categories appears around your Sim's head. Left-click on an option to see what socials are available.

Now, select a social from the category to add it to the action queue.

When you select a social, it is added to your list of activities in the upper-right corner, just as if you were stacking interactions with objects. When a current social ends, the next one automatically begins. But stacking socials is not a wise strategy because you do not want to just babble away about a topic that the other Sim is just not interested in listening to. Use socials and then watch for reactions. A positive social with a positive effect is noted with a chime and a blue symbol of two Sims next to each other. A negative reaction is noted by two red Sims and a minus symbol.

Being Boring

Talking about the same things over and over gets boring to most Sims. The positive effect of a positive social is weakened the more you use it. Repeating a social can also affect the STC. Continuous droning about the same subjects will nudge the STC into Dull, Drab, or Insufferably Tedious territory. If the conversation ends on one of those STCs, the LTR suffers.

When a relationship is suffering due to a boring conversation, red symbols appear over the Sims' heads.

The default number of times you can repeat a social without getting boring is two. And if you break apart a conversation, you can use a social more than twice without any STC worries. Some socials can be used more than twice without dullness setting in, such as Chat. Chat has four uses before it is boring in a single conversation. However, it can be "recharged" so that the social can be used six times before it is boring. To recharge a social, you just need to break it up in the conversation. For example, let's say you use Chat four times in a row. The other Sim is not bored, but is about to be if you use it one more time. So, you change course and Talk About Books. After that social runs its course, you have recharged Chat once. Now you can use Chat again without it being boring. However, if you tried to use it again without another recharge, the social would be considered boring.

New Simology

Very few things define us quite like our ambitions. Everybody has big dreams, your Sims included. The fantastic careers of Ambitions are just as much of a journey as visiting the far-flung locations offered in World Adventures. And to prepare your Sims for chasing those dreams and goals, you have new building blocks for your Sims' personalities. New traits help shape them as they emerge from Create a Sim and start to fulfill their dreams in their new neighborhood. New traits, of course, means new wishes and opportunities—both large and small.

In addition to new careers, Sims may also learn and develop new skills: Inventing and Sculpting. These new skills, combined with skills from The Sims 3, can be key to career success. So, use this chapter to help plot the personalities of new Sims as well as the growth of previous Sims. But don't think you can control everything that's about to happen. When you exit Create a Sim and start interacting with the community, learning new skills, and taking on all the different jobs, the only constant is surprise.

Create a Sim

If you decide to create a new Sim after starting Ambitions, you will discover a handful of changes to the Create a Sim toolkit. There are many new options, spanning cosmetic upgrades like tattoos to all-new traits such as Dramatic and Savvy Sculptor.

Cosmetic Changes

When you first enter the Create a Sim tool, you meet a pre-built Sim, just waiting for you. You can choose this pre-set Sim and dig right into the personality or you can use this Sim like modeling clay. You can also play around with the Sim Bin, a collection of pre-made Sims that can be called into the Create a Sim "dressing room" and changed to your liking. Perhaps you dig that Sim's hairstyle but want a different color. Or you are struck by the face of a Sim but just aren't sold on a certain aspect, like the chin.

Chances are, though, that you will want to make more than just one or two small tweaks. You will want to design a Sim from the toes up (or the hair down). From the first screen of the Create a Sim toolkit, you have five tabs of options and potential changes. Here are the five tabs and their functions:

- ◆ Basics: This tab lets you name your Sim and change its gender, skin tone, and age.
- ◆ Hair: Use this tab to change your Sim's hairstyle, which includes adding headgear.
- ◆ Looks: Go here to change the general appearance of your Sim's head and face, including making adjustments to chin, nose, eyes, and cheeks.
- ◆ Clothes: Select your Sim's basic wardrobe from this tab, including everyday wear, athletic garb, and formal clothes.
- ◆ Personality: This tab lets you assign specific traits to your Sim, choose personal favorites (food, music, and color), and select a Lifetime Wish.

Ambitions adds many new options to these tabs. There are new clothes, new hairstyles, and much more, so be sure to experiment. Any new cosmetic option in Ambitions is marked with a:

Ambitions* also allows you to adjust the opacity of make-up. Now, you can use a slider bar to make make-up more or less apparent on your Sim's face, such as lightening or darkening eye shadow.

Tattoos

The biggest Create a Sim addition is the arrival of tattoos. You may add tattoos right in Create a Sim. The Create a Sim tattoo applicator is also the same set-up used when your Sim either applies tattoos themselves or seeks them out from a trained tattoo artist at the local salon.

To add a tattoo to your Sim, choose the Looks tab. When you select the new Tattoo tab (at the bottom of the menu, directly under Make-Up), your Sim appears in front of the mirror with not much on. This gives you a near-full view of your Sim's body so you can apply the tattoo exactly where you want. You may apply a tattoo to four places on your Sim: back, arm, chest, and ankle. Within each body location, you can choose from a few different spots. For example, on the back, you can pick the shoulders, small of the back, or right in the center.

Below the body part selector, browser through the field of available tattoos. There are many choices, from tribal art to a magic gnome.

Once you select the tattoo, you can adjust its colors. Some tattoos have just a single color, while others have multiple fields to alter.

You can mix-and-match tattoos through the Advanced button. Here, you can also adjust the opacity of the tattoo as well as its size.

Relationships

Ambitions also offers new relationships to give your Sims before leaving the Create a Sim tool. The new relationships are: girlfriend, boyfriend, and fiancé. These new relationships are available between young adult, adult, and elder Sims, but not children. Once this relationship has been set, Sims will already be in these arrangements right when you move in. This is a good way to set up a budding family or shortcut Elder Sims into happy relationships without spending precious days in courtship.

Traits

When you create a Sim (or when a Sim not yet an adult ages up) you assign up to five traits. Traits affect so much, so choose carefully. Six new traits are added to Create a Sim with Ambitions. Not all of these new traits are directly related to new skills or careers that are part of Ambitions. Some, such as Eco-Friendly and Dramatic, are designed to further flesh out personalities. Savvy Sculptor, as you can imagine, is definitely tied to the Sculpting skill.

CAUTION

Focusing on a set of traits to support a career or new skill is great for that particular goal, but it comes at a cost. Your Sims are now defined more by what they do rather than who they are. You could make a really awesome inventor by choosing Handy and Eccentric, but that occupies two trait slots that could be used for traits that will help with socialization or developing other skills that might help the household or neighborhood.

Born Salesperson

Description: Not only do Born Salespeople often sell their wares for more money than other Sims, they know the importance of a good reputation and can quickly build one at the consignment store.

Benefits: These Sims generally sell their stuff at the consignment store for more money. The more items they sell at the consignment store, the better their reputation, which in turn leads to higher sales and better prices.

Shortcomings: None

Unique Features: Excellent trait choice for Sims who make their living by creating items to sell, such as painters and sculptors.

Dramatic

Description: Everyday situations in life deeply stir the imagination, emotions, and reactions of Dramatic Sims.

Benefits: Dramatic Sims enjoy extra mood boosts when good things happen to them. They respond with great enthusiasm to major, positive life events like getting engaged/married, having a child, or getting a promotion at work.

Shortcomings: If Dramatic Sims have to undertake a menial task, like taking out the trash, they whine and get a mood hit. Dramatic Sims have a greater chance of just breaking up with a partner during the course of an argument and are likely to outright slap a Sim who insults them, which causes major relationship decay.

Unique Features: Dramatic Sims respond to complaints from other Sims with a yawn. They have new socials, including Whine About Life, Pretend to Faint, and Tell Dramatic Story. After performing the Pretend to Faint social, Dramatic Sims get a special positive moodlet: Thespian.

Eccentric

Description: Eccentric Sims have a natural talent for inventing crazy gizmos and whatchamacallits.

Benefits: Eccentric Sims develop the Inventing skill much faster. They learn new blueprints for inventions much sooner, and also speedily create replicas of previously discovered inventions.

Shortcomings: None

Unique Features: None

Eco-Friendly

Description: Eco-Friendly Sims prefer a lifestyle of energy conservation, recycling, and sustainable eating.

Benefits: Eco-Friendly Sims gain many positive moodlets from making environmentally conscious decisions such as using an expensive washing machine (Saving Water) or gardening (Replenishing the Earth). Carpooling to work earns the positive Carpooling moodlet. Using a clothesline to dry clothes results in the Saving Electricity moodlet.

Shortcomings: Gets negative moodlets for potentially wasteful activities. Using the cheap washing machine, for example, results in the Wasting Water moodlet.

Unique Features: If they own one, Eco-Friendly Sims ride a bike when traveling alone instead of using a taxi or family car. All foodstuffs Eco-Friendly Sims create are organic. Eco-Friendly Sims have new socials that include Talk About Recycling, Talk About Going Green, Talk About Composting, and Talk About Renewable Energy. They can take a quicker shower to save water, which results in the positive Saving Water moodlet. Eco-Friendly Sims will have wishes related to getting rid of cars if the family owns one or buying a bike if the family does not.

Perceptive

Description: Perceptive Sims make keen investigators. Their ability to investigate and stake out potential criminals is unsurpassed!

Benefits: If your Sim is going to be a private eye, this trait makes that career much easier and rewarding. Perceptive Sims earn more Simoleons for completed assignments and have a greater chance of ferreting out crime on a stakeout. Perceptive Sims also quicker to develop the Logic skill or learn the traits of other Sims faster when socializing.

Shortcomings: None

Unique Features: The Perceptive trait cannot be used at the same time as Absent-Minded.

Savvy Sculptor

Description: Savvy Sculptors know the ins and outs of sculpting. These Sims make the best sculptures around.

Benefits: Savvy Sculptors develop the Sculpting skill much faster and have a handful of special sculptures that only the Savvy Sculptor knows. Savvy Sculptures never shatter a sculpture block while working, and they do not accidentally behead topiary sculptures.

Shortcomings: None

Unique Features: Introduces the Talk About Sculpting social.

New Lifetime Wishes

Lifetime Wishes are determined by your Sim's selected traits. In addition to the Lifetime Wishes of The Sims 3, Ambitions introduces seven new Lifetime Wishes. The easiest way to access a specific Lifetime Wish is to select one or two traits that are directly related to it. The Brave trait is likely to rope the Firefighter Super Hero Lifetime Wish into your five possibilities at the conclusion of Create a Sim. The Savvy Sculptor trait will certainly cause the Descendant of da Vinci Lifetime Wish to bubble to the top of the list.

Selecting a Lifetime Wish in Create a Sim

Though you may have an idea for your Sim's life trajectory, be aware that like life on this side of the screen, things just...happen. You may decide to create a Brave Sim with every intention of having a successful career as a Firefighter or Ghost Hunter, but what if you discover that sculpting is right up your (and your Sim's) alley? Of course, the solution to this is to have multiple Sims in a household or families in different towns. That way, you can chase down all sorts of Lifetime Wishes and experience the most of what Ambitions offers.

Firefighter Super Hero

♦ Save 30 lives on the job in the Firefighter profession

The selfless act of saving another Sim's life is one of the most exhilarating and rewarding accomplishments your Sim can imagine. Only through rigorous training to bulk up the body will your Sim have the fortitude and stamina to aid others. A sharp mind, brave heart, and the ability to stay calm under pressure will be beneficial in the unending struggle of Sim versus disaster.

TIP

If this is your desired Lifetime Wish, spend a solid amount of time exercising. Start at the gym or use the fire house's equipment to save Simoleons. After banking some pay, purchase exercise equipment (and a trampoline!) for your own lot.

Paranormal Profiteer

♦ Reach level 10 in the Ghost Hunter profession

interpreting paranormal patterns of activity will require dedicated study and attention to detail. Your Sim must gather experience in all things logical to have any chance of understanding the complexities of the spirit world.

Tip

The Logic skill is critical for advancing this career, so spend time reading Logic books, scanning the skies with a telescope, and practicing chess.

Pervasive Private Eye

- Solve 35 cases on the job in the Investigator profession

Late-night stakeouts, dusting for prints, hacking computers, snooping for clues; the life of a private investigator is one of long hours, dangerous intrigues, and baffling mysteries. Sound logic and ample fortitude are required to excel in this fast-paced world of criminal analysis. Put on your best disguise, grab your magnifying glass, and drop by the neighborhood Police Department to get started. For Sims following the path of the Pervasive Private Eye, there is nothing more satisfying than putting together the clues to solve a mystery.

Tip

As in the Ghost Hunter career, the Logic skill is a big part of getting ahead as an Investigator. Having a computer on your lot will definitely help your Sim advance.

Descendant of da Vinci

- Master the Inventing skill
- Master the Painting skill
- Master the Sculpting skill

It is said that a jack of all trades is master of none, but your Sim proves that there can be exceptions. No endeavor is out of reach for a Sim who's a brilliant artist with an eye for painting, the dexterity for sculpting, and the genius for invention. Shun the offerings of the outside world and instead spend the days contemplating the canvas, and the nights wooing images buried deep in stones. Why leave just one legacy when you can leave behind dozens?

Tip

It is difficult to pursue this ambitious Lifetime Wish with a steady job. Having another Sim in the household with a regular paycheck helps. After time, though, the artistic Sim can start making decent Simoleons selling works at the consignment store or by accepting side jobs related to art or inventing.

Home Design Hotshot

- Earn 100 top scores for jobs in the Architectural Design profession

Home is where the heart is, and a well-designed room leaves an impression that lasts a lifetime. Brush up your Painting skills, study the latest techniques for reupholstering furniture, and familiarize yourself with popular patterns and fabrics for rugs and floor tiles. Only through an obsessive attention to detail, good taste, and learning to listen to and respect your clients' wishes will your Sim be able to deliver the perfect home remodel or room addition.

Tip

The Painting skill is a major part of the Architectural Design career. Splurge for an easel early on, then upgrade to a drafting table, which helps accelerate skill development.

Fashion Phenomenon

- Reach level 10 in the Stylist profession

If your Sim yearns to make others more beautiful, to transform ugly ducklings into suave swans, then a career in the Stylist profession is the only natural course. Trendy taste for make-up, hairstyles, and fabric patterns are a must for any Sim aspiring to reach the end of the fashion runway.

TIP

The Stylist career is not necessarily reliant on a specific skill, but it definitely helps to have a drafting table at home where your Sim can study fashion and style.

Monster Maker

Create 3 monsters

For some Sims, the ultimate pastime is the unending search for new types of life. Whether crafted through mystical, laborical, or convergent methods, occult creations are wondrous achievements for Sims who prefer to dabble in the unknown. Some may call them "monsters," but to their creators they are just another member of the family.

TIP

Only Sims with advanced Inventing skills can create artificial Sims, known as SimBots, so zero in on that skill early. However, creating mummies from objects found in the World Adventures expansion pack also count toward the goal of three monsters.

Possession is Nine-Tenths of the Law

Possess $50,000 worth of stolen goods

While other Sims were learning that hard work over long hours can be turned into Simoleons, your Sim learned that borrowing without asking leads to the same result without the sweat and tears. Whether objects were snatched accidentally while visiting the park, or borrowed when an acquaintance wasn't looking, their value is in the eye of the beholder. One Sim's trash is another Sim's treasure. And if your Sim happens to klepto real treasure, well, all the better...

TIP

Dive into the Criminal career to pursue this Lifetime Wish. Your greatest threat is being caught, so be sure to be social around the neighborhood and identify any Sims in the Law Enforcement or Investigator careers.

Wishes

When your Sims experience all the new things Ambitions offers, they come up with wishes directly related to them. A Sim who's trying out the Sculpting skill, for example, is likely to wish to work in stone. A Firefighter will desire to improve the fire engine down at the station. As these wishes occur to your Sims, you may either promise or dismiss them. Wishes are a good way to advance your Sim at work or at home. Pursuing a wish related to the Inventing skill will likely help develop that skill.

NOTE

Dismissing a wish does not negatively impact your relationship with your Sim. But you may discover that a wish that looked too far out of reach isn't so demanding to fulfill after a day or two.

The new wishes of Ambitions are split across three different categories: career, skill, and object. Career wishes are most likely to spring from a Sim in that specific job path. Skill-related wishes are likely to occur to Sims in the process of developing that particular skill. Some of the new objects in Ambitions inspire new wishes as well, such as the desire to play some Gnubb (a backyard game). These new wishes mingle with the existing wishes from The Sims 3.

New Moodlets

By now, you understand how the mood system works—your overall mood is determined by a series of smaller, fleeting emotions called moodlets. There are three types of moodlets: positive, negative, and neutral. Strive to do things that give your Sims positive moodlets so they can keep banking Lifetime Happiness points.

TIP

Seek out ways to achieve positive moodlets every day. The happier your Sims are, the better they perform at work. They also develop skills faster, even if that skill is not tangentially related to the positive moodlet.

Skills

Ambitions introduces two new skills for your Sims to discover and develop: Sculpting and Inventing. These skills are useful not just to give your Sims something to do when not pursuing careers. They also augment your Sims' personalities, offer them alternate sources of income, and give them additional subjects to talk about. These two new skills are very deep. The development of these skills goes way beyond just reporting to a skill-related object and performing a task over and over. Your Sim creates objects as a result of developing these skills—objects that matter. So, try out each skill and fulfill your Sims' thirst for discovery and art. You are guaranteed more than a few surprises along the way.

Development

As mentioned, specific traits make developing these skills much easier. The Savvy Sculptor trait accelerates the Sculpting skill and the Eccentric trait advances Inventing. However, any Sim, regardless of specific traits, can begin developing either (or both) of these new skills. Start by attending a class in your neighborhood or by purchasing a developmental object through Build/Buy Mode and installing it on your Sim's lot. Interactions with the object translate into actual development, monitored via the meter over your Sim's head and in the pages of the Skill Journal.

Use these tips to speed skill development:

- ◆ Sims in a good mood develop a skill slightly faster.
- ◆ Expensive equipment does help develop a skill. When sculpting, for example, you begin with cheap clay. As you develop the skill, you move into other mediums, which cost more. However, the more expensive the material, the better your skill development.
- ◆ Use community equipment when just starting out to save a little cash. You can use the workbench at the fire house for dabbling and tinkering in the early stages of Inventing. However, at a certain point, you should invest in an Scrapatronic Workbench for your lot.
- ◆ Unless you feel pressed for time to start developing a new skill, save books on the subject for skill levels higher than 2. Reading a book reduces the amount of time needed to attain the next level. However, this is within reason. Reading the beginner's level skill book is not going to do you a tremendous amount of good when working toward level 9.

Sculpting

Some Sims look at a giant block of stone and see an oversized brick. Others see a lion, buried beneath a pile of pebbles. Those Sims are natural sculptors. At first, sculptors only work in clay. But as they advance their skill, new mediums open up, including topiaries and ice sculptures. Finished sculptures can be sold for Simoleons or shown off on lots, where they may be appreciated by friends and neighbors. This is a time-heavy skill, though, so do not expect masterpieces of metal and stone to appear within minutes. Sculpting requires patience, but the payoffs for hard work and dedication are significant.

Acquire by: Practicing on sculpting station

Development Tools: Pedestrian Sculpting Station, scrap

Available Ages: Teen, young adult, adult, elder

Development Process

If you desire to dabble in sculpting, you have one choice for launching this skill: use a Pedestrian Sculpting Station. The sculpting station is a large pad with a rotating disc so your Sim can effortlessly spin a giant block of material. With each spin, your Sim applies a chisel (or chainsaw) and slowly coaxes a work of art out of the block.

At first, do not expect great things—even if your Sim has the Savvy Sculptor trait. This skill demands patience and dedication. At the lowest skill levels, your Sim coaxes only basic objects forth from blocks. Amazing sculptures arrive later. Your first interaction with the sculpting station is limited to Practice. Once you reach level 1, the interaction switches from Practice to Sculpt.

Each fresh block of material costs Simoleons. When you select the medium on an empty sculpting station, the Simoleons are automatically deducted from your household funds. You may have only one active sculpture on a sculpting station, meaning that if you want to work on two sculptures at the same time, you must have two different sculpting stations. If you choose to abandon a sculpture before it is finished (which is not unreasonable if, midway through a project, you unlock a new medium and want to immediately dive into that), use the Scrap interaction to clear the station. You are not refunded any Simoleons for a scrapped sculpture. This may not be a big loss when working in clay or wood, but as you will see, it is quite costly when you have access to stone.

SCULPTING COST

| Medium | Cost |
|---------|---------|
| Clay | $3 |
| Wood | $25 |
| Metal | 3 scrap |
| Ice | $100 |
| Stone | $500 |
| Topiary | $50 |

The very first medium a sculptor works in is clay. Developing this skill unlocks additional mediums. Here are all of the mediums you unlock when achieving new levels of the skill:

Level 0: Clay

Level 3: Wood

Level 5: Ice

Inventing

Level 8: Stone

Level 10: Topiary

Any level after learning the skill, you can also weld metal sculptures as long as you have scrap metal collected from a junkyard or bought from the Inventor's workstation. For more information about scrap, see the Inventing skill because scrap is the building block for all inventions regardless of skill level.

NOTE

The color of your medium blocks is completely random. There are several shades of clay, different wood grains, and multiple types of stone. The ice block and topiary blocks are constant.

Just some statues are created only from specific mediums (check the statue levels list below to see those), certain mediums offer unique successes or failures.

Ice: There is a chance that at some point during the sculpting process, the entire ice block will shatter. Another random possibility is that your Sim will lean into a new ice block and attempt to lick it. Your Sim's tongue may get stuck on the ice for a few moments, but eventually pulls free. When this happens, there's a small chance the ice block will shatter and reveal a complete sculpture.

Stone: Like the ice block, there is a chance that it will shatter and all progress will be lost. However, there is a slight, random chance that when the block shatters, the Sim will discover a valuable uncut gem or raw ore.

Metal: When welding a metal sculpture, there is a chance the Sim's blowtorch will malfunction and burn the Sim. Get to water right away! A Sim with a Good Sense of Humor simply laughs off the incident and receives no negative moodlet.

Topiary: When creating an animal topiary (such as a giraffe or penguin), the Sim attempts one last bit of touch up and accidentally lops the poor topiary animal's head off with the chainsaw. Oops. This ruins the value of the topiary.

TIP

Lucky Days received as part of possessing the Lucky trait affect the likelihood of fun bonuses successes (such as the ice block) occurring while sculpting.

When you first begin sculpting, the statues created are random. Over time, though, your Sims accumulate a library of statues they can fashion from memory. Instead of just using the Sculpt interaction, you can use Sculpt Specific Thing, choose the desired medium, and then recreate a previously sculpted statue. Just as mediums are unlocked as you advance the skill, certain types of statues are also unlocked with each new level. Use this table to see what types of objects are introduced at specific skill levels, as well as their potential value:

TIP

The value of a sculpture greatly increases when the Sim who made it dies.

Sculpt Ice Sim

At level 6, Sims learn to create ice sculptures of other Sims. The sculptor must be on good terms with the subject Sim, so you cannot sculpt an enemy. To initiate this special sculpture, the subject must be on your Sim's lot. (Easiest way to do this is to invite a Sim over via the telephone.) Once the subject in on the lot, use the Sculpt Ice Sim interaction on the workstation. The subject follows the sculptor to the workstation and then proceeds to pose. The sculptor looks the subject up and down and then gets started on a fresh ice block.

Now, it takes some time to finish an ice sculpture, so don't be surprised or alarmed if the subject leaves after a little while. You may continue to work on the sculpture. You can also continue the sculpture later without the subject nearby. However, if you finish the sculpture while the subject is present, he or she will react to it. Depending on personality and quality of the sculpture, the model will have a positive or negative reaction, which might affect your relationship.

TIP

There is a random chance that your Sim will fail to accurately portray the subject in ice and instead carve an odd-looking goblin.

Excellence

At level 7, your Sim is such a great sculptor that there is a chance he or she will produce a Brilliant sculpture, which is worth not just additional Simoleons, but also an environmental bonus for any room it is placed in. At level 9, you unlock the potential to create Masterpieces. Masterpiece sculptures and statues are worth much more than normal pieces and, like Brilliant statues, add an environmental bonus to rooms. The environmental bonuses result in decoration-related moodlets, such as Nicely Decorated, unless the Sim near the piece Can't Stand Art.

Skill Journal Tracking

Use your Skill Journal to track several statistics about your Sim's sculpting. These stats will help you tackle wishes, opportunities, and challenges:

- Total Sculptures
- Clay Sculptures
- Wood Sculptures
- Stone Sculptures
- Ice Sculptures
- Metal Sculptures
- Topiary Sculptures
- Brilliant Sculptures
- Masterpiece Sculptures
- Money Made
- Highest Value Sculpture Sold
- Favorite Medium
- Number of Sim Sculptures Made

Skill Challenges

- Chiselmeister: After making 20 sculptures, Chiselmeisters make all future sculptures faster.
- Prolific Sculptor: After making 35 sculptures, Prolific Sculptors no longer need to pay for materials.
- Master Sculptor: After making 5 sculptures from each material, the value of a Master Sculptor's pieces increases.

Ice Personality: After making 25 ice sculptures, ice pieces never melt.

Inventing

The act of creation—of assembling something brand-new out of other bits and pieces—is immensely satisfying. But inventing is not an exact science. Gluing object A to object B does not necessarily result in object C every time. Inventing requires time and dedication, plus a willingness to take risks, knowing that whatever one comes up with during the process may not be a success. However, as this skill is developed and the inventor learns more, the greater the chance of creating something wonderful. Certain objects can only be invented. While you may luck out and find one at the local consignment store, if you want to make sure you get a chance to play with a Time Machine or a Harvester, then you better hunker down and start working on this skill.

Acquire by: Reading Inventing skill book, Inventing class at science facility, dabbling at Inventor's workstation

Development Tools: Scrapatronic Workbench, scrap

Available Ages: Child, teen, young adult, adult, elder

NOTE

While developing Inventing, your Sim also develops the Handiness skill but at a much slower rate. By the time you reach level 10, your Handiness skill—if you did not develop it outside of Inventing—would be at around level 4 or 5.

Create a Sim

Skills

New Socials

New Opportunities

Sculpting

Development Process

There are many ways to get this skill underway: class, book, or just dabbling at an Inventor's workstation. As the Sim creates, the skill is developed—so, in essence, multiple rewards are happening at once. Not only does the skill level increase, but the Sim also creates new inventions that can be used on the lot or sold for Simoleons. Sims learn how to make different inventions the longer they spend at the workstation, starting with simple Widgets, working up to Big Inventions.

However, no inventing can occur without scrap. Scrap is required to invent anything. If you purchase a workstation, it comes with enough scrap to get you started. However, you will need more—much more—to fully develop this skill. There are multiple ways to gather scrap. The easiest is to pay a visit to the neighborhood junkyard and search through the massive piles. Whenever a pile sparkles, you can sort through it for scrap. Your Sim comes away with a random amount of scrap per search. Scrap can also be purchased directly from the workstation. This gets expensive, but if Simoleons are no object, buying scrap is a major time-saver.

SCRAP COST

| Amount of Scrap | Cost |
|-----------------|-------|
| 10 | $55 |
| 50 | $275 |
| 100 | $550 |

There is a third way to get scrap, too. Once your Sims reach level 6, they can detonate objects to generate scrap. To explode an object, choose the Detonate interaction. Detonations cost a few Simoleons. The price depends on the size and complexity of the object. After setting the explosive charge, your Sim runs away and waits for the explosion. After the object is blown up, the Sim can easily pick up the resulting piles of scrap, adding it to the overall amount available back at the workstation.

Sometimes, charges do not go off right away. Curious Sims sometimes investigate, only to have the detonation go off right in their face. Shower up to wash off the mess.

Sims can also detonate objects on community lots. However, this is not without risk. Some detonations are so great that not only do they destroy the targeted object, but also leave behind scorch marks and other damages. If you damage property or any community lot other than a junkyard, you will get fined. (If your detonation does not leave behind a mark, you are safe. You will not be fined.) When fined, you receive a note that your explosive activities have gotten you trouble with the neighborhood and that you are being fined for the damages. The fine is added to the bills you receive in the mail. Fines are typically tiered. A low fine comes in around $50. A medium fine starts at $600. High fines can reach $1,500 or more. Use this table to see how much scrap you can receive from detonated objects as well as the value of objects. Perhaps you will deduce that the risk is not always worth the reward.

TIP

A household object or appliance break down? Detonate it for scrap!

CAUTION

Do not detonate objects inside the house! You will set your house on fire, damaging nearby objects and costing way more money than if you had just bought scrap from the workstation.

While inventing, there is a small chance your Sim will get injured. Sims sometimes accidentally shock themselves or set themselves on fire. If your Sim catches fire, get to the nearest shower or pool immediately!

Once an invention is complete, it is added to the Sim's personal inventory. Sims can either place their inventions around the lot, give them to family members (children love the clockwork toys), or sell them at the local consignment store for cash. The higher the skill level, the more valuable the invention. In addition to receiving the invention, the Sim also learns the "blueprint" for that object. Your Sim can now recreate that invention at will while at the workstation.

Inventions

At level 1 of the skill, Sims begin creating inventions at a workstation. The first objects they create are Widgets. They then move on the Crafted Toys. Then, over the course of the development cycle, leading up to level 10, they learn the blueprints for a series of Big Inventions.

Widgets

Beginning inventors create Widgets, which serve no practical purposes. They are often small objects that just look interesting, like a drinking bird or a metal octopus. These small Widgets can be sold for low Simoleons or placed around the lot. However, as the Sim's skill level rises, the quality of Widgets increases. Soon, the Sim has a chance to build Improved Widgets, which move or light up.

Crafted Toys

At level 2, inventors can produce Crafted Toys at the workstation. Crafted Toys are small toys that can be played with by Sims of any age. These toys light up, move, and make noise—and best of all, they increase Fun. Crafted Toys can be left out as decorations, placed in personal inventories and taken outside the lot, or stored in toy boxes.

Big Inventions

At level 3, Sims begin discovering objects called Big Inventions. These inventions have specific purposes and are quite useful. Big Inventions can also factor into wishes and opportunities.

Hygienator

The Hygienator is a small invention that releases a puff of perfumed air when stepped on. This perfume raises the Hygiene of the Sim who walked on the invention. The Hygienator offers a handful of different scents, each with different colored clouds of perfume vapor. However, it is possible that this invention will occasionally fail and release a cloud of stinky gas that makes all nearby Sims Nauseous.

NOTE

You may be asked to create certain inventions for opportunities related to the Inventing skill.

The Harvester

The Harvester is a handheld collecting device, first discovered at level 4. A Sim can use it to pick up all sorts of objects of different sizes, from scrap created by a detonation to dirty dishes in the kitchen. The Harvester can save time in the garden, picking up harvestables, and quickly clean up messes like puddles or trash. It's good for picking up collectibles, like butterflies and gems, too.

TIP

You know all of those newspapers that stack up on your doorstep and get moldy? The Harvester will suck them all up and get rid of them in one fell swoop.

CAUTION

Like many inventions, the Harvester can fail from time to time. If the Harvester does not work correctly, the Sim using it can get Stressed or Dizzy.

The Miner

The Miner is a drill-like machine that burrows into the ground, digging up collectibles such as gems, ore, and even magic gnomes. It is discovered at level 7. To use it, place the Miner outside and then choose the Drill interaction. The Sim fires up the Miner and lowers the drill into the ground, digging through the soil. When collectibles or lost objects are discovered, you get little messages indicating they have been added to your inventory.

The Miner sometimes burrows into something large. When this happens, a message appears on-screen telling you to explore the hole to see what's down there. This counts as an Underground Adventure. If you inspect the hole, there is a chance you will find a valuable object. Maybe even a magic gnome!

The Miner leaves behind unsightly holes. Fill that in, would you?

CAUTION

The Miner makes a lot of noise, waking up nearby sleeping Sims or just annoying them something terrible.

Time Machine

The Time Machine is discovered at level 9. Once completed, the Time Machine fits in the family inventory because it is so large. The Time Machine allows Sims to take brief trips to the past or the future. Either direction in time is selectable when choosing the Travel interaction with the Time Machine. Once the Time Machine is activated, the Sim steps inside. As the machine rattles and hums, you receive updates on your Sim's adventure. When the Sim comes back, there is a small chance he or she will be wearing an outfit from a specific time period or have a piece of art. Some Sims may even return with a very rare object, like a stone statue of a fish god.

TIP

Sims who come back through the Time Machine enjoy the Traveled in Time moodlet.

Sims who travel to the past also have a small chance of changing their own family history. If this occurs, you receive a message about an event that was altered (such as saving an ancestor from death). When your Sim returns, he or she may have a completely different career or skill set. A baby may be added to the household. Your Sim might even be killed in the past and come back through as a ghost.

NOTE

If you have World Adventures installed, you may come back as a mummy. Mummies also may come back through the Time Machine as normal Sims, too.

SIMBOT

Once a Sim has reached level 10, a special series of opportunities begins that lead to the invention of the SimBot, the most amazing invention of all. The Sim receives a call from their neighborhood science facility and is given a series of difficult tasks that must be completed in order. The Sim is asked to collect a specific number of objects and bring them to the science facility:

- ◆ 1 unit of Palladium
- ◆ 10 Life Fruit
- ◆ 1 Pink gem with the Heart Cut
- ◆ 100 units of scrap

After these four steps have been completed, the Sim must go to the Inventor's workstation and choose the Create Mystery Invention interaction. Working on this invention takes days to complete. However, once done, the Sim has created a SimBot, a robotic Sim that lives with them as a friend and companion (if there is space in the family for an additional member). Now the Sim can create additional SimBots, provided the above materials are collected again. (They do not need to be taken to the science facility.) SimBots can be purchased as a Lifetime Reward, too, but they do not come with the blueprints to create additional SimBots.

What are SimBots good for other than company? SimBots are very good at repairing objects. They begin with highly developed Handiness and Inventing skills, so any activity associated with those skills is available. SimBots can learn other skills, too. SimBots do not like water and will avoid it (they never need to bathe). If a SimBot gets wet, it shorts out and cannot be interacted with for a little while, just like a fainted Sim. SimBots prefer to eat scrap, so make sure you have plenty on hand. You can send the SimBot to the junkyard to collect more at any time.

Skill Journal Tracking

Use your Skill Journal to track several statistics about your Sim's Inventing. These stats will help you tackle wishes, opportunities, and challenges:

- ◆ Amount of Scrap Collected
- ◆ Number of Widgets Made
- ◆ Number of Toys Made
- ◆ Number of Big Inventions Made
- ◆ Number of Objects Detonated
- ◆ Number of Underground Adventures
- ◆ Number of Travels Through Time
- ◆ Percentage of Inventions Discovered

Skill Challenges

- ◆ Widget Wonder: After creating 250 Widgets, the inventor only makes Improved Widgets with bonus values and in less time.
- ◆ Diabolical Detonator: After detonating 150 objects, the Diabolical Detonator gets a discount on explosives and earns more scrap per detonation. They are also less likely to be caught and fined for detonating objects on community lots.
- ◆ The Scrap Collector: After collecting 1,000 pieces of scrap, the Scrap Collector digs through junk piles much faster and finds more pieces of scrap.
- ◆ Master Inventor: After creating 100 Big Inventions, all inventing time and costs are decreased. All inventions going forward are considered Master-quality inventions that never fail and sell for more.

HIDDEN SKILLS

Five “hidden” skills are developed while using objects, but are not tracked nor as involved as the Inventing or Sculpting skills. The more you apply tattoos to Sims, the better you get at it, which in turn leads to greater chances of success or pay-offs. The Consignment hidden skill operates in a similar manner. The more you visit and use the consignment store, the greater your reputation at the venue. In turn, this earns you more Simoleons for sold items and gets you discounts on bought objects. The Styling hidden skill is directly related to the Stylist career. The more you work with Sims to help them find better outfits, hairstyles, or make-up options, the more you develop this shadow skill.

Two hidden skills are attached to fun objects for your lot: trampoline and Gnubb. Everybody loves to play on a trampoline. The longer you do so, the better you get at. Over time, as this hidden skill is developed, your Sim jumps higher and pulls off more acrobatic moves in mid-air. Gnubb is a fun backyard game your Sim can play with the Portable Gnubb Set object. As Sims practice and play matches, they develop this hidden skill. The higher the skill, the greater the chance at victory in a game of Gnubb. For more on the trampoline and Gnubb set, please see the New Objects chapter.

MAGICAL GNOMES

Ambitions also introduces three new magical gnomes, one for each of the new skills: Inventing and Sculpting. Once a Sim reaches level 8 of either skill, he or she has a small chance to create a magical gnome in the current medium. An inventor, for example, will create a clockwork gnome, while a sculptor's gnome looks like a classical statue. Both gnomes love to pose and often change poses when Sims are out of the room. The third magic gnome is the wee caveman gnome, which you have a chance of finding while digging with the Miner invention or when traveling to the past in the Time Machine.

Magical gnomes seem mischievous, but they have been known to help out from time to time. If a magical gnome is left in the same room with an in-progress sculpture or invention, the gnome may work on it overnight. When the Sim returns to the workstation the next day, the project will be 99 percent complete!

New Venues & Real Estate

New Venues

The introduction of new careers such as Firefighter and Stylist means neighborhoods now need new workplaces. These new workplaces are not like those found in The Sims 3. Instead of your Sim vanishing for several hours, you actually follow your Sim inside and direct their career activities.

But Ambitions includes more than just a handful of new venues for careers. There are new community lots associated with the two skills: Inventing and Sculpting. Inventors will be keen on visiting the junkyard, where they can collect scrap metal to use in creations back home or salvage busted objects. The consignment store is a good place for Sims to sell their goods, too, such as toys created by inventors, statues made by sculptors, or other objects like paintings.

So, it's not just new careers you're getting with Ambitions. Your neighborhood is about to become a more lively place, full of new locations to visit for commerce, fun, and socialization.

NOTE

If you move a new household into Twinbrook, Sunset Valley, or Riverview, the town is already equipped with all of the new venues. However, if you play Ambitions with an existing household from either The Sims 3 or one started within World Adventures, you must follow the easy-to-use new venue installer the first time you start up the game. Simply place the new venues in your existing neighborhood in locations that are properly sized for the venue. This system is very similar to the Edit Neighborhood function you used in The Sims 3 to rearrange the town, if so desired. Once you have the new venues in place, you're ready to go.

Fire Station

Few things shatter a household like a fire that consumes years of hard work and priceless family treasures. Thankfully, each town now has a brand-new fire station. Fire stations are where Sims in the new active Firefighter career report for work during scheduled shifts.

Primary Use

The fire station in each town looks very similar and has identical functions. The primary use is a workplace. When a Sim accepts a job with the local fire department, this is where he or she reports during scheduled days. Within the fire station, Firefighters maintain equipment (such as the fire engine or alarm system). Firefighters can also socialize, exercise, and blow off a little steam between emergencies. It is typical to see at least one Firefighter at the station at all times.

NOTE

The Firefighter career is fully detailed in the Professions Guide chapter.

Additional Activities

Although the fire station is primarily a venue for the Firefighter career, it contains objects that can be used for other pursuits. An exercise room in the basement lets Sims work on the Athletic skill, which is useful for the Firefighter career. (Thankfully, there are also showers on-site for washing off the funk from a big workout.) A socialization area offers couches and games, and a full kitchen lets Sims take care of hunger pangs. Outside, Sims will find a trampoline for fun and socialization.

TIP

When two Sims jump on the trampoline together, it builds their relationship. Good relationships with co-workers mean speedy promotions and a great daily mood.

Sims developing the Inventing skill can use the Inventor's workstation at the fire station. Early in a new household, using a community object like this saves Simoleons. Plus, it's a great way for a Firefighter to sneak in some skill development between emergencies and foster an alternate stream of income.

Salon

The new salon is different from the existing day spa. Whereas that venue is dedicated to pampering (and it remains a good place to get a mood boost), the salon is a place of business that you may enter and interact with other Sims regardless of whether you are engaged in the Stylist career.

Primary Use

For a Sim in the Stylist career, the salon is a workplace. During scheduled shifts, Stylists hang out at the salon and attend to clients who want to make changes to their personal appearances. When potential clients enter the salon, a stylist should talk to them and then bring them to a station (either the styling station or a tattoo chair) to begin the job. Once the client is involved, you can perform the desired makeover or tattoo within a Create a Sim-like tool.

Additional Activities

Even though the salon is a career venue, any Sim can visit it to either socialize with other Sims or receive a makeover. The salon has multiple stations for makeovers, wardrobe changes, or tattoos. Simply interact with the new station to initiate the desired makeover. The general rule is that as long as there is at least one styling station or tattoo chair in the salon, there is one Sim to attend to it.

NOTE

For more information about giving your Sim a tattoo, please see the New Simology chapter. The New Object catalog includes the available interactions with salon objects, such as the tattoo chairs.

One Sim's trash is another Sim's treasure. The junkyard is where broken objects go to die (or be rescued by handy, inventive Sims with an eye for repairs). Giant stacks of scrap provide ample building blocks for inventors working on new objects or sculptors who decide to work in metal. Searching a junkyard for scrap is much cheaper than buying it directly from a workstation, but consumes much more time.

Primary Use

Rummaging for objects is the main activity at the junkyard. Each junkyard has at least two scrap piles for Sims to dig through and collect scrap for inventing or sculpting. When collecting scrap, Sims approach a sparkling junk pile (sparkles mean there is scrap to be collected) and start digging. After some time has elapsed, your Sim reports how much scrap was found. Once an inventor reaches level 6, he or she can detonate piles at junkyards, too. Detonations produce more scrap than just sifting through a pile.

TIP

Remember the Scrap Collection Skill Challenge: After collecting 1,000 pieces of scrap, the Scrap Collector digs through junk piles much faster and finds more pieces of scrap.

NOTE

The new neighborhood of Twinbrook has two junkyards: the small Juan's Pick 'n Pull and the large Bayless Memorial Junkyard. You are not required to place both sizes of junkyards in your existing neighborhoods.

Found Objects

Scrap isn't the only thing Sims gather at a junkyard. There is a chance your Sim will also find objects during each junkyard visit (per day) that can be fixed up and used on their lot. As you can imagine, this can save a household real Simoleons. Those found objects, though, can also just be carted home and detonated for scrap.

There is a degree of randomness for the objects that appear in your neighborhood junkyard. Use these maps of the two different sizes of junkyards to see where objects are likely to spawn and then reference the chart to see which objects could possibly appear.

CAUTION

Spawned objects in a junkyard do not last forever. Most unclaimed objects disappear within 48 hours.

Consignment Store

Everybody loves a deal. At the consignment store, Sims can search for bargains on secondhand objects or things produced by creative Sims, such as inventions or paintings. But the consignment store is not just a place to shop. Sims are encouraged to use it as a secondary source of income, especially if they pursue a lifestyle not aimed at following the traditional career ladder.

Primary Use

The consignment store is mainly a business where Sims can buy and sell goods. The store is loaded with shelves displaying objects. However, to actually make a transaction, you must approach the register at the rear of the store, which gets the attention of the shop clerk. The clerk then shows you which objects are available for sale and the prices. Just like any other store, you load up your cart and finalize the transaction.

TIP

You can socialize with the clerk, too, which is a good way to satisfy the Social need for Sims going a little Stir Crazy from being cooped up at home, working on inventions.

Reputation and Deals

Each Sim may have multiple objects for sale at the consignment store. To sell an object, interact with the register and then select the object(s) you wish to put on sale. Crafted objects may be placed on sale here—sculptures, paintings, inventions, books, and the like—as well as caught fish and grown harvestables. If you have World Adventures, you may also sell photographs and bottles of nectar. At the end of each day, the store will inform you which objects were sold. Objects lose a little value each day they are at the store:

CONSIGNMENT VALUES

| Days on sale at shop | Selling price |
|----------------------|---------------|
| 1 | 200% |
| 2 | 170% |
| 3 | 130% |
| 4 | 110% |

If you keep selling the same objects over and over, prices drop and the clerk eventually informs you that customers are getting bored with your wares. At the end of the fifth day of non-sale, the object is returned to the owner.

The consignment store offers a hidden skill, as mentioned in New Simology. The more you sell objects at the consignment store, the better your reputation. When Sims buy your goods and are happy with the sale, you earn a reputation bonus of 50 points. The better your reputation, the smaller the percentage the shop keeps for each sale. At first, the shop retains 15 percent of the sale price. Here are the reputation levels and their effect on the store percentage:

| Reputation | Store Fee |
| 200 | 10% |
| 4,000 | 5% |
| 8,000 | 0% |

Three additional situations affect your performance at the consignment store:

- Sim with the Born Salesperson trait build their reputation faster and sell items for more Simoleons.
- Sims who have purchased the Suave Seller Lifetime Reward sell their goods for more at the consignment store.
- Satisfying the hidden requirements of consignment store Skill Challenges also increases your Sim's performance. Selling 150 objects awards the Consignment Store Sales title, giving your Sims an extra 15 percent chance of selling their objects. Selling $25,000 worth of objects awards the Consignment Profit title, which lowers the store fee by 15 percent. Earning 8,000 reputation bonus points awards the Consignment Store Reputation title, giving your Sims an extra 15 percent chance of selling their objects.

Laundromat

One of the new features in Ambitions is laundry. Sims like clean clothes—a fresh shirt puts them in a great mood. Because washers and dryers are expensive, every town has a laundromat where Sims can use community equipment for $35 per load in the cheaper washing machines and $60 in the expensive machines.

Primary Use

The laundromat is there so Sims can launder clothes without having to purchase expensive objects for their own lot or deal with the noise from them, which disturbs other Sims in the household. But there's more going on at the laundromat than clean pants. The laundromat is a wonderful place to socialize with other Sims.

TIP

If your Sim loves music, then turn on the community stereo at the laundromat so he or she gets a moodlet boost for listening to music while socializing or washing clothes.

While using the laundromat, there are a few things to keep tabs on. Normally, Sims cannot take other folks' clothes while machines are in use. However, klepto Sims get a kick out of stealing other Sims' clothes and Evil Sims like to take wet clothes from a finished washing machine cycle and just toss them on the floor. If your Sim has either of these traits, then there's an extra bit of fun to be had at the new laundromat.

TIP

Neighborhoods also have new hangouts, like the Red Rendezvous in Twinbrook. Sims go these places to socialize, enjoy beverages, and listen to music. If you have a social Sim, be sure to check out the local hangout. Find a full description of the Red Rendezvous in the Tour of Twinbrook chapter.

Real Estate

Careers and producing objects are not the only sources of income in your neighborhood. Smart investors can generate a healthy household income through real estate investments. Almost all venues in a town can now be purchased and upgraded. As a result of the investment, the household owning the lot is given a weekly payment. The more you invest in a property via upgrades, the more you make per week.

NOTE

Real estate in Ambitions is built upon the basic investment system from The Sims 3. You may invest in all of the same properties, but also on additional lots and venues, such as fishing holes.

How It Works

To invest in a purchasable venue, choose the Purchase interaction on the establishment from the town map. The base price of the venue is displayed, which must be paid to acquire the venue. There is no payment plan for investing in real estate. Once you've bought a venue and been awarded the deed, you may name the venue anything you wish.

TIP

Use the Check Real Estate interaction on a computer to monitor your investments. This lets you monitor your investments as well as spot open opportunities to buy additional venues. You may also track venue upgrades here.

You may also use Build Mode to create a venue from the ground up. However, you cannot just erect four walls, drop in a treadmill, call it a gym, and then expect a weekly payment. You must meet a level 1 set of requirements. These are your upgrades, which are also essential for maintaining the operation of purchased existing venues. Upgrades allow you to improve an establishment, which in turn pays out more Simoleons.

In Buy Mode, you may install new objects at a customizable venue (a venue where your Sim is still visible after entering—you cannot upgrade the diner, for example) to raise its overall value. In the tables below, we detail the exact object/equipment required to maintain the lowest level of a venue as well as what objects are required to improve it to level 3, the top level of value.

NOTE

By gutting an existing venue and replacing its objects with those needed for a different business, you can turn many community lots into different venues. You could turn a gym into a museum, if you really put your heart into it.

TIP

If you have installed World Adventures, you may also now invest in the dojo and garden in China and the nectary in France.

Tour of Twinbrook

"A great city is not to be confounded with a populous one."

—Aristotle

Welcome to Twinbrook, a new city joining bustling Sunset Valley and bucolic Riverview. Hosting all of the essentials any Sim needs for a full life—good food, good people, and good opportunity—Twinbrook is where many Sims come to try their hands at all-new careers such as Firefighter and Investigator. Sure, these careers are now available in the other two cities, but if you are about to embark on an new adventure, why not do it in a new neighborhood? Use this city guide to learn all you need to know about the sights and sounds of Twinbrook before heading off for that first day of work or the first minute at the sculptor's workstation.

City Living

Taken from the Twinbrook Chamber of Commerce brochure: "In its heyday, Twinbrook was a small industrial town at the mouth of the Simislaus creeks. Years later, the dam was built and it changed everything for the town. Now, with an influx of professionals, artists, and inventors living around the Sim-made lake, Twinbrook is experiencing a rebirth. How will life in this eclectic community turn out?"

Places of Employment

Many of the places you visit to land a career (both the new professions and the traditional careers) also offer special events or classes. The areas around these facilities are interesting to explore, too, because you can meet new Sims and collect cool objects such as seeds and butterflies. When opportunities arise, many of these locations will get new interactions specific to the corresponding opportunity, such as attending an athletic event or donating something to science.

Bachelor Stadium

Interactions

- ◆ Join Professional Sports Career
- ◆ Attend Athletic Class (§400)

- ◆ Attend Game (§60)

- ◆ Attend Concert (§60)

Bachelor Stadium is the go-to place in Twinbrook for Sims pursuing the Professional Sports career. As Sims work their way up from a towel holder to a superstar, they report to this waterfront stadium on a near-daily basis. However, the stadium hosts more than the Professional Sports career. Sims who want to pursue the Athletic skill can get off to rocking start by taking the Athletic class here. Professional sporting events also unfold at the stadium, which result in big mood boosts for Sims. Concerts at the stadium also boost mood, especially if the attending Sims like music.

NOTE

If a concert or game is grayed out, the event is in session and cannot be attended.

TIP

Keep an eye on the morning paper to see which classes at any venue are discounted that day. Save those Simoleons!

Burton's Boxcar Diner

Interactions

- Join Culinary Career
- Attend Cooking Class ($400)
- Eat Here (prices vary)
- Get Drinks (prices vary)

Not every dining experience has to be formal. Sometimes, Sims just want to elbow up to the counter and dig into some good ol' diner grub. Burton's Boxcar Diner is just the spot for cheaper eats than those found at the Little Corsican Bistro. And eating at Burton's still gives your Sims a nice mood boost. Burton's is also where food-minded Sims can take a Cooking class or dive into the Culinary career. There is no difference between Burton's and the Little Corsican Bistro for the class or career structure.

City Hall

Interactions

- Join Political Career
- Attend Charisma Class ($400)
- Tour City Hall

City Hall is a huge feature in Twinbrook. Here, Sims can begin career in politics and also seek out the Charisma class, which will make them more effective at socialization. City Hall tours are a source of fun for Sims, too, and help satisfy the Social need. Sims earning medals for career achievements (more on this in the Careers chapter) go to City Hall for their accolades.

TIP

Even if you do not want to devote serious time to the Charisma skill, taking this class is a good start for making your Sims more adept at socialization. Charisma unlocks a few new socials, which help with important relationship-building (and saving!).

Drea's Salon and Tattoo

Twinbrook's local salon is Drea's. Here, Sims interested in cosmetics and fashion come to try the new Stylist career. The salon is equipped with styling stations and tattoo chairs so any Sim can dive into Create a Sim again to adjust physical appearances. For more on this location, check out the New Venues and Real Estate chapter and the Careers chapter.

Fire Department

Interactions

- Join Firefighter Career
- Maintain Equipment

The Fire Department is where Sims go to apply for the all-new Firefighter career. The local fire house is a busy site, as many Sims are employed by the Fire Department to address the growing concern of fire outbreaks in Twinbrook. Though the Firefighter career takes Sims away from the actual Fire Department when attending to an emergency, Firefighters still spend a decent amount of time here. Maintaining equipment like alarms and the fire engine are big parts of the job. But there is much more on-site, too, such as Sims to socialize with, exercise equipment for getting buff, a kitchen for easy-access eats, and even a workstation for practicing the Inventing skill.

TIP

The Twinbrook Fire Department also has a trampoline, which is a fantastic stress-reducer. Jump alone or with other Sims to have fun, build relationships, and see some cool acrobatic moves.

High Products Business Building

Interactions

- ◆ Join Business Career
- ◆ Join Journalism Career
- ◆ Attend Writing Class ($400)

The High Products Business building is the first stop for Sims interested in either the Business or Journalism career. Titans of industry and star news anchors rub elbows here, making it a fun melting pot of talent. Many opportunities bring Sims to this business park, which also hosts classes in the Writing skill. To speedily develop the trait, come here and enroll.

Llama Corp. Shipping Company

Interactions

- ◆ Join Criminal Career

◆ Raid Warehouse (Special Agents only)

The Llama Corp. Shipping Company looks like an unassuming warehouse. Nothing sinister going on here, right? False. This is where Sims interested in a life of crime report, ready to take their marching orders from the big boss of the Twinbrook crime family. The warehouse is not only the career stop for criminals. Sims in the Law Enforcement and Investigator careers also visit the warehouse, hoping to shine a light on Twinbrook's seedy underbelly.

TIP

Once a Sim initiates a life of crime, burglars no longer threaten his or her house.

Little Corsican Bistro

Interactions

- ◆ Join Culinary Career
- ◆ Attend Cooking Class ($400)
- ◆ Eat Here (prices vary)
- ◆ Get Drinks (prices vary)
- ◆ Eat Outside (prices vary)

The Little Corsican Bistro is one of two eateries in Twinbrook where Culinary careers can be launched. If your Sim has the gift of cooking, then this is a great place to make a living. But even if you don't saunter through the front doors with a Natural Cook trait on your resume, the Cooking classes here are sure to help develop this skill.

TIP

When you dine at the Little Corsican, stay for dessert to get a big mood boost!

NOTE

You automatically change into your formal wear if you choose to wine and/or dine at the Little Corsican Bistro.

Cooking at home may not give you the mood boost of dining out, but it will sure save Simoleons.

Police Department

Interactions

- Join Law Enforcement Career
- Join Investigator Career

The Police Department isn't much of a tourist-friendly place. In fact, the only things to do at this location are join the Law Enforcement career track (and then report back if you indeed accept the badge) or accept the new Investigator gig. For more on each of these careers, please see the Careers chapter.

NOTE

The jail, for Criminal Sims who get caught, is inside the building.

Science Facility

Interactions

- Join Science Career
- Join Ghost Hunter Career
- Attend Gardening Class (§400)
- Attend Logic Class (§400)
- Attend Inventing Class (§400)
- Tour Science Lab
- Donate Insects to Science
- Donate Ghosts to Science

The science facility is the jumping off point for two careers: Science and Ghost Hunter. Ghost Hunters do not report here regularly like Sims in the traditional Science career—they are too busy helping residents rid their homes of pesky spirits. However, Ghost Hunters can return to the facility to sell ghosts caught while on the job. This is a great way to pocket some extra Simoleons. And while you're here, sell some of the insects you've caught while exploring Twinbrook.

The science facility also offers several skill classes: Gardening, Logic, and the new Inventing. Use these classes to start skills or advance them.

Sims in Arms Military Base

Interactions

- Join Military Career
- Attend Handiness Class (§400)
- Tour Base

Report for duty at the Sims in Arms Military Base. The main reason for visiting the base is to join the ranks of Twinbrook's bravest, but any Sim tired of paying for repairs can come here and enroll in the Handiness class. Your Sims will get started in the art of tinkering, which can be a real money-saver once the skill has been developed. The military base accepts visitors, too. Just sign up for a tour to see Sims in Arms up close. Well, not too close.

TIP

The Handiness skill is also developed while you invent.

Stary Community School

Interactions

- Join Educator Career
- Attend Painting Class ($400)
- Attend Sculpting Class ($400)
- Go to School (for teens and children)

The Stary Community School offers two classes for creative Sims: Painting and Sculpting. Both of these skills can be learned by doing, though, so it may behoove you to wait until you are at level 2 or 3 and then come back to the school for an effortless level bump.

The school is also home to the new Educator career, which is not an profession like Ghost Hunter or Investigator, but still new to Ambitions. The Educator career is mapped out in the Careers chapter. Younger Sims also report to the Stary Community School for their personal education, which is important to becoming a smart, well-rounded Sim.

Twinbrook Foundation Hospital

Interactions

- Join Medical Career

The Twinbrook Foundation Hospital is where Sims who desire Medical careers go to ply their trade. This is not a place to tour and play, as there are no other options for citizen Sims at the hospital. However, doctors will spend a lot of time at this venue working with patients, issuing vaccinations, and helping out at free health clinics. However, when out and about, there is a good chance a Medical Sim will encounter random emergencies where their lifesaving skills are put to the test.

Wilsonoff Community Theatre

Interactions

- Join Music Career
- Attend Guitar Class ($400)
- Tour Theatre
- See Movie ($40)

The Wilsonoff Community Theatre is the destination for Sims with a penchant for music. Whether it is to launch a Music career that will eventually take you to super-stardom (maybe you can throw a concert at that stadium?) or just start noodling around on the five-string, this is one of the first places musicians should visit.

The theater also doubles as a movie house. Here, you can take in a film and enjoy a great entertainment boost that lasts for hours. This is a relatively inexpensive way to get a mood boost, which can prove beneficial for performance at work the following day. You can also tour the theater to blow off a little steam. However, if your Sims have no artsy genes, the tour will only leave them bored.

The bookstore contains skill developing manuals that help with the growth of Cooking, Logic, Inventing, Fishing, and other talents. The shop also sells recipes that expand the repertoire of cooking Sims, sheet music for Sims who love to play the guitar, and more.

NOTE

Teenagers in school and Sims with creative/artistic pursuits (such as sculpting or painting) that aren't compatible with a full-time job can also seek a part-time gig at the bookstore. For just a few hours a day, Sims can pull in some cash to keep the fridge stocked with food and books on the shelf.

Interactions

- Shop for Groceries

- Sell Harvestables
- Sell Fish

Need to get some produce or meat for recipes or to use as bait when fishing? Then check out the Grocery Grab Supermarket. Here, Sims can shop for groceries and some housewares (like a rubber duckie). Commerce goes both ways at the grocery store, though. Sims who grow fruits and vegetables can sell these here for profit. And Sims who like to put a hook in the water can also sell their haul to the shopkeeper for cash.

NOTE

The grocery is another place Sims can go for a part-time job in the evenings after school. There are no full-time jobs available at this location.

Sims like to be pampered and no place powders 'em up better than the Sharma Day Spa. At this day spa, Sims can come in for a variety of personal treatments, from massage to manicures. Prices for these services range from §50 to §7,500, but you get what you pay for. The more expensive the service, the longer the effects last after the Sim leaves. Moodlets from the day spa include benefits like Smooth Skin and Completely At Ease. These moodlets can last for days, too, giving you real bang for your buck.

The day spa offers two different part-time jobs. Sims can grab a few hours a day behind the receptionist's desk or slather healing mud on the well-to-do as a spa specialist. The pay isn't spectacular, but the hours are perfect for Sims with other pursuits.

TIP

Want to buy a Lifetime Reward but lack the Lifetime Happiness points? You can essentially buy them by getting day spa treatments that pop your Sim's mood into the bubble for an extended time.

Twinbrook Buy and Bargain Consignment Store

Interactions

- Shop for Items
- Cancel Consignments

The full use of the consignment store is detailed in the New Venues and Real Estate chapter, including charts of how items can hold or lose their value at the shop. Sims should regularly visit the consignment store not just to sell goods, but also check the ever-changing inventory for new, exciting objects. For example, you may find something as amazing as a Time Machine in stock. It takes inventors weeks to build their skill up to level 9 and create that, and you might just be lucky enough to find one sitting on the shelf.

Sell stuff you invent or sculpt at the consignment store for the chance at a big Simoleon payout.

Community Spots

Twinbrook has many community lots that allow Sims to pursue to new activities or activities that require equipment too expensive to have at home at first, such as exercise machines at the gym or a computer at the library.

Another benefit to visiting these community spots is meeting Sims. These locations can get pretty busy, giving you ample opportunities to socialize and meet your neighbors. If your Sim thirsts for socialization, be sure to hit up these spots.

Cleanesque Laundromat

Main Interactions

- Do Laundry
- Dry Clothing

In the New Venues and Real Estate chapter, we described the general use of the new laundromat location. In Twinbrook, the laundromat is an excellent place to socialize as well as do laundry. The Cleanesque Laundromat has a few rows of washers and dryers, so you can always do your laundry without waiting. The facility also has a bathroom and a common area for visiting and enjoying music.

After dropping clothes in the machine, why not chat up that fellow around the corner?

TIP

If you decide to try your hand at real estate, note that the second floor of the Cleanesque Laundromat is empty. Use this blank canvas to upgrade the facility or even build something new.

Curios Memorial Museum

View

The Curios Memorial Museum is a good spot for art-loving Sims to admire works from great talents. The museum charges no admission fee, so Sims can view art and enjoy the mood benefits without dropping a single Simoleon. There may not be a lot to do here outside of viewing art or coming back during specific opportunities, but art-loving Sims will find others with similar interests here. Who knows, your Sim may lock eyes with the love of her life when looking up from a fascinating sculpture.

Ivy Hill Graveyard

Tour Mausoleum

Explore Catacombs

Mourn

Sims who have gone before are buried at the graveyard. The chief purpose of this community spot is to mourn the dead, but there are plenty of other interactions available among the tombstones and grave markers. There are statues to admire and plenty of trees, so a Loves the Outdoors Sim will get great pleasure from being here.

NOTE

Sims can also seek part-time work at the cemetery.

The central feature is the mausoleum. This imposing structure houses more of the dead. Touring the mausoleum can be educational for some Sims. The option to explore the catacombs below the graveyard is a source of excitement for Brave Sims. Sims without the Brave trait risk getting the Horrified moodlet, which is devastating to their overall mood for several hours.

Juan's Pick 'n Pull & Bayless Memorial Junkyard

Collect Scrap

There are two junkyards in Twinbrook: Juan's Pick 'n Pull and the Bayless Memorial Junkyard. Bayless is the larger of the two, so it has more junkyard spawners and scrap piles to rummage through. Be sure to investigate the New Venues and

Real Estate chapter for more information on the junkyards, including tables that reveal which objects you have a chance of finding at each location.

Visit junkyards often. You never know what you might find, like a big-screen TV to either repair or detonate for scrap.

Lakeside Community Library

Main Interactions

- Read
- View
- Use Computer

The Lakeside Community Library is open to all and free of charge. The library is stacked with hundreds of books, so your Sim is bound to find something of interest here to flip through and just relax. The library is also a social hot spot, especially for Sims with the Bookworm trait. It is common to bump into another Sim with similar interests at the library.

The library also has computers for Sims who don't have one at home (for space or money reasons), and any computer activity you could do from home—like chat, play games, and check real estate—can be done from a library computer.

The Red Rendezvous

Main Interactions

- Prepare Beverage

The Red Rendezvous is the social epicenter of Twinbrook. At this club, Sims can come to enjoy music, socialize, have a beverage, and just unwind. There are plenty of places to sit and just listen to music from the stereo or a Sim with a talent for the guitar. (Sims with the Guitar skill should definitely play the Red Rendezvous for tips.)

If your Sim's Social need is in the red, a trip to the Red Rendezvous is a sure remedy.

Twinbrook Community Gardens

Main Interactions

- Plant Seed

Water Harvestable

Harvest

Not every Sim has space to start a garden, so the community gardens are perfect for working out the ol' green thumb. Sims who want to develop the Gardening skill are welcome to dig around in the dirt, plant seeds, and raise harvestables to full size. The garden is not stocked with any rare or exotic plants such as Flame Fruit or Money Trees at first. You must cultivate those on your own. The community garden is also a good place to socialize. Chances are good that Sims at the garden Love the Outdoors or are growing harvestables, giving you something to talk about right away.

The community garden has just basic harvestables like tomatoes and lettuce... at first.

TIP

Look for fellow Eco-Friendly Sims at the Twinbrook Community Garden!

Twinbrook Community Swim Center

Swim

Sims absolutely love to swim, unless they are Hydrophobic, of course. If you don't have a pool on your own lot, use the Twinbrook Community Swim Center to take a refreshing dip. Swimming is good exercise and a major stress-reducer. The Twinbrook Community Swim Center can get busy, but that's a bonus. Chat up the locals at poolside and make a new friend, or eight!

Swimming provides stress relief and exercise—two birds with one stone.

Twinbrook Lakefront Wellness Center

Main Interactions

- Use Exercise Machine
- Use Treadmill
- Shower

All Sims should exercise, not just those developing the Athletic skill or pursuing a career in Professional Sports. The good people of Twinbrook have built this facility for all to enjoy without dropping a single Simoleon, making it a great place to get in shape without having to buy an expensive exercise machine. Because the gym is often busy, it also doubles as a socialization spot where like-minded Sims can mingle and talk about the latest exercise trends.

CAUTION

It's easy to get grungy at the gym, so watch your Hygiene. If you start to smell bad, you'll turn off the Sims around you. Luckily, there's a full shower and bathroom area where you can wash off the funk.

TIP

If your Sims need to take care of Hygiene, regardless of whether or not a workout is involved, they can stop by the Twinbrook Lakefront Wellness Center and grab a quick shower.

Parks

Twinbrook has four outdoor parks where Sims are encouraged to stroll, relax, and socialize. Unless Sims do not like being outdoors, visiting a park is guaranteed to brighten mood. Many parks have bodies of water for fishing, such as the river behind the Twinbrook Esplanade, and chess tables for practicing the Logic skill or challenging other Sims to great cerebral contests.

Parks are great places to socialize and make new friends.

River Junction Beach Park

The small River Junction Beach Park is a nice socializing spot. There is an outdoor grill for serving up meals and a gazebo for shade. Guitar-playing Sims can use the gazebo as an impromptu stage when playing for tips on a sunny afternoon. This is also a good fishing spot.

Twinbrook Esplanade

The Twinbrook Esplanade is directly across from City Hall and overlooks the majestic lake, giving Sims immediate mood boosts just for being outdoors. The esplanade can get busy on a weekend, so if you need to socialize, hit up this park to meet the locals. Sims who like to jog can go running along the waterfront here and pick up mood boosts. Fishing is also available right at the water's edge.

Twinbrook Town Center

Standing in the shadow of City Hall, the Twinbrook Town Center is a wonderful city square that all residents should frequent. The park has benches for sitting and reading, swing sets for children, grills for outdoor cooking, and chess tables for practicing or playing against other Sims. Like the gazebo at the River Junction Park, the Twinbrook Town Center is also a killer spot to play for tips and advance the Guitar skill.

Use the chess tables at the park to develop the Logic skill for free.

Willowglen Amphitheater

The outdoor Willowglen Amphitheater is carved in the rolling hills outside town, surrounded by beautiful weeping willows and other tall trees. The amphitheater is a great stage for budding musicians to try out, but it also just a nice place to relax away from the hustle and bustle of the city. Bring a radio and a book, and then just relax in the shade of a willow. Your Sim's cares will evaporate in no time.

Fishing Spots

Fishing is a great way to relax, plus you can earn some money on the side. Reeling in a big catch and selling it to the supermarket is a fun way to line your pockets with Simoleons. Sims who Love the Outdoors get a huge mood boost out of fishing, and you can plop a radio next to them to drive that mood even higher. (This works for any Sim, not just those with the Loves the Outdoors trait.) Fishing is a great stress-reliever, too, for any Sims but those who Hate the Outdoors.

Elkhorn Fishing Park

Guppy Gills Pond

Hollowlog Springs

NOTE

You may also fish for ocean-dwelling fish at the River Junction Beach Park or cast a line off the edge of the Twinbrook Esplanade.

TIP

The best time to go fishing is between 4AM and 6AM. This is when the best and biggest fish are biting!

When you do manage to reel in a crate, there is a good chance it will contain a valuable item, such as World's Brew Bubble Bath or Death Flower. Collecting Careers are the major thrust of Ambitions, but they are not the only way to earn Simoleons in Twinbrook—or any town. Valuable collectibles around the city can enrich your household account or beautify your lot.

You can collect butterflies and beetles to sell to the science facility (or keep for yourself). Precious gems and metals can be refined into brilliant treasures. Space rocks hurtling down from the heavens have smashed into the ground all around Twinbrook, too. Use the maps in this section to pinpoint the locations of all collectibles.

A randomness factor is involved in collecting. Though we have provided the locations of collectibles, there is a chance they will not be there on the specific day you check. Maybe the next day. Maybe the next week. And if multiple collectibles in a category are listed for a spot, perhaps only one of that group will be present on any given day.

Insects

There are two types of insects to collect: beetles and butterflies. Collecting these insects gets your Sims out of the house where they can avoid going Stir Crazy and soak up some nature. Insects can be sold to the science facility for Simoleons (the rarer the insect, the more it is worth) or kept on your lot in terrariums. Sims love to have a collection of pretty insects at home, so consider your lot environment before trading these finds in for cash. Having an attractive butterfly or rare beetle in a terrarium could be the difference between an okay room and one that gives your Sim the Nicely Decorated moodlet.

Beetles

Watch your step! There's an entire world under your feet in Twinbrook. Beetles scurry about until a curious Sim like you comes along to collect them. You can find several types of beetles in Twinbrook, all worth different amounts of Simoleons if you take them to the science center. But keep in mind that the more valuable a beetle is to the science center, the more of an environmental bonus it will have on your lot.

Butterflies

Butterflies float and flit around Twinbrook, filling the air with flashes of color. Like beetles, there are many different butterflies, each with a different value to both the science center and your home. As tempting as it is to trade those pretty little wings in for some cash, you may wish to install a handful of butterflies in terrariums around your lot for the beautification factor.

Gems

Don't just walk by the rocks you see on the ground. Upon closer inspection, your Sim will discover that some of them are actually gems. However, gems require an extra step. You must send them away to be cut into beautiful stones, which increases their value.

| Flourite Palmstone | 1 | 105 | 300 | 500 |

NOTE

Flourite Palmstone is not found in the wild. It is only found in stones used for sculpting. There is a slight random chance that your Sim will discover it while working on a statue in the stone medium.

Having a gem cut increases its value, but this comes at a cost. You must pay to have a gem cut, which occurs when you send it away via the mailbox. When you first start collecting gems, the only cut available is Emerald. The next available cut is Oval, but to unlock this cut, you need to send off four previously collected gems to be cut by the professional jeweller. After that fourth cut, you get a note saying the Oval cut is now available. So, while it does cost to get these gems cut, the more you do it, better cuts you get—and the more money you can make from selling. The best cut is the Heart cut, which multiplies the value of the gem five-fold.

GEM CUTS

| Gem Cut | Available After # Cuts | Value Multiplier | Cost of Cut |

Inventors need to collect the necessary 10 gems to earn the Heart cut if they want to complete the series of opportunities that lead to the creation of a Frankensim.

There's a chance you'll dig up gems and metals while using the Miner invention.

Metals

Sims can collect five different kinds of precious metals: iron, silver, gold, palladium, and plutonium. However, when you pick them up, they are still in ore form. These metals must be smelted to make them valuable—and pretty. To turn ore into ingots, just send them away via an interaction with your lot's mailbox. When the ingot comes back, the value has improved by up to 75 percent. That's quite a boost for the $40 smelting fee.

New to Ambitions is Woohooium, a precious metal that is found only during the sculpting process. When a sculptor works in stone, there is a small chance the stone will break and reveal a raw sample of this romantic ore.

Meteorites

Not every rock found in Twinbrook is from this planet. Some are meteorites that streaked down from space and crashed in the borders of this lovely city. These rocks can be worth serious Simoleons. There are three sizes: small, large, and huge.

METEORITES

| Meteorite | Min. Weight | Max. Weight | Value of Min. Weight | Value of Max. Weight |
|-----------|-------------|-------------|----------------------|----------------------|
| Small | 1 | 65 | 10 | 30 |
| Large | 100 | 1,050 | 50 | 200 |
| Huge | 50,000 | 1,001,000 | 2,000 | 4,500 |

Meteorites can be worth quite a bit of money, but there is a degree of risk when you analyze a meteorite to determine what it is. Sometimes the raw value of a meteorite is greater than its worth once it has been identified. For example, if analysis reveals your meteorite is Ordinary Chondrite, the meteorite is now only worth half of its previous value. After analyzing it, there is no way to reverse the process, so you might be stuck with a less valuable space rock. Here is a list of all of the possible results of analysis and the value multipliers of such discoveries:

DEATH BY METEORITE!

You find most meteorites on the ground, but in Ambitions, there are still plenty up in the air. Sims who spend time in the outdoors or look through telescopes at the stars run the risk—however minuscule—of being flattened by a falling meteor. Fortunately, you get a moment of warning before this actually happens. A shadow appears on the ground around the Sim and foreboding music lilts through the air.

But the warning lasts only a few moments and any Sim still in that shadow when the meteor strikes is instantly killed. If the dead Sim is turned into a playable ghost, the ghost is orange.

Babies and children cannot be squished by a meteor. So relax.

Careers

Professions

The central new feature of Ambitions is the profession system. The new careers are much more interactive than previous professions. Before, when your Sims went to work, they slipped into a venue and did not come out until the shift had ended. You had a degree of control over work behavior through the use of “tones,” but the progression of a career was more about managing tones, skill development, co-worker relationships, and a handful of activities, such as writing articles or rummaging through trash.

The professions change all of that. These new professions require the same attention you would give your Sims during non-work hours. You must direct them to the tasks required of them for each career (such as banishing angry spirits as a Ghost Hunter or putting out a blaze as a Firefighter). Many of the new work tasks require traveling around the neighborhood and interacting with people or objects.

NOTE

One of the original careers in The Sims 3 has been updated for Ambitions: Medical. The remaining careers play out the same. In fact, a new career following the original model has been added to Ambitions. The Educator career takes place at the school. The Educator and all original careers are detailed at the end of this chapter.

Working Around Town

All of the new professions require you to work outside of your home or a venue. You will crisscross the neighborhood to locate trouble spots or new tasks during your shift. Not every new career has a venue you must report to, though. The Firefighter career may have you working out of the new fire station venue, but the Architectural Designer career is not at all anchored to a specific location. When not working for a client, you can be at home, if you like.

When you need to go on an assignment for an profession, you may do so from map view. In map view, icons for an assignment appear over relevant locations. If your Sim is a Ghost Hunter, for example, small ghost buttons appear over one or two homes per shift to alert you of an assignment. Click on the button to go to that location and attend to the assignment. Mousing over the button also reveals what type of assignment it is, and this may help you prioritize them. Because assignments usually must be completed before the end of a shift, it's very important to prioritize.

The requirements of an assignment appear in a blue tab on the screen's left so you always know what you need to be doing. This is called the Current Job box.

Responsibilities & Experience

In the original careers, promotions were doled out based on a number of different metrics, such as co-worker relationships and the development of related skills. In Ambitions, the new careers have different metrics: responsibilities and experience. Each career has three responsibilities that you must stay on top of. These responsibilities are constant and do not change per promotion. The more of your responsibilities that you fulfill, the more experience you amass. Experience points (XP) are the hard measurements for promotions. There is no guesswork. Once you reach a certain XP threshold, your Sim gets a promotion and all of the benefits that come with it.

Each career guide in this chapter details the responsibilities and how to best collect XP so you can rocket up the career ladder as fast as possible. After all, even though not every stage in the career may come with a cool, immediate benefit, no promotion comes with a negative.

Rewards

Every career comes with a paycheck at the end of the week, but there are additional rewards for a job well done. With certain promotion levels, you receive goodies like upgraded equipment or a new uniform. There are reward objects, too. One of the earliest Firefighter rewards is a decorative axe to place on a wall on your lot.

You may also be called to City Hall from time to time to receive a service medal. Service medals are not just for show. Collecting a service medal at City Hall results in an XP payout, too. So don't ignore a trip to City Hall when you are notified of a reward.

Many of the rewards can be placed on your lot, which results in environmental bonuses for whatever room they are in.

Ghost Hunter

When the sun dips below the horizon, restless spirits comes out to play. The good citizens of the neighborhood, however, don't necessarily see the fun or wonder in these hauntings. They want these ghosts out of their houses as soon as possible, especially the noisy poltergeists that love to rattle dressers and beds at inhospitable hours. Over time, the spectral activity in town gets even worse. By the time the Ghost Hunter has truly honed his skills in detection and exorcism, ghosts from centuries gone by are terrifying friends and neighbors.

Work Location: Various locations

How Hired: Report to science facility, answer computer ad, answer newspaper ad

Work Week: Late night shifts for five days per week, which can really turn a Sim's social life upside-down because of odd sleep schedules.

Salary Progression: The Ghost Hunter career has decent but unspectacular pay. The real money comes from collecting spirits and selling them to the local science facility.

Responsibilities:

- ◆ Investigate paranormal activity
- ◆ Collect spirits
- ◆ Improve Logic skill

Expect to be offered two assignments every night you are on the job. These assignments typically take place in homes, but can occur at venues like the community theater where you enter and do not come out for several hours. Although the progression of assignments follows a typical difficulty curve (detailed in the next section), the locations and activities for these jobs are random. No two Ghost Hunters will visit the same houses with the same hauntings. And when you survey your two assignments at the beginning of a shift, they are not always the same type of investigation.

You are immediately given the Banshee Banisher upon taking the job, which is your primary tool of the trade. This weapon allows you to collect spirits in the wild, saving citizens from sleepless nights and untold horrors.

TIP

The Ghost Hunter receives the new, unique social, Show Off Banshee Banisher, which tends to impress other Sims.

Career Progression

When you first accept the Ghost Hunter career, nobody in town takes you seriously. Your cheap uniform certainly doesn't instill much trust. However, as soon as you take on your first paranormal assignment, the people of your town—including the folks at City Hall—start to see your value. This career does not have a venue you report to, but you should always be available during your business hours. During these nighttime work hours, your assignments are given out via map view.

You participate in several types of investigations in this career. Your Banshee Banisher, for example, receives upgrades that make it more powerful and capable of grabbing ghosts much faster and with more success. That's important because time is often of the essence when dealing with a haunting. You must complete these ghostly gigs before sun up. The low-level Banshee Banisher has a decent fail rate. You can lose the fight with a ghost, allowing it to escape to another part of the lot, which eats up time. If your Sim is not Brave, a ghost strong enough to escape the Banshee Banisher can give your Sim a good fright, which is a mood killer.

Though the Banshee Banisher is your best tool against the ghosts, there is a peaceful option to resolve some (not all) hauntings. As a Ghost Hunter, you can speak to the dead. With a little Charisma, you can actually convince some of them to move on from this world into the next. You have three socials for doing this: Talk About Full Life, Put at Ease About Loved Ones, and Convince to Move On. If you can get a fully formed ghost—not one of the small vapors seen in Spirit Invasions and Possessed Object assignments—to speak to you, you can befriend it. Start with Talk About Full Life, a pleasant ice breaker that sets the stage for moving on to Put at Ease About Loved Ones. If the ghost is receptive, your relationship increases just as if you were speaking to a live Sim. Now, use both of these socials a few times to get chummy with the ghost (you can also try friendly or funny socials) before using the Convince to Move On social. If you attempt to use this too early, you can infuriate the ghost. At this point, the only recourse is the Banshee Banisher.

TIP

At level 8, though, your gift of ghostly gab improves. The chance of talking a ghost out of a house is increased.

Though the parameters of an assignment may change, the result is usually the same: the capture and containment of a ghost. Once you have captured a ghost, you can do several things with it. The easiest is selling it to the science facility for cash. You can keep ghosts in little containers around your lot for fun. However, you can also release ghosts back into town.

You can place contained ghosts around your house, just like bug-filled terrariums or fish tanks. Feel free to name these ghosts, too.

Though it may not be as thrilling as catching ghosts, developing the Logic skill is critical for advancing in the Ghost Hunter career. You must do this outside of assignments. Read Logic books, look through a telescope at the stars, or play a little chess. Increasing your Logic skill not only pays out in XP, but the higher your Logic skill, the more XP you potentially earn during assignments.

Once you have saved up some cash, it may prove useful to hire a Maid to clean up the house while you attempt to catch some much-needed sleep during the day.

Investigations

There are five types of assignments for the Ghost Hunter career. They roll out in the order below, but mingle with previously opened investigation types once unlocked.

When you enter a property to perform an investigation, the house lights turn different colors and you hear creepy (but amusing) music. You know you have completed the assignment when the lights return to normal.

Spirit Invasions

Spirit Invasions are the most basic of hauntings. Eliminate all spirits (vapor-like little nasties) on the lot to complete the assignment. Spirits can be inside or outside, and don't forget to look on all of the floors of a house, too. The spirits may be different colors, but they all behave the same way: they bob and wave for a few moments before disappearing and reappearing elsewhere on the lot.

Your typical neighborhood spirit

Click on a ghost and choose the Banish interaction to shoot it with the Banshee Banisher. The number of spirits on the lot are noted in the blue box on the screen's left, so keep busting until the house is all busted out. The residents of a house remain upset as long as the spirits are on the lot. Once the assignment is complete, you can either take off for the next job or hang around and visit with the household. Unless you are super-rude, you have a good chance of starting positive relationships because the ghost-busted inhabitants are so grateful.

Paranormal Investigation

Occasionally, you must report to one of the venues where you disappear inside to investigate paranormal activity. These assignments take three or more hours to complete. During the assignment, you cannot take on any other jobs or address any of your Sim's needs. These investigations can take place at many different spots, such as the theater, the stadium, the supermarket, and more.

TIP

Because these assignments take additional time, you may wish to complete any other assignments before disappearing into the community venue.

Poltergeist Haunting

Poltergeists are a special type of ghost that are strong enough to interact with physical objects. When clients begin complaining about possessed objects, you know you're dealing with a poltergeist. Go to the affected house and scan the premises for shaking and bucking objects, like beds or bookcases. Poltergeists can possess almost any object, so be on the lookout for any movement from an object that, well, shouldn't be moving. Click on the possessed object and use the Exorcise interaction. You unleash the Banshee Banisher to yank the poltergeist out of the object. It is possible to fail, though, at which point the poltergeist can scare a non-Brave Sim before slipping into another object on the lot.

Look for wisps around possessed objects.

Can't find that last possessed object? Don't forget to check objects outside the house but still on the lot, such as the mailbox.

Ghostly Presence

Once you receive the Spook-o-meter at level 5, you can take on the Ghostly Presence assignments. These investigations are more complex and time-consuming than Possessed Objects or Spirit Invasions. You must locate the ghosts hiding in the house by clicking on the floor in a room and choosing the Scan for Ghosts interaction. Your Sim pulls out the meter and starts looking for signs of a ghost. If there is no ghost in the room, you're told to check out a different room.

NOTE

The Current Job box shows how many ghosts you must find. Once a ghost is found, it appears as a ghost that needs to be evicted.

If there is indeed a ghost in that room, look for signs of it. A ghost that died via fire is preceded by red sparkles. A drowned ghost first appears as dripping water. Within a few seconds, the ghost's full form appears. These look like normal ghosts of deceased Sims, not little vapors. You can then see the ghost's name. At this point, you have two choices to deal with the ghost. You can either use the Banshee Banisher to capture it or attempt to talk it into leaving the house.

If you choose the Banshee Banisher route, expect a greater fight than with a spirit or poltergeist. These ghosts will pull away. If successful, they can scare a non-Brave Sim or even turn around and mock them. However, keep at it. Eventually, the Banshee Banisher takes the fight out of them and they submit to your persistence and power.

CAUTION

Because ghosts can fly through walls and objects, they may attempt to break the space between you and it. Ghosts can even float to a corner you simply cannot reach. This naturally frustrates your Sim, but there's just not much you can do except wait for the ghost to float to another part of the house.

Angry Ghostly Invasion

The final type of investigation is the Angry Ghost Invasion. These assignments are similar to the Ghostly Presence assignment, except the ghosts are not hidden. These brazen banshees are right out in the open, terrorizing the residents of the house (and you, unless you have the Brave trait). Deal with these ghosts via the Banshee Banisher (which has likely been upgraded by this point) or through coaxing socials. If you are at level 8, you have a much easier time talking these ghosts into peacefully moving on to the afterlife.

Angry ghosts tend to upset everybody in the house. If one of the ghosts is really disturbing the residents, zero in on it first.

Many angry ghosts wear the traditional clothes of past civilizations. These ancient ghosts are worth more Simoleons than ghosts with modern dress.

Spirit Collecting

As soon as you receive the Spook-o-meter at level 5, an entirely new facet of the Ghost Hunter career opens: Spirit Collecting. Now, you collect plenty of ghosts and spirits while on the job. But you can also use this special object outside of assignments to locate ghosts in the wild. You can find ghosts at the graveyard, a park, laundromat, or any other community lot where your Sim does not disappear upon entering.

The Spook-o-meter

To seek these spirits, use the exact same steps as Ghost Invasions. When you visit a community lot, click on the ground and then choose the Scan for Spirits interaction. Your Sim goes to that location and whips out the Spook-o-meter. After you use your equipment a few moments, any spirits in the immediate area will appear. Then, simply pull out the Banshee Banisher and get to work collecting the ghost the same way you would on any of your normal assignments.

CAUTION

If you do not collect the revealed spirit right away, it will move to another spot in the immediate area.

Every spirit you collect results in additional XP. While you can get promotions in the Ghost Hunter career without this side activity, it will certainly take much longer to do so. Regularly sell your spirits for Simoleons at the science facility so you can buy new objects for your lot, such as a telescope to help develop your Logic skill. Ghosts have different values, both in Simoleons and XP, depending on the type of the spirit and how "old" it is. A young spirit—one that hasn't been dead for that long—is not worth as much as an ancient spirit.

GHOST VALUES

| Spirit Type | Base Value |
|-------------|------------|
| Kind | 50 |
| Friendly | 75 |
| Frightened | 100 |
| Lost | 200 |
| Jealous | 400 |
| Wrathful | 600 |
| Evil | 1,000 |

NOTE

The type and age of spirits is completely random. Just because you are a level 8 Ghost Hunter, for example, doesn't mean you automatically start sucking up more ancient spirits.

TIP

As soon as you reach level 10 of the Ghost Hunter profession, you receive the Spirit Scanner. It reveals the locations of collectible ghosts on map view, taking the guesswork out of sniffing out these valuable specters.

Firefighter

Few figures cut a braver profile than the Firefighter. The Firefighter is a local hero, dedicated to saving both lives and property when a fire breaks out at either a community venue or a private residence. This career is an absolute roller coaster, as a Firefighter can spend hours enjoying the relative peace of the fire station, working on projects or exercising to stay in shape, only to have the alarm break out. Then, you hop on the fire engine to tear across town and extinguish the flames before anybody gets hurt. This is one of the most rewarding careers of Ambitions, thanks to the general awe the community shows you as you carry a child out of a burning house.

Work Location: Fire station

How Hired: Report to fire station, answer computer ad, answer newspaper ad

Work Week: Normal business hours during the week, although the shift gets a little shorter (and starts later) as you earn later promotions

Salary Progression: The Firefighter career has a solid salary that only gets better over time.

Responsibilities:

- ◆ Respond to emergencies
- ◆ Improve Athletic and Handiness skills
- ◆ Befriend fellow Firefighters

Career Progression

Upon accepting a position at the fire station, Sims must steel themselves for a life of adventure—adventure that comes in fits and starts. It is not uncommon to see no hustle at the fire station. That's because the crew doesn't leap into action until the alarms go off. Then, everybody throws on their gear and rushes to the engine to race for the fire.

This doesn't mean you just get to sit around. There is quite a bit to do at the fire station. One of your responsibilities is to maintain the equipment at the fire station: the alarms and the Woo Woo 4000 fire engine. Not only do you maintain this equipment, but you can also upgrade it for improved performance. Upgrading? You know what that means: you need to develop the Handiness skill to keep ahead. You develop Handiness while maintaining and upgrading equipment, but you should also develop the skill outside of work hours by upgrading objects at your own lot or tinkering with stuff at the fire station.

Learning the Inventing skill at the workstation inside the fire station also raises your Handiness skill, albeit slower than the Inventing skill.

Firefighters need to be in good shape, so Sims in this career should maintain their bodies as well as minds. There is a gym in the basement of the Twinbrook Fire Station, for example, that Sims can use for free. There's even a shower at the fire station so you can wash off the funk of physical activity.

When Sims are put in dangerous situations together, they must know they can trust each other. Building good relationships with the other Firefighters (there are several of them around the fire station at almost all times) is an important way to generate XP necessary to advance. There are many ways to build those relationships. You can socialize around the kitchen table in the fire station's mess area, jump on the trampoline together outside, play catch, or watch television together. All of the objects needed to do these activities are on-site. Every time you develop a new level of friendship with another Firefighter, you get an XP payout.

NOTE

If your friendship level with a fellow Firefighter drops and you rebuild it, you do not get any more XP for re-establishing a previously held relationship level.

But even though there is plenty to do at the fire station, you drop everything the moment that alarm goes off. You need to respond to an emergency as soon as possible because you are graded on performance and that grade is what determines the XP payout of a completed job. The easiest way to respond to an emergency is to click the alarm on the wall and choose the Respond interaction. (Alternately, you can click on the emergency from map view.) Your Sim dons gear and rushes to the waiting engine, which then roars to the site of the emergency.

Once at the emergency site, you must fulfill the requirements posted in the Current Job box. Don't worry about taking specific items with you. If it's a small fire, you have an extinguisher. For larger fires, you automatically have access to a hose from the engine. You can either let your Sim handle the emergency, or direct them around the site. In situations where you have to break down doors or rescue citizens, you should opt to control the course of action yourself. That way, if disaster truly strikes and somebody gets hurt, you have only yourself to blame.

CAUTION

If you are not at the fire station during your shift, you can miss an alarm. If you do not keep tabs on the alarms and a job ends before you attend to it (usually in disaster), you lose XP.

After the emergency has been taken care of, Firefighters return to the station. There, the engine is automatically parked. If the shift is over, you can choose to go home or use the amenities at the fire station (shower, fridge, etc.) to take care of your Sim's needs.

Truth be told, you can actually live at the fire station. Everything you need is there, although you cannot easily upgrade objects like the beds, which are cheap and can lead to a Bad Night's Sleep, which is a negative moodlet. Chances are good that you have better stuff to use at home (although the flat screen TV at the fire station sure is nice), so unless you really want to stay late to use some of the other objects like the workstation or the trampoline, you many need to take care of needs at home.

TIP

The fridge at the fire station is handy for quick meals that satisfy basic Hunger needs, but you cannot prepare actual dishes at the fire station. You can, though, bring food prepared at home to the fire station and store it in the fridge. If you have some really good grub, like an Angel Food Cake, keep it on-hand at the fire station for a great meal—and a great mood boost.

When you finally reach level 10 of this career, you get your very own alarm and fire engine to take home. Install the alarm on one of your walls, park the engine in a driveway, and continue the Firefighter career from the comfort of home without fear of missing an emergency!

TIP

Firefighters get two new socials: Tell Fire Fighting Story (available after completing one emergency call) and I'm a Firefighter (any time). Both socials serve to impress, but the I'm a Firefighter social has romantic overtones.

NOTE

At level 9, Firefighters can pass along the Immune to Fire hidden trait to their offspring. Sims with this hidden trait cannot be burned by fire—ever.

Emergency Scoring

When an emergency strikes, the clock starts ticking. The Current Job box monitors the amount of time elapsed since the start of the emergency. The faster you resolve the emergency, the better your score. Your score is given as a letter grade (A through F—no E) and that letter grade acts as a multiplier for the amount of XP a job normally pays out. If a Sim at the emergency site dies, you automatically get a D. All scoring time is in minutes.

EMERGENCY SCORING

| Job | Grade A | Grade B | Grade C | Grade D |
|---------------------------------|---------|---------|---------|---------|
| Small House Fire | 180 | 240 | 320 | 400 |
| Gnome Invasion | 180 | 240 | 320 | 400 |
| Large House Fire/ Earthquake | 240 | 320 | 400 | 440 |
| Building Disaster | 180 | 240 | 320 | 400 |
| Science Facility Rescue | 180 | 240 | 320 | 400 |
| Hospital Rescue | 180 | 240 | 320 | 400 |
| Warehouse Rescue | 180 | 240 | 320 | 400 |

CAUTION

How do you get an F? Completely fail to deal with an emergency and allow every Sim at the site to perish.

TIP

Get an A or B grade on an emergency and members of that household will call to thank you. Your relationship with that Sim then starts with a higher LTR.

Maintenance

Firefighters must maintain their equipment so it is in usable condition when an emergency strikes. When not attending to an emergency, you should always keep tabs on the current condition of the alarm system at the fire station and the fire engine itself. To see their current status, mouse over them. In perfect condition, they are 100 percent. With each day, the equipment suffers a little wear and tear. If alarm equipment drops to zero-percent, it takes longer to sound when an emergency breaks out. If the fire engine drops to zero, it takes much longer to reach the scene of an emergency. To maintain equipment, just click on the object and choose the Maintain interaction.

Upgrades

Because you have been working on your Handiness skill (you have, right?), you can upgrade some of the equipment around the fire station. When you have reached level 4 of the Handiness skill, you may upgrade the alarm. This upgrade improves the response time to emergencies, decreasing the amount of time already on the clock when the bell starts ringing. The alarm system may be upgraded only once.

NOTE

If you must break from an upgrade to attend to an emergency or another need, your progress is saved. The next time you choose the Upgrade interaction on that object, you pick up where you left off.

Sims with level 5 Handiness may perform three upgrades on the fire engine. Each upgrade improves the horsepower of the engine, which increases its speed. Now you can get to emergencies faster. The first horsepower upgrade is available at level 1 of the Handiness skill. Horsepower 2 is unlocked at level 4 Handiness. Horsepower 3 cannot be performed until you have level 7 Handiness.

At level 5 of the Firefighter career, you receive your personal fire extinguisher instead of just using whatever gear is on hand. Big deal, yeah? Well, when you have level 6 Handiness, you can upgrade this extinguisher. Click on your Sim and choose the Upgrade Extinguisher interaction. When the upgrade is complete, you can put out fires faster with your extinguisher. This definitely helps with emergency scoring.

When you use an upgraded extinguisher, the foam is a new color: orange.

Emergencies

Five types of emergencies can occur in your town. When you first begin the Firefighter career, you only have to tackle small house fires. However, as you get promotions and are on the job longer, you must deal with more dangerous situations, such as house fires that threaten lives and disasters at venues that require extended attention.

Small House Fire

Small house fires are the most basic emergency you must attend to on the job. When a small house fire breaks out, go to the site and put out the flames before too much damage is caused. The breadth of the fire is very limited and the owners of the lot have already cleared out, so the fire poses no danger to them, only their property.

Emergencies

Just because a small house fire doesn't look like a big deal, don't hesitate to get the job done. The longer the fire lasts, the bigger it gets (within reason) and the lower your emergency score.

TIP

It never hurts to help clean up after a fire. The owners of the lot are already grateful to you and if you assist in the clean up, you have a better chance of establishing a good relationship.

Large House Fire/Earthquake

Large house fires and earthquakes are much more dangerous because they pose direct threats to life. These raging fires must be put out as soon as possible to prevent injury, although there is a good chance that your Sim will be required to rescue people on the lot before putting the entire fire out. If Sims are trapped in the house, they are noted in the Current Job box.

When you report to a large house fire, you pull out a hose to deal with the flames on the house exterior before you can enter and help out civilians.

Sometimes, to get at a Sim inside a burning house, you must break down a door. Doors that you can break down have axe symbols over them. If you have put out all of the window fires, you can then choose the Break Down Door interaction. Your Sim pulls out an axe and starts chopping. Higher Athletic skill means faster door chopping (and that's why you pump iron on your time off). After several swings, the Sim attempts to kick in the door. If that fails, your Sim must go back to chopping before trying again, which eats up valuable time.

TIP

You develop the Athletic skill while breaking down doors.

Sims who are not Firefighters tend to panic around flames. And by panic, we mean they stand there with their feet bolted to the floor while the entire house burns down around them. To get these Sims out of the house before they are killed, you must enter the same room as them and use the Convince to Run interaction. Your Firefighter gets in their face and makes big motions to start running. After a few moments, the panicked Sim obeys and flees the burning building.

If a child is stuck in the inferno, you Sim must click on the child and use the Carry Out interaction. Your Firefighter sweeps the kid up and carries her through the burning house, setting her down safely outside to the great relief of the rest of the household. Once all Sims inside have been rescued, you can go back to putting out the rest of the fire and ending the emergency, hopefully with a good score.

TIP

Sims can actually steal items during a house fire. Kinda mean.

Gnome Invasion

Gnome Invasions are non-fire emergencies that take place on residential or community lots. Instead of responding to a blaze, your Firefighter arrives to find the family under attack by several angry magical gnomes. The number of angry gnomes is noted in the Current Job box. To end this emergency, click on each gnome and grab it before it can move to another part of the house. These gnomes do not stay still for very long before disappearing and reappearing elsewhere on the lot, so hurry.

TIP

Do not walk right in front of a gnome or it will vanish. Try to sneak up on these little fellows.

Building Disaster

Disaster sometimes strikes at the venues that your Sim disappears into, like the bistro or the theater. When these building disasters hit, you see them on map view as fire icons on top of venue locations. Click on the Deal with Emergency interaction to rush to the venue and see what's happening. Building disasters are not interactive like house fires. Instead, your Sim bravely pushes through the gathered crowd to enter the venue. They remain inside for several hours, emerging only when the job is complete.

There are three special variations on the building disaster—these are epic disasters at the science facility, hospital, and warehouse. They only occur at these venues. Your Sim attacks these emergencies just like a regular building disaster, but they last much longer and result in a special medal from City Hall. These are the three epic disasters:

- ◆ Science facility: When strange, colorful explosions erupt from the science facility, you know something's gone wrong. Rush to the scene to help deal with an experiment gone awry.
- ◆ Hospital: An x-ray machine malfunction has turned several technicians into electricity-drawing mutants. Get to the hospital and quell these lightning rods before the whole place gets burned to the ground.
- ◆ Warehouse: The big boss of the local crime facility thought a weather machine would help achieve world domination. Nope. All it ended up doing was pulling every rain cloud into the warehouse and flooding the joint.

Investigator

When the law is too slow to respond and has deemed a wrong too small for its attention, Sims can turn to their local gumshoe for results. The Investigator is a private eye for hire, willing to spend long hours chasing down leads, interviewing potential suspects, snooping for clues, and hopefully solving the case—for a fee, of course. Cases in this profession range from recovering lost objects to locating missing Sims. Things can get pretty dangerous for an Investigator, so be ready for anything. The accused don't necessarily like being under your magnifying glass.

Work Location: Various locations

How Hired: Report to police station, answer computer ad, answer newspaper ad

Work Week: The Investigator works Monday through Friday shifts, dedicating long hours to completing cases.

Salary Progression: The Investigator gets a decent weekly stipend that can be augmented by performing low level police work down at the police station.

Responsibilities:

- 🔍 Solve cases
- 🔍 Go on stakeouts
- 🔍 Improve Logic skill

Career Progression

Once you accept the Investigator profession, get ready for a life of adventure. Investigators have very active work days where they methodically follow clues in different cases, hoping to reach the conclusion as fast as they can to get a good payday and raise their reputation as a gumshoe. After all, the more you advance this career, the better—and more complex—cases you receive. Cases sometimes begin with a phone call, but you should also check down at the police station for a lead on a new job, Snoop for Clues at a community lot to discover a case, or check a computer for neighbors that require your services. A Sim explains the problem. This Sim may be telling you the whole story, may be cleverly omitting some facts, or may even be outright lying. But it's your job to follow the first step of the case and take it all the way through to its logical conclusion.

Answer the phone and see who needs your help today!

When you begin a case, the first step in it appears above your moodlet box in the Adventure/Opportunity Tracker. If this is an activity you can do right away or without any sort of impediment (more on this in a moment), simply click on it and go straight to that step. For example, if you need to interview a Sim, clicking on that step automatically drives you straight to that person and starts the conversation. After a few moments, a blue box appears that explains the result of taking that step and what the next action is in the evolving case.

While interviewing Sims in early cases, you can usually get the information you need right away. However, as you gain experience and start getting more complex cases, you must socialize with Sims to get them to trust you before pressing them for the information you need. You can sometimes shortcut this by bribing the Sims with the Bribe for Clues interaction (and paying out a small number of Simoleons). In extreme situations, you actually beat up the target Sim for information, but this causes a massive relationship loss.

TIP

An action related to the case appears in gold in the interaction menu when you click on a Sim, location, or object.

When you follow a case through all of its steps, you return to the original party to receive your reward. The case is closed. Maybe City Hall will call with a reward. Or maybe this case is only the first part in a larger scenario, built of multiple cases? After all, when you start picking at the scab on the underworld of your neighborhood, you never know what you might reveal.

Tools of the Trade

Cases

Not every action in a case can be performed just by clicking on it. For example, at level 4 of this career, you receive a kit that lets you dust for fingerprints. You may need to dust for fingerprints inside a house that's locked. You must go to that house and then break in by picking the lock on one of the doors. This is dangerous if the owner spots you breaking into the house. Most owners will yell at you, which leads to a serious relationship hit. But if you happen to get caught breaking into a house (or performing any activity inside) by an Evil or Mean Sim, you may have to fight!

TIP

Though the Logic skill is one of the responsibilities of this career, working on your Athletic skill a little won't hurt. Losing fights kills time and slaps your Sim with negative moodlets.

Work on Logic in your off hours. The more developed this skill is, the faster some interactions go and the more XP you earn.

Your cases require you to do many different things to find the culprit or lost object. We go over all of these activities in the Tools of the Trade section. But not all of these activities are available at first. Some must be opened, such as Snoop for Clues, which is not available until level 2 of the career when you earn your magnifying glass. Getting that magnifying glass actually helps you in your cases. When there is something on a lot that you should check out as part of the case, a magnifying glass hovers over it. Use this helpful tip to keep the case on track.

At level 8 of the career, you get a cool black sedan!

Extra Activity: Stakeout/Stakeout Report

Of course, the life of an Investigator would be easier if no crime or wrongdoing was committed around town. Stakeouts are preventive measures against crime. When you click on a community lot, such as a park or the graveyard, you can choose the Investigator-only Stakeout interaction. This sends your Sim to the outskirts of that lot to hide and monitor the area for any unsavory activity. While on a stakeout, other Sims cannot see the Investigator. (Of course, their stakeout routine of hiding behind bushes they hold up isn't really fooling anybody on this side of the screen.) After the Investigator spends a few hours staking out the lot, one of a few things may happen:

- ♦ Absolutely nothing. Your Sim determines there is no crime around here. At least, not right now.
- ♦ Investigator does not observe any active crimes, but as a result of the stakeout, may have discovered a clue for a case or prevented crime from occurring. The value of performing stakeouts increases.

- The Investigator spies some suspicious activity between two Sims. The Investigator then needs to file a report with local law enforcement.

An Investigator who spots any suspicious activity must go to a computer and write it up. This is just like writing an article in the Journalism career. After a certain time, the Sim finishes the report and sends it off to the police. When the police receive it, they reward the Investigator with some Simoleons for helping keep the peace in town.

CAUTION

Be warned: Stakeouts are stressful activities. Your Sim may need to do something fun after a stakeout to recuperate.

Extra Activity: Low Level Police Work

When not on a case, Investigators can make a little extra cash by heading down to the local police station and choosing the Do Low Level Police Work interaction on the venue. Your Sim disappears inside the police station for several hours, which is similar to an actual shift in one of the original careers. After the shift has ended, your Sim gets a nice little payday for helping out.

Tools of the Trade

While on cases, Investigators must do more than just interview neighbors and potential wrongdoers related to the assignment. They must perform a number of activities, often detailed in each specific step of the case. (All cases—and steps—are detailed at the end of this section.)

Breaking In

When you must get inside a suspect's house to look for clues, you must take a risk by breaking into the house (unless you've been invited inside or you are a friend with house privileges). To perform this act, click on a door and choose it. Your Sim bends down and works the lock with some picks. After a few moments, the lock pops and your Sim can enter the house. If any Sims are home, you can get bounced from the premises and leave with seriously hit LTRs. It is better to wait for the residents to go to work, leave for errands, or whatever.

Rummaging in the Trash

Sometimes, suspects are careless enough to toss evidence in the trash right outside their homes or in public places. When a case step tells you to search the trash, go to the designated lot and click on the trash can. Your Sim creeps up to it, looks around, and then dives right in. After a few moments, your Sim comes up with a clue and the case continues.

Cases

CAUTION

Rummaging through the trash may reveal clues, but your Hygiene can take a big hit unless you are a Slob, and then it doesn't really matter much.

If the lot owner catches you looking through the trash, you get kicked off the property and must start over later. An Evil or Mean Sim may even fight you over this invasion of privacy.

Inspect Mail

Sometimes, you need to rifle through a suspect's mail to gather information. This is like rummaging through the trash. When you click on the mailbox designated by a case step, your Sim slides up to it and starts flipping through envelopes. Like breaking in or rummaging through trash, you can get caught doing this and then be ejected—or worse.

NOTE

After successfully rummaging through the mail or trash of another Sim, you may receive notice that you found some seedy information. You may now actually blackmail that Sim for money. For a short period of time following the acquisition of blackmail material, the Blackmail social is available on the target. If you do blackmail them for money, your LTR takes a big hit. If you don't blackmail them, your LTR takes a smaller hit. Sims with the Good trait cannot blackmail.

Hack Computer

When a suspect might have evidence on a computer network, you must hack into it. Click on any computer and choose the Hack interaction to do some data-diving. After a few moments, you find what you are looking for.

TIP

Use the free computer at the town library or reading room to perform the hacking step of cases that require it.

NOTE

You may also try out the new Hack Information Database version of hacking, which will sometimes pay out in Simoleons. Sims with the Good trait cannot perform this kind of hack.

TIP

Computer Whiz Sims get a Fun bonus out of this activity.

Snoop for Clues

On the second level of this career, your Sim receives a magnifying glass. Now your Sim can Snoop for Clues on lots. Whether just looking around a community lot in hopes of starting a case or peeking around a lot designated by the current step in an active case, your Sim tiptoes about while peering through the glass. After a few moments, the Investigator will either find the necessary evidence (during an active case or starting a new one) or come up dry.

TIP

Snooping for Clues slowly builds the Logic skill, but also stresses your Sim out a little because this is so important to solving cases.

Investigations

During some cases, you may be directed to a venue in town where your Sim disappears for several hours while seeking information or clues. This interaction plays out just as if you were eating out or going to a movie. You cannot control your Sim inside the venue. When your Sim emerges, though, the case moves on to the next step.

NOTE

Like investigating a venue, Sims are sometimes requested to make phone calls to friends at intelligence agencies. These take less time, but advance the case.

Dust for Prints

When you reach level 4 and receive the fingerprint kit, you can start dusting for prints at locations such as houses or community lots. You cannot dust anything and everything, though. Use the magnifying glass icon to spot objects that should be dusted in hopes of finding usable prints. After a few moments of dusting the object with some powder and brushing it around (and sneezing), the Investigator either finds fingerprints or is told to dust a different object on the lot. Once usable prints have been found, they must be verified at the police station (via an interaction with the station or by clicking the new step on the tracker). Then the case advances to the next step.

NOTE

After snooping for clues or dusting for prints, use the Take for Evidence interaction to swipe things from other Sims.

TIP

Dusting for Prints slowly develops the Logic skill. The higher the Logic skill, the faster the Investigator dusts. This is helpful for not getting caught!

Cases

When you first start out on this career, your cases are pretty easy—just two or three steps with few dangerous activities. However, as you gain promotions and work your way up the career, the cases become much more involved and require many steps to complete. The amount of breaking into homes increases. The chances of getting caught looking through the mail skyrockets. It's just a more dangerous racket when you are getting to the top of your game. Cases include missing Sims or objects, unfaithful lovers, and mysteries. All cases are detailed below, including the necessary steps.

However, you may notice that we do not give names in these steps. That's because no two Investigators will deal with the exact same people in a case. A private eye in Sunset Valley is not going to talk to the same Sims as one in Twinbrook, for example. This maintains a degree of randomness.

INVESTIGATOR CASES

THE CASE OF THE ONE BAD APPLE

| Step | Description | Hint |
|--------|--|--|
| Step 1 | The owner of the local supermarket's got a big problem that he needs my help with. Somebody is stealing boxes of fresh fruit every morning. Shame—I like apples. I should interview the owner at the supermarket to start my investigation. | "Interview Owner" at the local supermarket |
| Step 2 | The owner is never at the store in the mornings, so he's absolutely befuddled as to who could be the culprit. The morning clerk, Sim X, may have the answers I need. The two of us should chat. | "Interview" Sim X |
| Step 3 | Sim X is pretty sure the culprit was wearing a uniform commonly worn by thugs of the local crime syndicate. Sim X is known to be involved with the syndicate. I should question Sim X, or get ready to dole out a bribe to get the answers I need. | "Question" Sim X |

|--------|---|--|
| Step 4 | You know things are bad when criminals are being had by other criminals. According to this crook there was a hit supposed to go down on the box of fruits...but somebody else got there first. This one's got nothing to offer me, so I should ask around town for information. | "Gather Information" from X Sims |
| Step 5 | It appears nobody minds the tragic lack of fruit at the supermarket, mostly due to a new presence on the local fruit scene. Why is it that Sim X has such good prices? I've got questions for this purveyor of apples. | "Question" Sim X |
| Step 6 | Sim X admits to buying fruit off the local black market, but refuses to admit to theft. Sim X pointed a big hairy finger at the clerk, Sim X. An inside job! I should search through Sim X's trash to find evidence of this transaction before I close this case. | Search Sim X's garbage can for clues |
| Step 7 | Jackpot! I found the remnants of a tattered fruit box stolen from the supermarket, as well as the deposit slip for a fat check that far exceeds Sim X's salary. I should report my findings to the owner of the supermarket. | "Report Findings" to local supermarket |

THE BAD CALL

| Step | Description | Hint |
|--------|--|--|
| Step 1 | Local athlete Sim X is bitter about a call during a recent game. Sim X wants to hire me to right this wrong. I should check in with the client to see how I can help. | "Interview" Sim X |
| Step 2 | Sim X thinks the foul call during the last game was entirely bogus. Sim X claims the call was more bogus than a unicorn, but nobody will investigate the call. I should start by watching the instant replay at the stadium. | "Watch Instant Replay" at the stadium |
| Step 3 | I'm no sports expert, but that call was awful. I haven't seen a call that bad since that fisherman called that killer shark nothing but a minnow. That was brutal. I should ask around to find out who the ref was. | "Ask About Referee" to X Sims |
| Step 4 | It seems nobody cares much for the referee, who I now know to be Sim X. I should head to Sim X's home and dig through the garbage a bit to see what sort of trash this character is throwing away. It may hold a clue. | "Search Through Garbage" at Sim X's home |
| Step 5 | I found a rather cryptic note crumpled up in the trash. It said something about a meet up at the park...soon. I better get there quickly and conduct a stakeout! | "Conduct Stakeout" at park |
| Step 6 | I saw the referee chatting with the owner of the rival sports team. That's foul play if I've ever seen it! I should confront Sim X to point out the bad play that's going down. This needs to stop. | "Confront" Sim X |
| Step 7 | Sim X crumbled like a week-old coffee cake that's been stuck under the seat at the stadium. He/she admitted to accepting a bribe in exchange for the bad call. I expect a resignation in the future, which should mean better games for Sim X. Speaking of which, I should tell Sim X the good news. | "Report Findings" to Sim X |

BALLOT BUFOONERY

| Step | Description | Hint |
|--------|--|----------------------------------|
| Step 1 | Sim X thinks there was a bit of fraud during the last election...just enough to keep Sim X from winning the election. My first stop on this case should be Sim X to ask questions. | "Interview" Sim X |
| Step 2 | Sim X lost in a record landslide vote, which makes me think Sim X is just a sore loser. But, I'm being paid to check for fraud. I should ask around town to see what the locals thought about the election. | "Ask About Election" to X Sims |
| Step 3 | It seems like everyone in town absolutely loved Sim X as a candidate. Something seems fishy here, especially with the landslide vote. It should have at least been close. I should check the voter rolls at City Hall. | "Check Voter Rolls" at City Hall |
| Step 4 | Odd...I don't recognize most of the names on this list. Of course, all of these mystery names voted for Sim X's opponent...the victor. I have seen one of these names before—in an obituary. I should snoop for clues at the graveyard. | "Snoop for Clues" at graveyard |
| Step 5 | Half the voters on the rolls are located in the cemetery. Last time I checked, the dead don't get a say in elections. Unless the local government has approved a law for absentee death voting. I think I've solved this case. I should report to Sim X. | "Report Findings" to Sim X |

CASE OF THE CULINARY BACKSTAB

| Step | Description | Hint |
|--------|--|--|
| Step 1 | This should be an interesting case. My client, Sim X, wants me to help blackmail the boss at the bistro in hopes of getting a promotion. It's a bit shady, but it pays the bills. I need to find out from Sim X what information is desired. | "Ask About Desired Information" to Sim X |
| Step 2 | Sim X doesn't have any specific dirt, which means I need to gather some. The bistro is popular, which means everyone has been there. I should ask around town to find out what people know about the restaurant and the boss. | "Ask About Bistro" to X Sims |
| Step 3 | It seems like more than a few people have negative things to say about the health record of the bistro. I don't like being a guinea pig, but I think I need to sample the food myself. | Eat at the bistro |

|--------|--|---------------------------------------|
| Step 4 | Holy smokes! The food was good going down, but I'm not so sure it's going to be as pleasant on the way out. At first this was business, but now that I have food poisoning, it's personal! I need to speak to Sim X, a local farmer. | "Ask to Search for Evidence" to Sim X |
| Step 5 | Sim X is a good sort. I've been given permission to snoop for clues on the premises to see if there are any traces of chemicals or foul play. Oh, if my stomach wasn't doing flips this would be easier! | "Snoop for Clues" at Sim X's home |
| Step 6 | All of the plants are perfect as morning rain. There's nothing odd afoot. The food at the bistro is clearly tainted, but the supplier isn't. What if Sim X isn't being honest about this business? I should dust for incriminating prints at Sim X's home. | "Dust for Prints" at Sim X's home |
| Step 7 | Sim X is furious to hear about the double-cross and how my client treated the bistro's customers, including me, with food poisoning. Sim X guarantees that vengeance will be had and all will be set straight. In the meantime, Sim X made caloric filled amends with a delicious plate of chow. Case closed, if you ask me. | "Warn!" Sim X |

THE CASE OF A LITTLE DIRT

| Step | Description | Hint |
|--------|---|---|
| Step 1 | Sim X wants me to obtain some dirt on someone. I should check with him/her to learn more about the case. | "Report In" to Sim X |
| Step 2 | Sim X is convinced Sim X is trying to hack into the public library's database. As a stalwart defender of public libraries, Sim X wants you to gather evidence by inspecting the mail and searching the trash at Sim X's home. | "Inspect Mail" and "Search through Garbage" at Sim X's home |
| Step 3 | Sim X was quite pleased when I presented the evidence of Sim X's crime. Case closed, assuming Sim X knows what to do with the evidence. | "Report In" to Sim X |

SCROUNGING FOR BLACKMAIL

| Step | Description | Hint |
|--------|--|---|
| Step 1 | Sim X needs to blackmail a local. I'm not sure why, but the client doesn't always explain these things. I should check with Sim X to learn more about the case. | "Report In" to Sim X |
| Step 2 | Sim X just wants some dirt on Sim X, but won't explain why. This job will make me feel dirtier than a week old sponge, but that's the job some days. I should inspect the mail and search through the garbage at Sim X's home. | "Inspect Mail" and "Search through Garbage" at Sim X's home |
| Step 3 | I didn't find anything incriminating in Sim X's mailbox or garbage. Squeaky clean if you ask me. I'll just have to report back to Sim X and explain that if it's blackmail that's desired, it won't be found here. | "Report In" to Sim X |

DIGGING FOR DIRT

| Step | Description | Hint |
|--------|---|---|
| Step 1 | Sim X wants me to dig up some low level dirt on someone. Before I get too deep into the case I should check with Sim X for details that we cannot discuss over the phone. | "Report In" to Sim X |
| Step 2 | Sim X is convinced Sim X works for a small criminal organization in town. Evidence is required before Sim X can conduct a citizen's arrest. I should inspect the mail and search through the garbage at Sim X's home. | "Inspect Mail" and "Search through Garbage" at Sim X's home |
| Step 3 | Ah ha! Based on the notes in this discarded diary, Sim X is an aspiring crony in the local crime syndicate. Sim X is quite the observant local snoop...and probably a creepy neighbor. I should report back to Sim X with this information. | "Report In" to Sim X |

CASE OF THE FISHERMAN'S L. 105

| Step | Description | Hint |
|--------|---|---------------------------------------|
| Step 1 | The Fishermen's Union, Local 105, is worried about somebody or something catching all of their fish. I should check in with Sim X, the head of the union. | "Report In" to Sim X |
| Step 2 | Sim X is convinced the fish aren't biting like they used to. There just aren't as many of them in the ocean. I think I should fish for a bit around town, maybe just a few hours, to see if I can figure out what Sim X is talking about. | Fish for X hours |
| Step 3 | Sim X wasn't lying! The fish seem awfully shy for this time of year. Something is afoot and I intend to find out why. I should conduct a stakeout at the beach. | "Conduct Stakeout" at the local beach |
| Step 4 | My stakeout at the beach didn't reveal anything shadier than a palm frond resting lazily over a hammock. Perhaps I may find something a bit more skeezy if I conduct a stakeout at a remote fishing pond? | "Conduct Stakeout" at fishing pond |

|--------|---|---|
| Step 5 | Again, nothing too suspicious. Nothing is happening at the fishing spots, which is odd, as that is where the crime is occurring. I overheard a fisherman claim the diner has a great fish sandwich. It's a bit of a stretch, but perhaps a stakeout there will render the results I need. | "Conduct Stakeout" outside local diner |
| Step 6 | Finally! I was worried I lost my ability to encounter shady individuals on a consistent basis. I saw two Sims exchanging information—one of whom was Sim X, a local journalist. I should confront the journalist to find out what Sim X can tell me. | "Confront About Suspicious Activity" to Sim X |
| Step 7 | Sim X won't say anything. Figures. Guilty folks never speak up. I should do a little questioning with the locals to find out what I can about Sim X. | "Ask About Sim X" to X Sims |
| Step 8 | According to the locals, Sim X clearly has an obsession with sharks and hasn't been doing well at work. That's a recipe for...well, something. I should confront Sim X about this odd behavior. | "Discuss Shark Costume" to Sim X |
| Step 9 | Sim X folded like a flan in a cupboard. Sim X has been dressing up like a shark to scare the fish away. This was done in the hopes of writing a front page news story about rampant sharks off the coast. Bizarre! Sim X agrees to discontinue the "sharking" as long as I keep quiet. I will. Nobody would believe me. | "Report In" to Sim X |

SOMEONE'S FISHY

| Step | Description | Hint |
|---------|--|--|
| Step 1 | Sim X is having an issue with some missing apples. Seems pretty ordinary, but knowing this town, it's anything but. Better go see what's up. | "Interview" Sim X |
| Step 2 | Seems Sim X had saved a bunch of fresh apples to use as bait on a fishing trip. Problem is, the fruit seems to have made itself scarce. Unless those apples grew legs, I'm thinking someone took them. I better dust for prints and see what I can find. | "Dust for Prints" at Sim X's home |
| Step 3 | Now this just keeps getting weirder. I found some...fin marks...leading to the trash can outside. Better do some rummaging. | Search Sim X's garbage can for clues |
| Step 4 | Here's something...I found a bunch of apple cores in Sim X's garbage can. They have some strange bite marks on them...nothing I've ever seen. I should bring a sample to the science lab. Maybe they can make sense of this. | "Analyze DNA" at local science facility |
| Step 5 | The DNA on the apples was tested. The results...bizarre to say the least. Only 72% of the DNA was human. Stranger still was the creepy lab tech who was spying on me at the lab. I better ask around town to see if anyone knows who this scientist is. | "Ask About Technician" to X Sims |
| Step 6 | Seems someone saw the lab tech sneaking around Sim X's house at night. Might have even snatched his lawn gnome. Sounds like a shady character in general. Maybe I can catch him there again. | "Conduct Stakeout" at Sim X's home lot |
| Step 7 | This one's sneaky. I caught a glimpse of him and heard the trash can rattle but couldn't catch 'em in the act. I should see if there's anything in the garbage. | Search Sim X's garbage can for clues |
| Step 8 | Well, I found the missing gnome, and it was hot to the touch. Seems our friend not only stole the gnome, but did some experimenting on it. The tech wasn't too careful though and I got some prints off of it. Better take these to the police station to get analyzed. | "Analyze Prints" at the local police station |
| Step 9 | Got a name. Sim X. Turns out Sim X has been working at the science lab for a while now. I should go snoop for clues around Sim X's house. | "Snoop for Clues" at Sim X's home lot |
| Step 10 | Well, looky here. Sim X's journal. Must've dropped it on the way to work. This is the break I need. I should head home and read through this journal. | Read Sim X's journal |
| Step 11 | This is unbelievable. The lab technician had been doing research on goldfish... trying to turn them into real gold. Then, on "Take Your Child To Work Day," their kid ran in front of the FishAlchemy ray to try to save the goldfish. Poor kid...the ray transformed him into something...inhuman. He disappeared one day leaving only a pile of apple cores on the kitchen table...Wait...what's this? Says the kid became obsessed with water. Maybe I should check out the pool. | "Snoop for Clues" at the pool |
| Step 12 | Looks like I'm too late. Found a note...says "Fish Kid was here." Probably escaped into the water drainage system. Maybe one day I'll catch the kid but today is not that day. I better get back to Sim X to explain what I found. | "Report Findings" to Sim X |

CASE OF THE ENTHUSIASTIC FANS

| Step | Description | Hint |
|--------|---|-------------------------------------|
| Step 1 | Sim X is a local musician with fan troubles. Apparently there are stalkers about that are interested in more than treble clefs. Ha! I should check in with Sim X to find out how I can help. | "Report In" to Sim X |
| Step 2 | Sim X is convinced there are stalkers everywhere. I look over my shoulder and don't see anything, but hey, musicians can be dramatic at times. I should conduct a stakeout at the local theater to see if any unwanted groupies gather. | "Conduct Stakeout" at local theater |

|--------|--|---|
| Step 3 | There's nothing going on around the theater—perhaps I'm not being subtle enough? I bet these stalkers were clumsy enough to leave behind evidence at the park, which is the site of Sim X's last show. I should snoop for clues in the park. | "Snoop for Clues" at main park |
| Step 4 | Ick! Disgusting! I found a guitar pick that's covered in Sim saliva. Stobbering on musical gear seems like something a stalker would do. I should analyze the saliva at the police station to see if it matches any known criminals. | "Analyze Saliva" at police station |
| Step 5 | The saliva doesn't match any of the records on file, which means our stalker isn't a criminal. At least, not a criminal that has been caught. I should retrace my steps, because maybe I'll find a matching sample along the way. I should start by searching through the trash at Sim X's home. | Search Sim X's garbage can for clues |
| Step 6 | I found a piece of food. It's quite icky and nasty, but it may have the saliva I'm looking for. I should analyze this food at the police station. | "Analyze Saliva" at police station |
| Step 7 | Strangely enough, the saliva on the food matches the saliva on the pick. Even stranger, the saliva comes from none other than Sim X! Could Sim X be...self-stalking? I should hack Sim X's website to see if I can find some clues. | Use a computer to "Hack" Sim X's computer |
| Step 8 | There are a ton of posts from rabid fans, but each post and each user ID is tied to the same IP address—Sim X's. I think Sim X may be a slight lunatic, or perhaps there are split personalities at play here. I should discuss this with Sim X, a local doctor. | "Discuss Split Personalities" with Sim X |
| Step 9 | Sim X claims Sim X is a textbook case of split personalities. Poor Sim X is having to write music and contend with more than one mind. I should report in and explain the situation to Sim X. | "Report In" to Sim X |

THE CASE OF GNOME FOOTSY

| Step | Description | Hint |
|--------|--|---|
| Step 1 | It's often said that you shouldn't keep a garden gnome if you have soft-toed shoes. The things are so kickable. Unfortunately, Sim X wants me to track down who is kicking a gnome. Sim X's gnome. I should ask Sim X who would do such a thing. | "Ask About Potential Suspects" to Sim X |
| Step 2 | Sim X is fairly convinced the next door neighbor, Sim X, is guilty of the gnome kicking. I should rummage through Sim X's garbage to see if I can find any evidence of wrongdoing. Maybe then Sim X can bring the gnome out of hiding. | Search Sim X's garbage can for clues |
| Step 3 | Why would Sim X own shoes with toes so mangled, presumably from kicking a gnome, that they needed to be thrown away? Very peculiar. I should speak to Sim X about the shoes. | "Ask About Shoes" to Sim X |
| Step 4 | Sim X confessed to kicking the gnome and to having pronounced anger management issues. Sim X agreed to stop kicking the gnome and to seek counseling. I should tell Sim X the good news. | "Report In" to Sim X |

CASE OF THE FOOTSORE FLOATER

| Step | Description | Hint |
|--------|--|---|
| Step 1 | I just got a call from Sim X. It seems every night someone or something is bruising Sim X's poor toes. It seems my cases get weirder every day. I should speak to Sim X about who might be doing this wham-bang toe job. | "Ask About Potential Suspects" to Sim X |
| Step 2 | Sim X has long had qualms with a certain next door neighbor. Seems preposterous that the neighbor, Sim X, would go on a nightly toe smashing rampage, but who knows? I should speak to Sim X about this accusation. | "Discuss Accusation" with Sim X |
| Step 3 | The neighbor began cackling like a hyena who has had too much laughing gas at the dentist. It appears the real suspect is Sim X. Every night Sim X sleepwalks and kicks a garden gnome. I should research sleepwalking a little bit at the local hospital to see if the facts line up. | "Research Sleepwalking" at local hospital |
| Step 4 | According to the docs the sleepwalking theory makes a lot of sense. It seems Sim X has consulted with the hospital before for sleepwalking. I should tell Sim X that I solved the case. | "Report In" to Sim X |

CASE OF THE HACKER ELITE

| Step | Description | Hint |
|--------|---|--|
| Step 1 | Sim X wants to hire me to do some cyber warfare. Ideally this will be a big case involving data theft and piracy, though I'm sure it's just a forum quibble I need to settle. I should interview Sim X for the details. | "Interview" Sim X |
| Step 2 | Some days I hate my job. Sim X is worried that Sim X has been saying mean things about him/her on a forum both of them frequent. It's my job to hack into Sim X's computer to set things straight. Ugh. | Use a computer to "Hack" into Sim X's Computer |
| Step 3 | I'm not proud of myself, but I went online and called Sim X a "noopen poopen," which is apparently something really mean in some online circles. I should tell Sim X the job is done. | "Report In" to Sim X |

CASE OF THE HACKED OFF CLIENT

| Step | Description | Hint |
|------|-------------|------|
|------|-------------|------|

| Step 1 | My client, Sim X, has heard through the grapevine that I'm a certified cyber-wiz. This may or may not be true, but I won't dissuade any clients from that "somewhat truth." I should interview Sim X about the job. | "Interview" Sim X |
|-------------------------------------|--|---|
| Step 2 | Sim X wants me to hack into the local business bureau's database to clear up a slight "credit mistransaction." Ethics aren't my department—I'll do the hacking and Sim X will need to sleep at night. | Use a computer to "Hack" into creditor's computer |
| Step 3 | I was able to hack into the creditor's database and swap a few 1s with a few 0s. Nothing I did was too illegal, but my tracks are clear. They are always clear. I should report back to Sim X. | "Report In" to Sim X |
| HACKED | | |
| Step | Description | Hint |
| Step 1 | Sim X is furious about a double cross that cannot be discussed over the phone. My services are needed, so I should interview Sim X for the details so that I can get to work. | "Interview" Sim X |
| Step 2 | Sim X hacked into Sim X's personal computer, stole some files, and used them to earn an ill-gotten promotion from work. Sim X wants me to obtain evidence so that all wrongs can be righted. I should hack into Sim X's computer. | Use a computer to "Hack" into Sim X's Computer |
| Step 3 | Sim X has the setup of a novice hacker. Nothing but a crummy firewall and sloppy password protector barred my way. I took the files, left a few surprises, and got out. I should report back to Sim X with the news. | "Report In" to Sim X |
| CASE OF THE MISSING BILLFOLD | | |
| Step | Description | Hint |
| Step 1 | Why is it that people are always losing their wallets? I cannot imagine a more important piece of leather. Sim X wants to hire me to recover a lost wallet. I should interview Sim X for details about the case. | "Interview" Sim X |
| Step 2 | I asked Sim X to mentally re-trace any footsteps taken over the last few hours. It appears Sim X made a brief stop at beach, which means my first stop will be to snoop for clues there. | "Snoop for Clues" at the Beach |
| Step 3 | I managed to recover Sim X's driver's license, but no sign of the meatier prize—the wallet. I should question some locals to see if they've seen the wayward wallet. | "Ask About Wallet" to X Sims |
| Step 4 | Sim X claims to know something about the wallet, but won't reveal any information. I've seen this before. I'll either need to befriend Sim X and be convincing enough...or use a bribe. | "Convince" Sim X to give up wallet |
| Step 5 | I was able to convince Sim X to hand over the wallet. Sim X claimed to have found it on the ground. As usual, I heard the defense "I was going to return it!" Right. I should return the wallet to Sim X. | "Return Wallet" to Sim X |
| MYSTERY OF THE STOLEN CARD | | |
| Step | Description | Hint |
| Step 1 | People are too tied to credit cards these days. I try not to use them, personally, but my client, Sim X, just lost a wallet full of them. I should interview Sim X to get the facts on this case. | "Interview" Sim X |
| Step 2 | Sim X has been on a spending spree lately, so the cards could be anywhere. Fortunately, Sim X seems to think the cards were last used at the gym. I should snoop for clues there first. | "Snoop for Clues" at the gym |
| Step 3 | I found a few of the cards, but not all of them. The case must go on. Sim X seems like a pretty big shopper—I imagine some of the locals have witnessed these cards in action. I should ask X locals about the cards. | "Ask About Cards" to X Sims |
| Step 4 | Sim X is the sly, shady sort. I'm bothered by jokers stealing other folks' credit cards. I either need to get close to Sim X and be convincing enough to get the cards, or just settle for a bribe. | "Convince" Sim X to give up cards |
| Step 5 | Sim X seems like a con-artist, but I'm not being paid to investigate Sim X's dealings. Maybe in the future. For now, I need to return the credit cards to Sim X. | "Return Cards" to Sim X |
| CASE OF THE UNSURE HEART | | |
| Step | Description | Hint |
| Step 1 | My new client, Sim X, wants to propose to his girlfriend. Unfortunately, the poor chap isn't sure if she actually loves him. This is where I come in. I need to go on a fact finding mission for a fluttering heart. I should check in with Sim X first. | "Report In" to Sim X |
| Step 2 | Sim X really has it bad for this girl. I hope she's worth it. He suggested I speak to a few family members to see what they think of the current relationship. That seems like a good start. | "Ask About Relationship" to X family members |

|--------|--|---|
| Step 3 | Sim X's family members don't see this relationship as a very strong one. They aren't keen on it at all. Strike one. I'm going to hack into the girlfriend's computer to see what she has to say about the subject. | Use a computer to "Hack" into girlfriend's computer |
| Step 4 | This is heart breaking. Thankfully, it's not my heart to break. Sim X's gal doesn't even mention him—no pictures, no emails, no blog posts...it's as if she doesn't care. I should break the news to him so that he doesn't propose like a fool. | "Report In" to Sim X |

CASE OF THE SNAIL MAIL JAM

| Step | Description | Hint |
|--------|--|-------------------------------------|
| Step 1 | Local political boss Sim X has a case for me, something about mail fraud. I should report in to Sim X to get the facts for the case. | "Report In" to Sim X |
| Step 2 | Sim X is worried about mail fraud, specifically, an excess of mailbox spam. Sim X wants me to bend the rules and go through a few mailboxes to find out who is spamming the citizenry. | "Inspect Mail" on X Sims' Mailboxes |
| Step 3 | All three mailboxes contained junk mail from the local bookstore. Used books? I don't think I care much for used books and apparently neither do the locals. I should report back to Sim X so that the bookstore can be told to stop spamming folks. | "Report In" to Sim X |

IN THE NAME OF LOVE

| Step | Description | Hint |
|--------|--|--------------------------------------|
| Step 1 | Sim X is on the hunt for a ring. She wants to be engaged badly and she wants me to find out if one is on the way. This dame seems a bit crazy, but psychology isn't my profession. Being an Investigator is. I should check in with her first. | "Report In" to Sim X |
| Step 2 | Sim X is definitely two nuts away from being a squirrel farm. Her boyfriend, Sim X, has no idea. I should search through his mail first to see if there's any evidence of a ring purchase. | "Inspect Mail" on Sim X's Mailbox |
| Step 3 | Sim X recently purchased a ring if this receipt here is telling the truth. If he's got the ring, I wonder why it hasn't been delivered yet? Maybe his trash can will tell the next chapter of this tale? | Search Sim X's garbage can for clues |
| Step 4 | Sim X recently purchased a bouquet of flowers, lovely arrangement, but threw them away. Cold feet? Too nervous to pop the question? Perhaps Sim X has realized how intense his girlfriend is. I should tell Sim X to back off a bit and ease up. | "Report In" to Sim X |

CASE OF THE PRICE GOUGED PRODUCE

| Step | Description | Hint |
|--------|--|---|
| Step 1 | Sim X believes that something shady is going on at the supermarket. I should go talk to Sim X and find out exactly what's going on. | "Interview" client |
| Step 2 | My client feels the supermarket is price gouging and wants me to find dirt on the business to use as leverage to get prices lowered. I should purchase X tomatoes and take them to the science lab to conduct a few experiments on them. | Purchase X tomatoes and "Conduct Experiments" at the local science facility |
| Step 3 | Fascinating. The egg heads at the science lab informed me that the tomatoes are most certainly modified, but they are not sure how. They think it's good, but they could not obtain conclusive evidence. I think I should go to the hospital and eat one of these tomatoes under the watchful eye of a surgeon. | "Eat Tomato" at local hospital |
| Step 4 | Holy smokes, I feel great! Whatever is in this tomato it's certainly not bad. I should visit a local doctor, Sim X, to discuss whatever it is these tomatoes may contain. Perhaps medicine can solve what science could not? | "Discuss Tomato Properties" with Sim X |
| Step 5 | Sim X is impressed, but being the skeptical type, concern was expressed as well. Doc Sim X claims that nothing works that well. Too bad I feel great, eh? I should snoop for clues at the local supermarket...see if something turns up. | "Snoop for Clues" at local supermarket |
| Step 6 | I found an odd chemical compound around the supermarket. If my school years serve me right, it's the compound HyroSimoxoNooper. Why would this be in a tomato of all things? I should hack the scientific database and do some research. | "Hack" scientific database on a computer |
| Step 7 | Oh, my stomach! HyroSimoxoNooper is a unique mutagen that provides immediate health benefits, but terrible long-term side effects. Oh, I don't even want to read the list. The supermarket is selling mutant produce! I need to go blow the whistle on this problem at the local supermarket before more locals grow ill. | "Blow Whistle" at local supermarket |
| Step 8 | The supermarket was aghast at what they were selling and the produce was immediately pulled off the shelves. They won't be stocking through that supplier any longer. I was told prices were raised because customers seemed so happy with the produce, but with the return of the old produce comes the return of old prices. I should tell Sim X about this development. | "Report In" to Sim X |

CASE OF THE CLOSED CHAPTER

| Step | Description | Hint |
|--------|--|---|
| Step 1 | A local writer, Sim X called with a literary quandry. A favorite book has been stolen and it's up to me to locate it. Sounds like a solid case. I should start by asking Sim X about potential suspects. | "Ask About Potential Suspects" to Sim X |
| Step 2 | Sim X is fairly choked up over the missing book—a bit too choked up if you ask me. It looks like I'll need to hit the streets a bit and ask around to see if anyone else has noticed the missing book. | "Ask About Missing Book" to X Sims |
| Step 3 | Locals had a few sightings of the book. The best tip I received was that it can be found in a place where people can read for free. I should snoop for clues there. | "Snoop for Clues" at a place where people can read for free |
| Step 4 | Just as I suspected! The book was found at the library. It seems this case is closed once I return the book to Sim X. | "Return Book" to Sim X |
| Step 5 | It appears this case is far from over. Sim X was delighted to have the book back and paid me for my services, but now he/she wants to know who stole the book. I found the book at the library, so maybe a stakeout will render a clue as to who took the book in the first place. | "Conduct Stakeout" at Library |
| Step 6 | Nobody turned up during the stakeout, which means I'm back at square one. Why not trapezoid one? Nevermind. I should ask the bookstore owner if he knows anything about local book thieves. | "Ask About Local Book Thieves" at local bookstore |
| Step 7 | The bookstore owner looked at me like an absolute loon. Apparently the notion of book thieves is too hilarious to be remotely plausible. I feel like I'm being had. I should confront Sim X about this supposed book theft. | "Confront" Sim X |

CASE OF THE WAYWARD JALOPY

| Step | Description | Hint |
|--------|--|--|
| Step 1 | Got a call about a missing car. Something about it being special too...a gift from their father. I figure I should ask the client about potential suspects. | "Ask About Potential Suspects" to Sim X |
| Step 2 | Apparently the client's father had ties with the local crime syndicate that are shadier than an apple orchard. I knew the next stop was to pay Sim X a visit to ask about the wayward auto. | "Discuss Missing Car" with Sim X |
| Step 3 | It turns out this fellow is slick. My questions bounced off like a smooth pebble hitting a glassy lake. I did find out something fishy was going down at the beach, and I don't mean the recent jellyfish haul. I figure it couldn't hurt to snoop around the beach for clues. | "Snoop for Clues" at the beach community lot |
| Step 4 | Tire marks have always been distinctive, especially when you've seen as many as I have. I'm willing to bet a buffalo nickel these match those of my client's missing car. It will only take a minute or so at the police station to confirm these prints against those in the database. | "Analyze Tire Marks" at the local police station |
| Step 5 | Sometimes I hate being proved right, though this isn't one of those times. The prints match, which means my client's car was at the beach. I think a stakeout at the beach would help the case and get me some much needed sun. | "Conduct Stakeout" at the beach community lot |
| Step 6 | Why would the consignment shop owner, Sim X, be at the beach conducting shady deals? Because the shop is the perfect means by which to sell said ill-gotten wheels! The puzzle pieces are jamming into place. I think I'll pay Sim X a mostly friendly visit. | "Confront" Sim X |
| Step 7 | The shop owner crumbled like a two-day old crumb cake. He/she's been selling car parts in the back room of the store—our town's very own chop shop. He/she handed me what's left of the car and his/her dignity as well as a refund. I should give the client the refund to finish the case. | "Return Money" to Sim X |

BYE BYE FLAMINGO

| Step | Description | Hint |
|--------|--|---|
| Step 1 | Sim X contacted me, mortified, because apparently a prized flamingo has gone missing. My old man used to always say flamingos got a pair of great legs but a terrible nose. Ha! I should ask Sim X who might have taken the bird. | "Ask About Potential Suspects" to Sim X |
| Step 2 | Sim X was too frantic to provide any decent information about a suspect or the bird's location. It looks like it'd be best if I asked around town for the bird's whereabouts. | "Ask About Missing Flamingo" to X Sims |
| Step 3 | The locals had mixed information about the bird's location, though I did hear from one citizen that the bird was located near a remote, freshwater body of water. I should snoop for clues near a pond that fits that description. | "Snoop for Clues" at a remote freshwater pond |
| Step 4 | Oh, I found the flamingo all right. It's a lousy plastic statue! I wish somebody told me I was looking for tacky lawn art! Regardless, the case is almost over. I just need to return the flamingo to my bird-brained client, Sim X. | "Return Flamingo" to Sim X |

| CASE OF THE MISSING FEATHERS | | |
|-----------------------------------|---|--|
| Step | Description | Hint |
| Step 1 | Sim X just contacted me about a prized flamingo statue that disappeared. I'm unclear as to what it is about a yard ornament that can be prized, but I'm not paid as a designer. I should ask Sim X about potential suspects. | "Ask About Potential Suspects" to Sim X |
| Step 2 | Sim X spent more time gabbing about the estimated value of the statue and its regal origins than telling me anything useful about recovering the piece. I should ask around town to see if anybody has seen this prized piece. | "Ask About Missing Flamingo" to X Sims |
| Step 3 | The locals haven't been much help in my flamingo search. I'm back to square one, unfortunately. Sim X was harping about how the flamingo is a piece of artwork. Perhaps I might find it at the local art gallery? I should snoop around for clues. | "Snoop for Clues" at the local art gallery |
| Step 4 | I think I've been had. I found the flamingo at the art gallery, but I'm not sure it belongs here. I think Sim X is so desperate to convince people the flamingo is art that Sim X put it there...and forgot about it? Regardless, I should return the flamingo. | "Return Flamingo" to Sim X |
| MYSTERY OF THE MISSING MATE | | |
| Step | Description | Hint |
| Step 1 | Missing people reports occur all the time, though most often, folks just want to disappear for a while. My new client, Sim X, seems to think a friend has gone missing. I should speak to Sim X for facts on the case. | "Interview" Sim X |
| Step 2 | The missing Sim was last seen at the park during a picnic. Perhaps ants carried the poor Sim away, along with the ham sandwiches? I should snoop for clues at the main park in town. | "Snoop for Clues" at park |
| Step 3 | Follow the money is one of the most accurate sayings in my line of work. In this case, the money is a pay stub, addressed to my missing Sim. The pay stub is from the diner. I should enquire there. | "Ask About Missing Sim" at diner |
| Step 4 | Our missing Sim does work at the diner...most days. According to the manager, the Sim has been calling sick in order to attend auditions at the theater. It appears the missing Sim may just be a hopeful actor...which may be worse. I should search the theater. | "Look for Missing Sim" at theater |
| Step 5 | I found the missing Sim at the theater rehearsing a monologue from the play, "Death of a Gnome Hawker." The Sim has been desperately trying to get a part in the play, all the while neglecting the job, friends, and family. I should report back to Sim X with the news. | "Report In" to Sim X |
| CASE OF THE ALOOF ACADEMIC | | |
| Step | Description | Hint |
| Step 1 | A local "wunderkind" has gone missing. Strange how folks with such big brains cannot find their way home. Sim X has hired me to find this brainiac. I should start my investigation by speaking with Sim X. | "Interview" Sim X |
| Step 2 | Sim X last saw Sim X at the beach, doing some sort of investigation regarding aquatic life. That beach is my ticket to a clue in this case. I should head there and snoop around. | "Snoop for Clues" at beach |
| Step 3 | I wasn't able to find definitive evidence, though I did find an old report card with the missing Sim's name on it. Who takes Aquatic Biology in high school? The next step in my investigation is the local school. | "Ask About the Missing Sim" at school |
| Step 4 | The school has heard of this missing Sim. Apparently, this Sim had perfect grades with the exception of Aquatic Biology. It's been hounding this Sim ever since graduation. The school administrators seem to think this missing Sim can be found running aquatic experiments at the science lab. | "Look for the Missing Sim" at science facility |
| Step 5 | I was able to find the missing Sim knee deep in a de-fanged piranha pen running experiments on their toothless life expectancy. Apparently, the Sim believes this latest thesis will make up for that bad grade. I should tell Sim X where this underwater wiz can be found. | "Report In" to Sim X |
| CASE OF THE BERMUDA LOVE TRIANGLE | | |
| Step | Description | Hint |
| Step 1 | I got a call from a paranoid Sim who fears their true love has flown the coop. I imagine this gal had her reasons for ditching their fella, but right now I must assume she's a missing person. I need to ask Sim X where Sim X was last seen. | "Ask Where Sim X Was Last Seen" to Sim X |
| Step 2 | I feel like I'm being tugged around like a bull by a matador. Sim X doesn't seem to really know their "true love" very well at all. This means I need to ask around and see what other people know about her, considering there's nothing much they can tell me. | "Ask About Sim X" to X Sims |
| Step 3 | It seems everyone in town is dating Sim X. This is either the biggest love triangle in history or a lot of lies. Probably both. I think I should go through Sim X's mail. It's a dirty means to an end, but there's no free postage in this life. | "Inspect Mail" on Sim X's mailbox for clues |

|--------|---|---|
| Step 4 | Why is it that one mailbox contains a handful of mail, each piece addressed to a different lover, and each with a different name on the return? It doesn't look like 15 young Sims live in this house. Perhaps my contact at the local intelligence agency can help distill this nonsense into one name. | "Phone Intelligence Agency" on phone to decipher evidence |
| Step 5 | It turns out my contact at the intelligence agency has run across all of the names before. Each one is an alias of a well-known con-artist, a local musician. I'm going to catch the con backstage at the theater. Ha ha! | "Catch Con-Artist" at the local theater |
| Step 6 | The culprit has been a con-artist since conning became an art. Really, about the same amount of time she's been a failing musician. Her current hoax is to get everyone in town to fall in love with a fake name, then con them out of gifts and money. Well, I convinced her to cease, desist, and focus on her day job. Unfortunately, now I need to tell Sim X the truth about their "love." | "Report In" to Sim X |

CASE OF THE DISAPPEARING AUTO

| Step | Description | Hint |
|---------|--|---|
| Step 1 | A client just called about a missing car. It's a shame folks don't respect property rights, but really, people will be people. I should check with the client, Sim X, to see if there are any likely suspects. | "Ask About Potential Suspects" to Sim X |
| Step 2 | Sim X is absolutely dumbfounded as to the whereabouts of the car. It seemed to just disappear out of thin air. I should dust around Sim X's lot to find clues. | "Dust for Prints" at Sim X's home |
| Step 3 | I found some odd prints, but nothing conclusive at Sim X's home. I hate it when forensics fail me. I should check the trash at Sim X's place to see if anything turns up. | Search Sim X's garbage can for clues |
| Step 4 | Finally, a solid clue! A slick pair of racing gloves that are covered in prints. I bet the police database at the local station will help me identify the criminal. This case is as good as solved! | "Analyze Prints" at local police station |
| Step 5 | The gloves apparently belong to famous getaway driver Sim X. I would say Sim X has been caught red-handed, except that hand was gloved. Ha! I should confront Sim X about the glove. | "Confront" Sim X about racing gloves |
| Step 6 | Sim X is playing coy with me. Sim X claims to know something, but wants a bribe first. Lousy criminals never know when to give up. | "Bribe" Sim X for information |
| Step 7 | The Sim spilled the beans faster than a chef who cuts open a can of beans and dumps them. The local crime syndicate has a new car theft operation. Cars are stolen, then the parts are sold to local race car drivers. The Sim said a race was about to occur at the local stadium...I should get there. | "Attend Race" at local sports stadium |
| Step 8 | It didn't take long for me to spot my client's car being driven by Sim X. After all, if you miss the car the first time they come back around in a loop about fifty more times. I should ask Sim X how the car was obtained. | "Ask How Car Was Obtained" to Sim X |
| Step 9 | The driver is horribly ashamed of being involved in the car theft operation. I took the car keys so that I can return it to my client. I also learned the name of the low-level business cony orchestrating the operation. First things first—I need to return the car. | "Return Car" to Sim X |
| Step 10 | Sim X was delighted to have the car back, but I'm not satisfied with my work thus far. A local business person is orchestrating a city-wide car theft ring and I intend to bring it down, hard. I should conduct a stakeout outside the local business office. | "Conduct Stakeout" outside local business office |
| Step 11 | Just as I suspected, Sim X appeared and conducted some shady business deal right outside the business office. I'm going to cook Sim X's goose! I should tell the police about this crime ring so that we can take it down. | "Report to Police" at local police station |
| Step 12 | The police were glad I told them about the car theft ring and they want me to give the signal when Sim X is at work at the business office. All I need to do is wait until regular business hours, go inside the office and confirm Sim X's presence, and the cavalry will arrive. | "Confirm Criminal's Presence" at local business office while Sim X is at work |

GREAT CLAP TRAP OF AN ART HEIST

| Step | Description | Hint |
|--------|--|--|
| Step 1 | I just got a call from the frantic police chief. I thought his badge was going to shake off! Apparently there's a string of robberies going down and he needs me to solve it. The police budget doesn't have room for a long term investigation like this, which is where I come in. Figures. I need to get to the police station to check in. | "Report In" to local police station |
| Step 2 | Oh no! The criminals just hit the art gallery, all before I was able to swipe a donut from the chief's desk. I should head to the local art gallery and dust for prints. You know, to solve this thing so I can get back to my donut. | "Dust for Print" at local art gallery |
| Step 3 | It's shocking that perps never learn to wear gloves, even after years of those cony network detective shows. I've got prints, but I'll need to run them against the database at the police station. | "Analyze Prints" at the local police station |
| Step 4 | Ha! It appears the prints belong to one Sim X. Poor schmuck. I wonder if Sim X knows I'm heading over to slap on some handcuffs? | "Accuse of Heist!" to Sim X |

|---------|---|---|
| Step 5 | I hate being caught with my mouth open, flapping around like a broken workshop door. It appears Sim X was at work when the heist went down. Witnesses and everything. Sim X's prints were at the scene, so I'm going to dust around here to see if something turns up. | "Dust for Prints" at Sim X's house |
| Step 6 | They say to never judge a book by its cover. Sure, I get that, but what about the fingerprints found on TOP of the cover? Odd. I see Sim X's prints all over this, as well as...something different. I wonder if there's anything else around here I can use for evidence? The garbage is usually a good place to look. | Search Sim X's garbage can for clues |
| Step 7 | Well, lookie here! I found the receipt for the book with the odd prints all over it. Sim X was recently at the bookstore and I bet the local bookstore shopkeeper can offer some information. I should swing by the bookstore. | "Discuss Receipt" at local bookstore |
| Step 8 | The bookstore owner claims Sim X is always at the bookstore to check out the latest scientific journals on robotics. I've read about robotics experiments going on at the science lab. Perhaps I should conduct a stakeout at the science lab to see what's cloning about? | "Conduct Stakeout" at the local science facility |
| Step 9 | My hunch about the crooked scientists has paid off. There is clearly something suspicious going on. I recognize the one scientist, Sim X. I should conduct a little research on a computer to learn what I can about Sim X. | "Hack" for information on the scientist on a computer |
| Step 10 | Sim X is one skeezy science geek. It appears Sim X is quite renowned for ethical quandries, robotics, and "misplacing" expensive lab equipment. Sim X certainly fits the bill as a criminal. I should ask a few Sims around town to learn about the connection between Sim X and my first suspect. | "Ask About Connection with Scientist" to X Sims |
| Step 11 | It seems Sim X's relationship with my initial suspect is no longer healthy, which is motive for a frame job. Sim X may very well be the criminal, but first I want to check Sim X's alibi. | "Ask About Alibi" to Sim X |
| Step 12 | Sim X's alibi checks out, but I haven't seen sweating like that since Two-Fists Murphy knocked out Hams McGee in 3 rounds. I swiped Sim X's security card, because I feel I'm being lied to. Using it, I'm going to hack into Sim X's computer. | Use a computer to "Hack" Sim X's computer |
| Step 13 | I was never a fan of science fiction. The future is always drab and full of robots, much like Sim X's computer files. One robot, named the THIEF-1X, caught my eye. Could the robot be the thief? I need to snoop around the art gallery once more to see if there's something I missed. | "Snoop for Clues" at local art gallery |
| Step 14 | I've been around a workshop or two, but I've never seen a piece of scrap metal like this before. It's a very unique piece of metal. I need to speak to an expert inventor about it...like Sim X. | "Discuss Suspicious Scraps" with Sim X |
| Step 15 | It turns out that not only is this metal one-of-a-kind, but the inventor here held this same conversation with Sim X not too long ago. All the pieces have come together: the framing, the scientist's past, the robotic metal at the scene...I need to tell the cops about this. | "Explain Evidence" at the local police station |
| Step 16 | The police agree with the assessment. Of course they do. The police want me to help them arrest Sim X, which means I need to wait until the scientist is at work. From the science lab I can phone the boys in blue to arrest this mad scientist. | "Confirm Criminal's Presence" at local science lab while Sim X is at work |

CASE OF THE COP GONE ROGUE

| Step | Description | Hint |
|--------|--|---------------------------------|
| Step 1 | Cops often chafe against the bureaucracy, which is why I work solo. Sim X, a local cop, is chafing at this very moment and needs my help. I should check in to see how I can be of service. | "Interview" Sim X |
| Step 2 | Sim X has hit a dead end with a case involving corruption or some sort at city hall. I hate to see my tax dollars go to waste, so I took the case. Sim X lost scent of the trail around the park. I think I should do a stakeout in the park to pick up the trail. | "Conduct Stakeout" at the park |
| Step 3 | I think I caught a big whiff of the trail when I saw two skeezy individuals making a deal at the park. I bet there's more evidence to be found here at this park. I should look for clues. | "Search for Clues" at the park |
| Step 4 | I was able to find some footprints, which may help me narrow down the culprits. I should show these prints to Sim X, who may know how best to use these clues. | "Discuss Footprints" to Sim X |
| Step 5 | Sim X would typically run these prints past the database at the police station, but the chief would catch wind and shut down our investigation. However, the prints look rather unique. Sim X suggests I ask X Sims around town if they have seen these shoes. | "Discuss Shoes" with X Sims |
| Step 6 | Nobody knew anything about the shoes, though I received several recommendations to speak to Sim X, the stylist. I should speak to Sim X to get the skinny on these footprints. | "Discuss Shoes" with Sim X |
| Step 7 | I got all the information I need about the shoes. Sim X is the only person in town who wears a pair of shoes that would make prints like these. It's time to have a friendly chat with Sim X. | "Confront About Shoes" to Sim X |

|---------|---|-----------------------------------|
| Step 8 | I'm a bit uncomfortable with what I found out. It seems I'm getting answers that only lead to deeper holes. It turns out the lackey with the shoes was only a pawn in whatever is happening, but I did obtain the name of a crooked, well-known politician: Sim X. I should inspect Sim X's mail for clues. | "Inspect Mail" on Sim X's mailbox |
| Step 9 | I found the piece that's been missing from this case—the decisive piece. I was able to uncover a letter from a well known mob boss addressed to Sim X, the politician. I should report my findings to Sim X. This is the break the case needed. | "Report Findings" to Sim X |
| Step 10 | The client snatched the letter out of my hands like a dog who has been starving for days. This is the key to the case, the piece the client needs to finish the job. There's only one thing left to do. Go to City Hall and make sure our crooked politician is there and then, call in the cops. Time to end this. | "Call the Cops" at City Hall |

THE CASE OF THE CRUSH

| Step | Description | Hint |
|--------|--|-------------------------------------|
| Step 1 | Sim X called me in a total flutter. I think Sim X is in love if the obnoxious lovey dovey jabber coming over the line is any indication. I should interview Sim X to find out what's needed of me. | "Interview" Sim X |
| Step 2 | Yep, Sim X has it bad for a local named Sim X. Sim X is willing to pay me to ask around town to see if Sim X has a crush. I hate playing cupid....not. | "Ask About Sim X's Crush" to X Sims |
| Step 3 | The evidence of a crush is entirely inconclusive, but I'm worried that if I tell Sim X no, I won't get paid. I'll need to play my cards carefully when I report in to him/her. | "Report In" to Sim X |

CASE OF LONGING HEART

| Step | Description | Hint |
|--------|---|---------------------------------------|
| Step 1 | Sim X is one love sick individual. After one phone call I'm inclined to call a doctor, but prognosis isn't my line of business. I agree to a quick interview to see how I can be of assistance. | "Interview" Sim X |
| Step 2 | Sim X hasn't had a date in a long, long time. I think it's been so long the coroner's office can declare Sim X's love life legally dead. Sim X wants me to ask around to see if I can find another lonely single. | "Ask About Potential Dates" to X Sims |
| Step 3 | It seems Sim X may be the fellow lonely soul Sim X needs. I'll deliver the information and hopefully earn a few Simoleons in the process. Time to report in. | "Report In" to Sim X |

THE CASE OF THE RUMOR MILL

| Step | Description | Hint |
|--------|---|--------------------------|
| Step 1 | People these days. Always worried about what so and so said about them. Sim X is hiring me to quash a rumor that's floating around. I should interview Sim X first for details. | "Interview" Sim X |
| Step 2 | Apparently, Sim X referred to Sim X as a "llama brained gnome herder." Seems honorary to me, but Sim X claims it's highly insulting. I'm being paid to dispel the rumor amongst several locals. | "Dispel Rumor" to X Sims |
| Step 3 | Now that the rumors have been dispelled I should report back to Sim X, gather my payment, and close this case. | "Report In" to Sim X |

CASE OF THE FRESHWATER PUMPS

| Step | Description | Hint |
|--------|---|--|
| Step 1 | One of the neighborhood stylists has a beef that I need to solve for him/her. Sim X is convinced a pair of prized designer shoes were stolen when they were last at the day spa. I should check in with him/her to start this case. | "Report In" to Sim X |
| Step 2 | Apparently, the shoes were stolen while Sim X was in the middle of a therapeutic mud bath. They suspect a rival, Sim X, stole the shoes. I should check with Sim X first then. | "Ask to Investigate" to Sim X |
| Step 3 | Sim X claims to have nothing to hide and warmly invited me to dust for prints. I think I will—dusting for clues is one of the things I do best. | "Dust for Prints" in Sim X's home |
| Step 4 | I found a set of prints on the property that are all over the house—but they don't belong to Sim X. I also noticed, or should I say was assaulted, by the overpowering stench of fish. Something fishy is afoot! I should snoop for clues at a fairly public, centralized fishing spot. | "Snoop for Clues" at a centralized, very public fishing spot |
| Step 5 | It seems I found the shoes, or at least prints left by the shoes. Someone came to this spot to fish while wearing heels. That just doesn't seem comfortable! I should hack into the spa's client database to see if any of the recurring clients are fishermen. | Use a computer to "Hack" the spa's client database |
| Step 6 | Hook, line, and sinker! I have narrowed it down to two.... That's quite strange, but hey, I don't pick the suspects. I should speak to the first one, Sim X, about the missing shoes. | "Confront About Shoes" to Sim X |

|--------|---|---------------------------------|
| Step 7 | You think the suspect would come clean when being confronted about stealing a lady's shoes. Nope. Sim X won't say a word, but perhaps a bribe of a few Simoleons will loosen his lips. | "Bribe" Sim X |
| Step 8 | They took the bribe like a baby being offered a lollipop. Sucker. The fisherman admits to loving a pair of sensible heels, but claims they weren't the one who took the shoes. The two huge skis they call feet prove that the shoes wouldn't fit him/her anyways. I should confront the second suspect, Sim X. | "Confront About Shoes" to Sim X |
| Step 9 | Sim X spilled the beans. They took the shoes and are more ashamed than I care to admit. At least they loved the shoes, though I'm not sure how that helps. Regardless, I have them now and can return them to Sim X to conclude this case. | "Return Shoes" to Sim X |

A SPOOK STORY

| Step | Description | Hint |
|--------|---|---|
| Step 1 | It seems the rather eccentric proprietor of the local mausoleum has a problem with the graveyard. I'm dying to discover what this case entails. I should visit the graveyard and pay a visit to the mausoleum. | "Discuss Graveside Problems" at the Mausoleum |
| Step 2 | Urns and gravestones have been disappearing from the graveyard and the grave digger has no idea what's happening. I mentioned that the dead were obviously dying to get out but he didn't find that funny. I should snoop for clues around the crime scene. | "Snoop for Clues" at the Graveyard |
| Step 3 | How disgustingly odd. There's goo all over the place. Frankly, I've never seen anything like it. I should head to the science facility to analyze this. I'm dying to find out what it is. | "Analyze Mystery Goo" at the science facility |
| Step 4 | Incredible! The science geeks claim this disgusting goo is ectoplasm—a substance found only on ghosts. It seems the dead are restless. I should conduct a stakeout at the graveyard to see if the scene is truly dead. Gulp. | "Conduct Stakeout" at the graveyard |
| Step 5 | Those two characters were certainly shady, but not quite the transparent shade of a ghost. One of them dropped a shopping list with corn starch and food coloring. I should search the Sim's garbage for additional clues. | Search Sim X's garbage can for clues |
| Step 6 | The trash can was topped off with empty containers full of corn starch and food coloring—the ingredients for synthetic ectoplasm! It's all a fake. The culprit is trying to pin this on the dead and failing. I should have known—dead Sims tell no false tales. I should confront the culprit to end this. | "Confront" Sim X |
| Step 7 | The culprit fell apart like ashes scattered to the wind. Apparently, Sim X has been stealing gravestones and urns in hopes of finding a long lost love...in ghost form. Sim X agreed to return the stolen property. I should relay this to the grave digger at the mausoleum. | "Report In" at the mausoleum |

MYSTERY OF THE NAKED RING FINGER

| Step | Description | Hint |
|--------|--|------------------------------------|
| Step 1 | I just got a call from Sim X, who noticed that a prized ring was missing. One needs no more notification of stolen jewelry than a naked ring finger. I should interview Sim X for facts. | "Interview" Sim X |
| Step 2 | Sim X left the ring in the dining room, then left for work. The cops couldn't find any evidence, but I'm not sure the fuzz can find a ring that isn't made of dough and covered in sugar. I should dust for prints in the dining room. | "Dust for Prints" at Sim X's home |
| Step 3 | I found the prints, but they don't seem to match with any prints in my limited files. I should stop by the police station to run these prints against their database. | "Analyze Prints" at police station |
| Step 4 | There are not one, but two sets of prints on this ring. One set belongs to my client, Sim X. The other belongs to Sim X. Looks like I need to pay a firm visit to Sim X regarding the ring. | "Accost" Sim X |
| Step 5 | Sim X claims to be innocent, as well as a good friend of Sim X. It appears the two had coffee the other day. I should question Sim X to see if Sim X's story checks out. | "Ask About Coffee Visit" to Sim X |
| Step 6 | Seems our suspect was telling the truth. Strange that Sim X would leave out such a significant detail. Something seems fishy. I should snoop around Sim X's house and see if I can find out what it is. | "Snoop for Clues" at Sim X's house |
| Step 7 | I found the ring right here, tucked in a corner of the room! It looks like someone intentionally hid it. Why would someone hide the ring in the house where they stole it from? Well, might as well return it. | "Return Ring" to Sim X |

MYSTERY OF THE MUTANT FRUITS

| Step | Description | Hint |
|--------|--|-----------------------------------|
| Step 1 | I'm still not comfortable with the idea of mutant produce in my town. I'm curious if others have already experienced the side effects. I should ask a number of Sims around town if they have experienced food issues. | "Ask About Food Issues" to X Sims |
| Step 2 | The entire town is abuzz with worries and concerns over the food. The bistro, diner, supermarket—all of them seem to be dishing out bad produce. I should eat at the bistro myself to see what I can find out. | Eat at bistro |

|--------|--|---|
| Step 3 | The waiters and staff were reluctant to discuss the ingredients for the meal. That's odd and I don't like it one bit. I should interview the chef, Sim X, to see what's going on. | "Discuss Food Supplier" with Sim X |
| Step 4 | Sim X was totally tight lipped. I haven't seen gums shut so tightly since I tried to wrestle a narwhal. If Sim X won't talk, then I will get a little dirty by going through Sim X's mail. | "Inspect Mail" on Sim X's mailbox |
| Step 5 | Typically, the existence of a check for an unreasonably large sum of money is a clear sign of foul play. It's addressed to the chef, but signed by Sim X...a local politician. I smell corruption and it stinks. I should conduct a stakeout around City Hall. | "Conduct Stakeout" at City Hall |
| Step 6 | Well, well, well, if it isn't Sim X? Sim X was just seen by yours truly, that's me, outside City Hall with none other than the tight lipped chef. I've seen enough. I need to hack Sim X's computer to get the evidence I need. | Use a computer to "Hack" Sim X's computer |
| Step 7 | I'm dumbfounded by what I've just seen. It's a conspiracy implicating local politicians, pharmaceutical corporations, farmers, and restaurants. This isn't good! This is way bigger than me, which means I need to tell Sim X, a local journalist. | "Blow Whistle" to Sim X |
| Step 8 | The journalist will be writing the article as soon as possible. Meanwhile, I need to tell Sim X, a high up politician, about the corruption in City Hall. This mutant food conspiracy ends now! | "Unveil Conspiracy" to Sim X |

THE CASE OF THE TATTOOED THIEF

| Step | Description | Hint |
|--------|---|----------------------------------|
| Step 1 | A local's home has been burgled. Obviously, I've been called to solve the issue. I should meet with the client and ask a few questions to begin the investigation. | "Interview" Sim X |
| Step 2 | I hate cases that begin this way. The burglary happened at night and the client didn't see a thing. Hopefully this neighborhood is full of nosy neighbors—I should ask around to see if somebody saw something. | "Ask About Burglary" to X Sims |
| Step 3 | Several locals saw a suspicious person creeping around the house. Everyone seemed to think the suspect had a tattoo as well. The obvious thing to do now is follow the ink. I should ask the tattoo artist if anyone has a tattoo like the one described. | "Ask About Thief" to Sim X |
| Step 4 | The tattoo artist doesn't want to talk. I know for a fact there isn't a patient-client privacy clause for tattoo artists. I should snoop around to find a clue that will get me the information I need. | "Snoop for Clues" at the salon |
| Step 5 | Aha! I found a receipt for a bulk order of temporary tattoos. It seems the tattoo artist has been selling clients fake tattoos. This seems like the perfect information for blackmailing the tattoo artist. The two of us should chat. | "Threaten with Receipt" to Sim X |
| Step 6 | As expected the tattoo artist caved instantly. I was given the name of someone that had an arm tattoo removal procedure quite recently. That sounds like my subject. It's time to catch the culprit! | "Confront" Sim X |
| Step 7 | The culprit is amazed I was able to follow the threadbare trail of clues to solve the case. Frankly, I am too. I convinced the criminal to return the property in exchange for not calling the cops. I'm feeling merciful today. I should report back to my client. | "Report In" to Sim X |

MYSTERY BACKWASHED TOOTHBRUSH

| Step | Description | Hint |
|--------|--|---|
| Step 1 | This small fry, Sim X, is convinced somebody is using the wrong toothbrush. More specifically, Sim X's toothbrush. If the kid is willing to part with an allowance to pay me, oh well. I should ask him/her who might be doing this. | "Ask About Potential Suspects" to Sim X |
| Step 2 | Sim X didn't offer me much. I should ask Sim X about it to uncover the truth. Or I could always bribe him/her to get the info I need. | "Bribe" Sim X for information |
| Step 3 | The bribe didn't uncover much, though it did cost me a few Simoleons. I should just report back to Sim X so I stop wasting my time on this small fry stuff. | "Report In" to Sim X |

CASE OF THE MISSING MOUTHWASH

| Step | Description | Hint |
|--------|--|---|
| Step 1 | Families can be so ridiculous at times. I'm not sure why I've been called in to find some missing mouthwash. Seems to me a therapist should have been called instead. I should speak to Sim X to get to the bottom of things. | "Ask About Potential Suspects" to Sim X |
| Step 2 | Sim X firmly believes a fellow member took the mouthwash to get even for when Sim X stole a ham sandwich. If you ask me, vengeance for a stolen sandwich would be more severe. I should ask Sim X about the mouthwash, or bribe them if it comes down to it. | "Bribe" Sim X for information |
| Step 3 | I'm so glad I've been brought in to solve petty household rivalries. It appears, as expected, Sim X stole the mouthwash. Luckily I can return it to Sim X for my hopeful reward. | "Return Mouthwash" to Sim X |

Career Progression

This career is a great mixture of the social aspects of other active professions with Build/Buy Mode. When you accept a renovation job, the client tells you exactly what he or she is looking for in a new room or updated house. If you accept the job, you have the option of going straight to the lot and replacing objects or moving things around. However, you can also chat with the Sim offering the job or look around the lot to get an idea of what the client might like.

When you begin the renovation, you drop right into a modified Build/Buy Mode. A full list of all required objects appears in the Current Job box on-screen so you can see exactly what needs to be added to a room or house to satisfy the core requirements of the remodel. As you add the required objects, they get checked off this list. Be mindful of the budget for the job, which is also displayed in the Current Job box. If you go over that amount, you will get severely dinged by the client and have a bad review. If you go too far under, you risk being accused of doing the bare minimum. You need to find that happy place between the two extremes that makes the client happy. Listen to the client to learn what you need to do.

Use Create a Style to put personal touches on the newly installed objects.

TIP

You can increase the money in the budget by getting rid of existing objects with the Sledgehammer tool. This adds depreciated values to the budget. Don't go too crazy with this, though. You can really anger clients by getting rid of too much stuff.

For example, the recent divorcee who wants an incredible new pad for entertaining lets slip that she has a ridiculous amount of money. Going right up to the edge of the budget by adding extras in line with her taste will result in a good review.

If you go over budget, the extra Simoleons are taken out of your own household funds!

Once you have completed the renovation, mouse over the Complete Renovation button in the Current Job box. All of your changes now glow. When you are satisfied, click the button to tell the client you have finished. At this point, the client returns to the lot. Watch the client tour the renovated area(s). Thought balloons acknowledging the required changes appear over the client's head. When the tour is done, the client tells you how you did.

If you did a good job, take a photo of the renovation for your personal portfolio. Every completed job photo goes into the portfolio and inches it closer to 100 percent completion. The portfolio is important for getting new jobs outside of daily assignments. Check out the Portfolio section for more on this activity.

Once you reach level 5 of the career, you are given a tape measure. Now, you can enter a lot before starting the renovation process in Build/Buy and click on rooms to choose the Get Measurements interaction. This eats up some time as your Sim moves around the lot, taking measurements of spaces, but your client will appreciate your dedication and give you a bigger tip at the end of the renovation.

Be sure to practice painting in your spare time for additional XP in this career.

Job Scoring

After you add the last requested object and are happy with the job, the client tours the house and considers your changes. As this happens, the client is actually scoring your remodel. After contemplating the changes, the client gives you a score and possibly offers a tip for the hard work.

- ◆ The first thing the client considers is if you added all of the required objects. If you missed any (such as a sink in a new bathroom), you are penalized.
- ◆ Did you speak to the client before the remodel? You get bonus consideration for doing so.
- ◆ If you leave parts of a room unfinished, like no floor or wall coverings on a surface, you are penalized.
- ◆ Clients penalize you for not having a light source in a room.
- ◆ You must make sure Sims can access all of the objects they requested. If you make it impossible to reach a bed in a new bedroom, expect a bad review.
- ◆ How did you do with the budget? Did you go too cheap? Did you spend too much? Or did you give them a good value for their budget?

Sims also grade your work based on their personal traits. This is also why you should try to get to know your client a little before the remodel. Here are how specific traits affect job scores:

- ❖ Snobs penalize you for not spending all of the Simoleons.
- ❖ Frugal Sims give bonuses for coming in under budget.
- ❖ Loves the Outdoors Sims give bonuses for lots of windows.
- ❖ Hates the Outdoors and Evil Sims give bonuses for fewer windows.
- ❖ Artistic Sims love decorations, like paintings. Conversely, Can't Stand Art Sims take points away if you add art to their remodel.
- ❖ Bookworms love to see new bookshelves in the remodel.
- ❖ Workaholics like to see a quality desk in their remodel.
- ❖ Computer Whizzes love new computers. Technophobes hate to see new computers or any electronic, like a TV.
- ❖ Couch Potatoes give bonuses for remodels with chairs and couches that provide extra comfort. (See the catalog for comfort ratings.)
- ❖ Virtuosos like to see guitars or stereos in remodels.
- ❖ Natural Cooks prefer you to use quality kitchen appliances and surfaces in new kitchens.
- ❖ Party Animals give bonuses for new bars.
- ❖ Easily Impressed Sims just love everything, pretty much no matter what you do as long as you fulfill the required objects.

TIP

Developing the Charisma skill is not a responsibility of this career, but it certainly helps when you socialize with clients. The higher your Charisma, the easier it is to deduce your clients' traits before a renovation.

Finally, clients also give bonuses if you use objects you personally created. So, consider developing the Sculpting and Inventing skills so you can place personal touches in rooms. Paintings your Sim created also add bonuses to a remodel. And if you have World Adventures, you can place photographs on walls for additional bonuses.

TIP

At level 7 of this career, placing homemade objects into a remodel gives an even bigger bonus.

When all of these things are factored together, the client delivers the final verdict. If you did well, you get both a good review and a tip. Snap a photo for the portfolio. If you failed, the client expresses disappointment and you don't take a portfolio photo. You may even experience an LTR decrease for doing such a bad job.

Portfolio & Researching Design

As mentioned, after completing a job, you snap a photo of the new area for your portfolio. After you get a good portfolio together and reach level 3 of the career, you have an easier time convincing potential clients with the new Solicit social. You show potential clients your portfolio. If they like what they see, they may offer you a job.

You may also work on your portfolio outside of work. After installing a drafting table in your house, use the Research Design interaction to sit down and start sketching out new building and room ideas. These unfold similar to painting—in fact, working on the drafting table develops the Painting skill. You can place sketches inside your portfolio or hang them on walls. Sketches provide a small environmental bonus for a room.

Renovation List

Here are the types of renovations you will encounter in this career. Each listing details the nature of the job and what objects may be required. We also include objects that help you get a bonus for that renovation.

Career Progression

The Stylist career begins at the local salon where you attend to potential clients who walk through the front door in need of a new look. You receive a message when a potential client is at the salon. Speak to the client before using the Makeover interaction on a styling station, which begins the actual job. The Discuss Fashion social—given only to Stylists—helps start the makeover on a positive note.

NOTE

At level 6, Stylists receive the Give Fashion Advice social, which helps other Sims find temporary new looks. Appreciative Sims then have a higher LTR with the Stylist.

Once your Sim reaches level 3 of the Stylist profession, jobs outside the salon are unlocked. Now, you can use map view during work hours to identify clients around town in need of makeovers. Click on their houses to go straight there. Before digging into the Makeover (now available as an interaction/social on the target Sim), be sure to get the client in a good mood.

The Current Job shows you exactly what the client wants out of the makeover. This is similar to the Designer career. You must address all of the client's needs before completing the makeover. Once you finish, the client evaluates what you did and gives a report. If the client likes the makeover, you may get a nice tip. You can then take a photo to add to your portfolio. The more photos of successful makeovers you place in your portfolio, the easier time you have getting potential clients (Sims not actively seeking a makeover during work hours) to agree to a makeover, which in turn pays out in Simoleons and results in necessary XP.

TIP

At the top level of this career, your Sim receives a permanent Stylin' moodlet that remains even if your Sim resigns from the profession.

Makeover Basics

So, what do clients want out of a makeover? Requests span three categories: new outfits, new hair, and new make-up. All of these are selected from a Create a Sim toolkit.

Career Progression

A Sim who desires new clothes will designate which specific outfit they would like you to change: everyday, formal, swimsuit, sleepwear, or athletic. You can mix-and-match pieces within those categories to make new outfits or choose from the pre-made ensembles. Use Create a Style to add new patterns to clothes or dye them different colors. Some Sims will also request new shoes or accessories, so be sure to address those before completing the makeover.

Some clients wish to receive new hairstyles. You create these exactly the same way as you would when starting a new Sim in Create a Sim. You can pick any hairstyle from the available 'dos in the toolkit and then add highlights or other color options.

Male Sims may request new facial hair, too, so have fun handing out beards and 'staches.

Female clients may also request new make-up. Here, you dive into Create a Sim and place new eye shadow, blush, and more on their faces. Use the opacity slider to reduce the harshness of some make-up. You do not need to alter every category of make-up to satisfy this request, but address at least three make-up features before completing the makeover.

If your Stylist is Evil or doesn't mind pranking a client, you can also choose the Give Bad Makeover to whip up a truly dreadful new look. The client gets furious over this outfit. You can always immediately choose the Makeover social to remedy the situation as best as possible, but if you like mischief, why not leave them looking like clowns?

Research Style

One of the responsibilities of a Stylist is to research fashion. You need a drafting table to perform this activity in your off hours. As soon as you can afford one, place it in your house and then use the Research Fashion interaction when you have spare time. (Be sure to address your needs first!) As you research fashion, your Sim sketches new outfits and looks. Completed sketches go into your portfolio, which helps build it so you can easily convince potential clients to let you work your cosmetic magic. Researching style also results in gained XP.

TIP

Researching Fashion also develops the Painting skill, but does so a little slower than if you were at the easel.

Medical Career

The Medical career is not for a Sim who likes to keep a strict schedule. As this career develops, the schedule turns chaotic and occasionally disruptive thanks to the unpredictable needs of patients at the local hospital and around town. If you don't mind the idea of being pulled into work in the middle of the night, then the Medical career's rewards may be worth the potential inconvenience. Especially the final reward for becoming a World Renowned Surgeon...

NOTE

The revamped Medical career is a hybrid between the new professions system and the original career track where you disappear inside a venue for several hours. You use tones to direct work while at the hospital, but also must go around town and attend to off-site activities, like free clinics and vaccinations. This career does not use XP to give promotions.

Work Location: Hospital, various locations

How Hired: Report to hospital, answer computer ad, answer newspaper ad

Work Week: The Medical career schedule is all over the place. Some positions have normal working hours while others are overnight shifts.

Salary Progression: The Medical career pays extremely well, especially in the upper levels.

Career Progression

Original Activity

The Medical career is one of the most stressful careers, so to advance, you need activities in the Sim's life to counteract the Stressed Out moodlet. Mood is a major factor in promotions, so be sure to sleep when possible (the Sleep in Ready Room tone helps out with this) and have an activity that lowers tension, such as reading, exercise, or socializing.

TIP

The Medical career does not factor relationship with co-workers or the boss into promotions. The quality of work is what really counts.

As soon as you reach the Medical Intern promotion, get ready for a hectic schedule. The Sim gets a beeper and has to come into work at odd hours. Shifts start growing, too, so be ready to spend lots of time at the hospital as you work farther up the promotion ladder. Medical Interns earn the Give Medical Advice social, which helps out pregnant Sims.

TIP

Pregnant Sims who regularly seek medical advice (or receive it) assist the development of the pregnancy, which can lead to the baby getting highly desirable traits.

When you reach the Medical Intern position, you start receiving medical journals, too. These are critical for future advancement because the number of journals read is a metric for deciding promotions alongside mood and Logic skill. In your off time, be sure to read these medical journals because the game keeps track of this statistic.

At the Resident level, Sims get two new socials: Give Good Medical Advice and Brag About Being a Doctor. The Give Good Medical Advice has a greater benefit to expectant mothers—in fact, the Medical Sim can even deduce the sex of the baby.

NOTE

The Brag social impresses other Sims in conversation. If the other Sim is already romantically interested in the Medical Sim, that romance is further enhanced.

Community Activities

Upon reaching level 3 of the Medical career, Sims can now perform activities around the community just like the Ghost Hunter or Firefighter. Events like free clinics and vaccinations pop out on map view. When you report to the community lot where these events are to take place, your Sim is typically swarmed by neighbors. Now, you must perform as many of the necessary interactions on these Sims as possible before the time limit of the event expires. The more Sims you get to, the better your do at the activity.

If there is time in the work day following the activity, return to the hospital to complete your shift, manage tones to meet promotion metrics, and get paid.

NOTE

Community events do not have Current Job boxes to track activities and requirements. You just need to get to as many Sims as possible.

Use map view to identify and travel to medical events in the community.

CAUTION

Sims who do not receive treatment in a timely manner or are not gotten to by the end of the event leave dejected and you may suffer a reduced LTR with them.

Opportunities

Medical Sims are offered opportunities during the course of the career that result in payouts and increased relationships. Some of these opportunities are single events while others are chained together. Upon completing the chain, your Sim is rewarded.

Go to work to report in and receive relationship with the boss, money, and a performance boost.

Medical Outreach

Throughout the Medical career, your Sim is presented with events at local venues (those where you disappear) to confer about medical issues, discuss hospital business, or perform clinics. To complete these operations, you only need to click on the venue and choose to take on the Medical Outreach activity. Your Sim then travels to the location and, after several hours, emerges to positive results.

Vaccinations

Vaccination clinics occur at community lots. When you choose to fulfill this activity, your Sim travels to the designated lot and sets up shop. Within minutes, Sims start crowding around you to get their shots. Click on waiting Sims and choose the Vaccinate interaction to “stack” them into your action queue. Your Sim then goes down the list, giving shots to each Sim until time is up.

Free Clinics

Free clinics are very similar to vaccination jobs. When you go to the community lot where the hospital is sponsoring a free clinic, Sims gather around. Click on waiting Sims and choose Diagnose to add them to the queue. During the hours of the clinic, your Sim attends to as many patients as possible. Your Sim holds up diagnostic equipment like a portable x-ray machine and deduces the potential problem. After a few minutes, the diagnosis is made and a treatment is administered. The target of the treatment is happy, boosting your LTR.

NOTE

Be sure to use the Follow Up with Patient social on Sims you’ve treated, for LTR boosts.

Local Emergencies

When Medical Sims are at a community lot (not a venue where they disappear for hours), there is a slight chance they may encounter a Sim having an emergency, such as choking. You receive a message stating that a Sim is having an emergency. You now have a Medical Attention interaction on the suffering Sim. Your Sim performs whatever is needed to save the impromptu patient. Onlookers at this point cheer, giving the Medical Sim increased relationships with all who watched.

NOTE

If a local emergency happens at a venue where you do vanish, the save happens automatically without any of the cheers.

Skill-Based Careers

Ambitions allows Sims who choose to focus on creative endeavors to participate in a career-like system. Skill-based careers are similar to professions in that you can seek promotions and advance, but instead of having specific responsibilities or metrics to manage, promotions are awarded based on the overall sold value of the objects created. For example, if a Writer scribes a romance novel worth $6,700 of royalties, those Simoleons are placed in an overall pot (no matter whether or not they are spent on anything). When the Sim crosses a value threshold, a promotion is awarded.

TIP

Some promotions come with cash rewards!

A skill-based career is a good way to make a living doing what you love on your own schedule.

If you wish to embark on a skill-based career, go to City Hall and register as self-employed. The listed careers are based on your current skill set. If you have multiple skills in development, you will see several skill-based career options. You may register for multiple skill-based careers, but it will not be easy to reach high-level promotions if you split your time across multiple careers.

NOTE

The Photographer and Nectar Maker careers are available only if you have World Adventures.

BAKE SALE

Remember that classic computer game, Lemonade Stand? Well, a similar game exists inside Ambitions to give child Sims a “career” of their own. Kids can now set up bake sale tables (buy from the Toys tab in Build/Buy Mode) in the front yard of their family lots or in community lots and sell goods made in the toy oven. To get started on this cute, lucrative enterprise, a child needs to bake up a batch of something in the toy oven, such as muffins. After the muffins have finished, click on the bake sale table and choose the Stock interaction. Once the muffins are out, use the Tend interaction to start selling.

Almost immediately, friends and neighbors wander onto the lot, following the smell of those delicious muffins. Children can then sell the muffins to other Sims for a few extra Simoleons. It's adorable and it gives children something to do other than watch TV.

Children are encouraged not to just let prices ride, though. Tastes are fickle and by using the daily Baking Report in the newspaper (this is now an interaction on the newspaper), they can get an idea of where the collective sweet tooth is at that day. Children set the prices for vanilla goods, chocolate goods, other goods, and all goods. If the goodies are priced right, they will almost fly off the table. If business slows, though, consider lowering the price on some baked goods to see if the customer base responds better.

Sims older than toddlers can also interact with the bake sale. Use the Purchase interaction to buy something from the table. Child Sims can also attempt to steal money from the table. If an adult is present when a child attempts to do this, though, they get a stern lecture about not stealing. Evil or Mean grown-up Sims may even try to pull this stunt!

Traditional Careers

Ambitions adds new jobs, but it does not remove any of the existing careers—the closest it comes is the modification of the Medical career into an active profession. The existing career structure remains the same, with Sims reporting for almost-daily shifts at venues around the town, such as the business tower or the stadium. In fact, one new career is added to the original career structure: Educator. The Educator reports to the local school for work during weekdays. Use this section to master the new Educator career and all previous professions not affected by the professions system.

To sign up for a career, simply report to the building that headquarters the job, such as the military base or police station. Applying is as easy as left-clicking on the location and then choosing the offered career. When your Sim reports to the job location, the career is immediately offered and the starting position/salary flashed on-screen. If you accept, you are given a schedule and expected to show up at the designated times.

There are multiple ways to advance a career. Promotions are the most common benchmark of success and always come with a one-time Simoleon bonus, but there are social aspects to each career that involve getting to know co-workers, which has the potential to widen your circle of friends. While at work, you can set the “tone” for your performance (more on these in a moment), which affects how you interact with co-workers or approach the job itself. As you advance, your schedule changes and your salary rises. Typically, there are perks or benefits for hitting certain promotions.

TIP

Going to work in a good mood boosts your chances of promotion. Go see a movie the night before work to get the powerful Enjoyed a Great Movie moodlet that lasts almost the entire next day.

Tones

Although you do not actually see what your Sim does on these original jobs, you can dictate general behavior for that work day through tones. Tones include behaviors such as working hard, getting to know co-workers, and sucking up to the boss. Some careers have unique tones, such as the Do a Side Job tone of the Criminal career. Many of these tones play into earning promotions at work, so look at the provided promotion metrics for each career to see what tones are best for the next step in that career.

NOTE

Not all tones are available from the first day. In some careers, additional tones are earned when you reach specific promotions.

RETIRING

Later in life, Sims can retire from a career and make a pension. This pension is smaller than the wages normally made at that promotion level, but it is a great way to pull in daily income for necessary food and objects while pursuing skills.

Educator (New Career)

Fewer pursuits are more noble than the education of the young. In the new Educator career, Sims start off as your basic under-appreciated teacher. However, hard work at both home and school generates success. Diligence leads to promotions that eventually install your Sim as District Superintendent, ready to oversee all schools in the community.

Work Location: Community School for the Gifted (Sunset Valley), Truelong Community School (Riverview), Stary Community School (Twinbrook)

How Hired: Report to school, answer computer ad, answer newspaper ad

Work Week: The Educator maintains hours similar to a normal school week. However, at the upper levels of the career, the work day is shortened by an hour or two.

Salary Progression: As you might imagine, this career pays very little at first. And even at the higher promotion level, it is still not a huge money-maker. But Educators can earn extra Simoleons by giving lectures.

Benefits and Rewards

The Educator career begins as many do. Sims can either report to the local school or apply for the position through the newspaper or via computer. Once accepted, the Sim is given the position of Playground Monitor. At this point in the career, the only metric for promotion is mood. Coming to school with a smile on your face results in advancement. Do things the night before that put your Sim in a long-lasting good mood, such as going to see a movie or concert. (Unless there is another Sim in the household, the early stages of the Educator career don't pay well enough to enjoy the benefits of spa treatments.) However, do not wait to start developing the Charisma skill, because it is a metric for the third level of the career: Substitute Teacher.

By the time your Sim achieves the Elementary School promotion, the Logic skill metric is introduced. Now, the constant development of Logic is important to continue climbing the career ladder. Using a chess set at the local park is a good way to start building this skill without a big expenditure. Attending a Logic class over a weekend (the normal days off for an Educator) or curling up with one of the Logic books from the local bookseller are also good ways to keep this metric on track and growing throughout the career.

TIP

Once the Elementary School Teacher promotion is bagged, Educators are more effective at helping children and teens with their homework. This proves beneficial for both parties, as it not only aids the student, but it also builds the relationship between them.

At the sixth level of the career, High School Teacher, Educators get a new tone: Give Lecture. This tone is limited to specific hours (listed on-screen during available days) but has two extra effects. One, the number of lectures given is kept track of because it is a metric for all future promotions. Two, it pays well. Giving lectures, though, can take time away from time spent with other tones and pursuits, so be mindful of this.

Finally, once you reach the top of the career—District Superintendent—you get a brand new action you can perform around town: Give Great Lecture. This is very similar to the Give Inspirational Speech action/reward within the Political career. Use it in one-on-one conversations or in groups. Either way, it results in the Heard Great Lecture moodlet boost for all within earshot.

Business

The business career unfolds exactly as you might expect. Sims dutifully report to work in the morning to attend meetings and climb the corporate ladder. As you approach the top of the career ranking, the requirements to reach each new promotion become harder to juggle. But that should be expected for a career with such incredible financial rewards. You cannot coast. You must work hard, appealing to both the boss and co-workers so that one day that corner office is yours.

Work Location: Doo Peas Corporate Towers (both towns)

How Hired: Report to business tower, answer computer ad, answer newspaper ad

Work Week: The career is a Monday through Friday job with normal business hours. At first, the hours are a little longer. However, over time, those hours are spread out across meetings that are required as part of the job at different times.

Salary Progression: This career pays very little at first. However, when you move up the ranks, the Simoleon rewards grow exponentially. As you close in on the top levels of the career, the salary is huge.

BUSINESS TONES

| Tones | Description |
|------------------------|---|
| Business As Usual | Perform average job duties |
| Hold Meetings | Available to schedule meetings, slows performance growth |
| Meet Co-Workers | Allows Sim to possibly meet new co-workers that have not already been met outside of work |

| Suck Up to Boss | Build relationship with boss |
| Power Work | Work hard to increase performance, but adds stress |
| Meet Medical Personnel | Allows Sim to possibly meet new co-workers that have not already been met outside of work |

Benefits and Rewards

To work your way up this career, you must have a good relationship with the boss. This can be achieved by the Suck Up to Boss tone, but this risks alienating co-workers. This turns into a problem later in the career when the relationship with co-workers becomes a metric for which your promotion is judged. Being charismatic can help with this career because after meeting co-workers on the job, you can then improve those relationships outside working hours.

TIP

The Business career is the easiest to master because it requires the fewest skills.

Once you reach the Division Manager promotion, you can start holding meetings and meeting opportunities come regularly. Making these meetings becomes a critical metric for making additional promotions. Here, the career starts to consume a lot of time and attention.

TIP

Don't worry about missing scheduled work hours to attend meetings. Meetings supersede scheduled work at the Doo Peas Towers.

NOTE

When you earn the CEO promotion, you ride to work in a limo.

One of the key benefits of this career comes at the top promotion to Power Broker. Now, you have complete control over working hours by choosing to hold meetings at your whim. You are paid for these meetings, too, so you have control over how much money is made during that specific day. A day full of meetings is very lucrative. This flexibility allows the Power Broker to pursue different skills or attend to a household without worrying about a heavy work schedule.

Criminal

Who hasn't harbored thoughts of engaging in criminal activity? The Criminal career allows you to try out being a bad guy. The Criminal career actually branches into two different tracks: Thief and Evil. Each of these branches has a different reward for reaching the top.

Work Location: Outstanding Citizen Warehouse Corp. (both towns)

How Hired: Report to warehouse, answer computer ad, answer newspaper ad

Work Week: The Criminal career unfolds at night with a typical five-day work schedule.

Salary Progression: The Criminal career pays a poor salary until the highest level is achieved. However, there are special bonuses from time to time that result in big paydays.

Benefits and Rewards

The Criminal career sounds shady, but it has definite benefits. For example, no one will rob the home of a Sim who's on the Criminal career track. Criminal career Sims also occasionally come home with an object in their personal inventory, snatched while out on a job. The criminal Sim can also use the Do a Side Job tone to earn extra cash while at work, but this takes time away from getting to better know accomplices (the equivalent of co-workers in the criminal career), which is an important metric for earning promotions.

TIP

If you also have the Athletic skill, you can improve it by selecting the Practice Illicit Activities tone.

As mentioned, the Criminal career splits into two branches at the sixth level. Here, the Sim must choose between the Thief branch or the Evil branch.

Thief Branch

The Thief branch of the Criminal career starts you toward becoming the Master Thief. Right away, you earn the Sneak interaction, which is an alternate option for walking or running to another location.

TIP

To improve your chances of a promotion on the Thief track, be sure to work on your relationships with accomplices.

As soon as you reach the Bank Robber promotion, you receive a valuable piece of art as a bonus. At the top of the career track, the Master Thief, the Sim receives an extremely valuable statue called The Fox. This statue can be placed on the Sim's lot, which offers a huge environmental bonus. Whenever the Sim chooses to View the statue, they get the I Am the Best moodlet, which is a positive boost to overall mood.

TIP

If you are arrested and must spend time in jail, you can work out and improve your Athletic skill. This gives you the Pumped moodlet.

Evil Branch

The Evil branch of the Criminal career has different rewards and a different means of reaching the top job: World Dominator. You must use the Grovel to Boss tone a lot to advance along the Evil track because the relationship with the boss is a metric used to doling out promotions.

At level 9—Super Villain—the Sim gets a black limo. But when you finally get that top promotion, you earn the Aura of Evil. This has a powerful effect on other Sims. Criminal Sims or Sims with the Evil trait get a relationship boost from the Aura of Evil. However, the Aura of Evil has a negative effect on Sims with the following traits: Coward, Loser, and Neurotic. These Sims are afraid of the Aura of Evil and will flee. Sims with the Good trait or in the Law Enforcement career will actually boo at the Aura of Evil Sim. Building a good relationship with these Sims is extremely difficult.

Culinary

Sims who want to pursue a career in the culinary arts should head to either the bistro or the diner. This is not one of the higher paying careers, but it does come with a lot of perks, such as the consistent development of the Cooking skill while at work and discounts at the restaurant of employment.

Work Locations: Little Corsican Bistro or Hogan's Deep-Fried Diner (both towns)

How Hired: Report to bistro or diner, answer computer ad, answer newspaper ad

Work Week: Normal work week but with hours that start later in the day. Sims are typically reporting to work in late morning or early afternoon and do not come home until late.

Salary Progression: Starting pay is very low and increases only a little with each promotion. Even at high level, this is not a high-paying career.

| Grovel to Leader | Build relationship with boss |

Benefits and Rewards

Because cooking is such an important part of every Sim's life, the Culinary career has benefits that extend far beyond a daily paycheck. The Culinary career offers the Practice Cooking tone, which lets you advance the Cooking skill while earning a paycheck. Using this tone may come at the expense of not hastening an improved relationship with the boss or with co-workers (essential to promotion), but being a good cook is a mood booster for your Sim and potentially all other Sims in a household.

CAUTION

While cooking at work improves the Cooking skill, remember that cooking a recipe at home also improves the quality of the recipe each time you cook it.

TIP

Improving your Cooking skill is an important part of the promotion game in the Culinary career. Make sure you practice at home and don't rely on too many quick meals or snacks.

Good food is a mood booster for all Sims, so the benefit of occasionally getting free meals from work to take back to the lot is a real happiness generator. This benefit does not happen until the Sim reaches Ingredient Taster. But once it happens, expect to see free meals on a regular basis. And if you have multiple Sims in a household, that free meal will have enough servings to satisfy all.

Dining out is another mood booster that benefits from the Culinary career. At the Sous-Chef level, Sims get a discount at the restaurant where they work. This saves money on meals. Once the Sim reaches Executive Chef, the discount extends to both restaurants.

Sims in the Culinary career get two very cool equipment bonuses. At the Pastry Chef position, the Sim earns the food processor, which speeds up the cooking process at home. The real prize, though, comes at the final promotion: Five-Star Chef. The Sim is awarded the MinusOne Kelvin Refrigerator. This fridge gives the Superior Equipment moodlet to any Sim who walks near it. Also any recipe that uses food out of the fridge will come out high quality.

Journalism

As a journalist, Sims must chase down the facts not only during work hours, but on their own time, too. Such dedication is as reward in it itself, for the pursuit of truth is the noblest professional of all.

Work Location: Doo Peas Corporate Towers (both towns)

How Hired: Report to business tower, answer computer ad, answer newspaper ad

Work Week: Regular work week, but the week is often augmented by regular opportunities

Salary Progression: Low-paying career at the beginning and not exactly an account-stuffer over time either. Cash bonuses at promotion times are strong, though.

Benefits and Rewards

Like other careers where a certain skill is in play, pursuing the Journalism career lets a Sim advance their Writing skill while at the office. Sure, this is to the exclusion of seeking better relationships with the boss or co-workers, but it also opens up more genre possibilities for writing lucrative novels at home in the Sim's spare time.

Joining the Journalism career also allows the Sim to engage in a new type of writing: stories and reviews. This subject only lasts, though, for as long as the Sim holds a Journalism career.

You can write an article at home without doing any research. It goes into your Sim's inventory and generates royalty payment. To create a story or a review, though, you need to do some research. Rummaging in trash cans is a good way to gather material. So is interviewing a Sim or going to a movie. Once this has happened, a new interaction appears: Write a Negative/Positive review/story. This does not create an object, like writing an article. Instead, this goes toward boosting the "Stories and Reviews" metric needed for promotions.

Not every promotion takes stories and reviews into consideration, though. You really need to work on Charisma skill to keep getting ahead. The Charisma skill ranking is an important metric for promotion. This just adds to the career workload, as you must now juggle improving the Writing skill, improving the Charisma skill, and writing articles outside of work hours. Fortunately, the work hours in this career are slightly lower than others, giving you extra free time for these career-related pursuits.

When you finally reach the top of the career track—Star News Anchor—you unlock a new social: Tell Intriguing News Story.

This social is perfect for situations where you want to boost a relationship with another Sim.

TIP

The Tell Intriguing News Story social can be used several times with another Sim before it loses its effectiveness.

Law Enforcement

Not everybody is on the up-and-up. With a criminal element afoot, the city needs its fair share of Law Enforcement officers. This career branches, and the two tracks lead to different rewards. The Law Enforcement career also uses a number of skills as metrics for promotion, so having a well-rounded Sim is a plus.

Work Location: Police Station (both towns)

How Hired: Report to Police Station, answer computer ad, answer newspaper ad

Work Week: Sim maintains normal workweek hours (9 to 5), but the Special Agent branch cuts those hours by three per day and adds an on-call alert that sometimes requires work at odd hours.

Salary Progression: Decent wages until the career branches. The Special Agent branch gets higher bonus for promotions while Forensic Analysts get a higher daily wage.

Benefits and Rewards

The Law Enforcement career takes a few interesting turns but comes with some exciting rewards and side benefits. One of the tones for work is to Build Independent Case, which detracts from dealing with co-workers or the daily workload, but is quite useful if successful. If after a lot of time building this case against a criminal, the case ends up being a success and the Sim has a chance at an immediate promotion. However, if the case fails, the Sim risks losing the respect of co-workers.

TIP

The current Logic skill level is what determines the chance of success, so build up that skill before trying out this tone.

At level 3, the Sim can apprehend Burglars, which goes a long way toward getting a promotion. At level 5, the Sim gets a police car, which improves travel time. At level 5, the Sim chooses a branch of the career to pursue. Each branch has an different end reward.

WRITING REPORTS

One of the metrics for doling out promotions is the number of reports written. Sims in the Law Enforcement track create reports on other Sims by conducting interviews with the Question social. (This social is not negative.) During the questioning, the interviewer discovers the other Sim's traits, which is actually quite useful for social situations outside the workday. To keep this fair, Sims can only use the Question social on each Sim once per promotion level. Otherwise, you could amass quite a file on the citizenry.

Reports can also come from rifling through garbage cans. Use this interaction to look through another Sim's trash until you receive the notice that you have enough information on the person whose trash you were inspecting to write a report.

If during these interactions, the Sim discovers that the subject is part of the Criminal career track, the chance of promotion greatly increases.

CAUTION

Rummaging through the trash leads to the Disgusted moodlet. Be ready to shower after extensive garbage-sifting sessions. It also causes disgusting items to be deposited in the Sim's inventory, which then need to be cleaned out.

Branching Career Rewards

Advance the Logic skill to succeed in all branches of the Law Enforcement career. Get started with a logic book or chess set (home or park) to get a jump on the first promotions. When the career branches after the fifth promotion, two more skills come into play. The Painting skill must be developed for the Forensics branch, and the Athletic skill must be advanced for the Special Agent branch. After the split, the Logic skill is still critical to getting promotions.

The Forensics branch has a reward as soon as you earn its first promotion: laptop. The laptop computer is placed in the personal inventory and can be used at home. The top reward for the career is a new computer interaction: Run Forensic Analysis. This is a lengthy interaction, but it results in a payday. This is a good way to make additional money when not at work.

The Special Agent branch of the career has two special rewards that are given out at level 10: Tell Impressive Story and Raid Warehouse. Tell Impressive Story is a special social. It immediately impresses the Sim it is directed at. The Raid Warehouse interaction directs the Sim to enter the warehouse at night and disappears for a few hours. If the raid is a success (based on mood, Athletic skill, and Logic skill), the Sim has the potential to earn two different rewards. A mild success at the warehouse results in a small monetary bonus. A big success results in a huge payday. Special Agents also unlock the Raid Warehouse interaction, which lets you raid the criminal headquarters at the warehouse. Depending on your mood and athletic skill, you can have a great, good, or bad raid. A great and good raid results in extra cash. A bad raid just brings your mood down.

CAUTION

Should the Raid Warehouse fail, the Sim is booted out of the warehouse and given the Sore moodlet. Get a massage to wash away those negative feelings.

Military

Fortunately, peace has broken out in Sunset Valley and Riverview and Sims in the Military career need not worry about shipping out to war. They do have a goal that takes them outside of town, though. Way outside of town. As in, into space.

Work Location: Fort Gnome Military Base (Sunset Valley), Fort Salas Military Base (Riverview)

How Hired: Report to military base, answer computer ad, answer newspaper ad

Work Week: Work at the base starts early and lasts until the later afternoon, but at least there are fewer work days in a week.

Salary Progression: Sims starts with a modest salary, but the promotion to Flight Officer comes with a nice bonus.

| Hang Out with Fellow Soldiers | Build relationship with co-workers |
| Suck Up to Superior | Build relationship with boss |

Benefits and Rewards

To advance in the military career and earn benefits, Sims must develop two different skills: Athletic and Handiness. (Fortunately, the Handiness skill can be learned right on base through a class.) Other metrics contribute to the chance of promotion, too, including the relationships with fellow soldiers and base superiors. Naturally, mood is also a factor. Working hard and keeping these skills in active advancement leads to some fun rewards.

For example, as soon as the career begins, you start saluting other soldiers of superior rank. But at level 4, Squad Leader, inferiors start saluting you. When you reach the Top Gun rank, random Sims are also inspired to salute you. Citizen salutes are positive and will start any social encounter with an impressed context.

Music

Let a little music fill your life with this exciting career track. This career is not about the money—it's about the music. Or, at least it's about the music at first with the extra benefit of truckloads of Simoleons later on when you're filling stadiums with fans that cannot wait to hear your next overblown anthem.

Benefits and Rewards

Naturally, the key to advancing in this career is the development of the Guitar skill. Starting out with a class at the theatre is a good way to get a head-start on the career, even before you start your first day, since the Guitar skill is critical for every step in the career.

To continue moving up the career ladder, you must maintain a good mood and have a good relationship with co-workers, who are called band or orchestra members depending on the career path taken. Use of the Study Music Theory tone because it helps build the Guitar skill—and the Logic skill, which is a critical measure for the Symphonic branch. In the Rock branch, you need to practice for gigs because performing concerts is a key to advancement.

Rock Branch

The next promotion following the Music Talent Scout in the Rock branch is Lyricist. When you reach this promotion, you can start holding concerts. Use this interaction on the theatre and stadium to stage two- or four-hour concerts that are measured as part of the promotion process. (This interaction is only available between noon and midnight.) Once you choose to hold a concert and enter the venue, other Sims will follow.

Once inside the Rock branch of the career, the relationship with band members remains important. Continue fostering these relationships, hang out with band members outside of work, and always go into a shift in a good mood to maintain this important metric.

Keep performing concerts and keep up the Guitar skill to reach the pinnacle of the branch: Rock Star. At this level, your carpool is replaced by a pastel limo that will take you anywhere. At this level, the Sim can also select venues and choose to Hold Autograph Session, just like the Athlete career. The goal is to sign as many autographs as possible with the other Sims on the lot. The more signed, the more money is awarded for the session.

Once the Sim achieves Rock Star, they no longer have a work schedule. Money is earned exclusively by holding concerts. To maximize pay-outs, hold the concert at the stadium. The concert takes longer than one at the theatre, but the salary is double.

NOTE

Between levels 8 and 10 of the Rock branch, Sims have two new socials: Worship and Be Worshipped. This social is acutely positive, as even Sims who are as low on the relationship ladder as Acquaintance will engage the Sim.

Symphonic Branch

The Symphonic branch of the Music career unfolds a bit differently than the Rock branch. In this track, relationships with other musicians are very important, so be sure to use that tone to get ahead. Keep advancing the Guitar skill whenever possible, too.

Once you close in on the Orchestra Lead promotion, develop the Logic skill. (Practice Music Theory is a good way to boost the Logic skill while at work.) Once you reach level 8 of this career—Orchestra Lead—you earn free admission to activities at the theatre. This is great for boosting moods.

The highest level of the career—Hit Movie Composer—comes with an object reward: 85g Audio Explosion. This high-end stereo boosts the Fun of Sims in its listening radius and can be used to develop the Athletic ability.

NOTE

Between levels 9 and 10 of the Symphonic branch, Sims have access to the Worship/ Be Worshipped social. The effects are the same as they are in the Rock branch.

Politics

Politics is no career for the timid Sim. This is a highly social career track that requires a great deal of socializing with the people of Sunset Valley and Riverview. Because this is such a social career, the Charisma skill is required. Also required: no fear of asking other Sims for money. Campaigns don't pay for themselves, you know.

Work Location: City Hall (both towns)

How Hired: Report to City Hall, answer computer ad, answer newspaper ad

Work Week: This career works a normal work week at first, but as Sims advance in the career, they work fewer hours because the career requires so much socializing.

Salary Progression: Until level 5 of the career, political Sims do not make that much money. Once they reach the City Council Member position, the bonuses and salaries grow. This career will not make your Sim rich, though.

Benefits and Rewards

At first, mood is the only metric used to measure performance and award promotions. But to get ahead, be sure to start practicing Charisma early on through various means, like taking a class at City Hall or practicing in the mirror at home. Having a good Charisma level will make it much easier to advance early in this career.

The Yes-Man promotion is given out to a Sim who has a good relationship with the boss, so use the Run Errands for Supervisor tone early on, too. Getting in good with the boss is preferable to being popular with co-workers. To move up to the City Council position, though, you need to start raising campaign contributions, which is another metric for promotion. The social Ask for Campaign Donation will usually result in a small Simoleon transfer, although hitting up a wealthy Sim will elicit a larger donation. Fortunately, this social is positive.

CAUTION

You cannot use the Ask for Campaign Contribution social on household members.

NOTE

Here is a naughty bit of business with campaign contributions. Every so often, you will be asked if you want to transfer money out of the campaign kitty and into the household account. This is risky. If caught, the Sim is expelled from the career.

TIP

Political Sims can throw Campaign Fundraisers, which are just like parties. (See the Relationships chapter for details on how to throw a party.) If the party is successful, the host receives campaign contributions at its conclusion.

Once you reach the Local Representative position, you have a new social: Give Inspirational Speech. You can use this positive social you can use on a single Sim or in a group setting. It gives everybody a positive impression of you and sets up healthy relationships. Yes we can, indeed.

At higher levels you get two nice benefits. At the Governor level, a black limo drives you everywhere. As Leader of the Free World, your Sim gains the Aura of Leadership, and other Sims wave at them wherever they go. This boosts the relationship with other Sims and can also result in the Celebrity moodlet.

Professional Sports

The Professional Sports career charts a course from zero to hero. The Sims slowly become deeply involved with the local sports team. At first, they are a fan with a dream. Then, they join the team and start working up the ranks. Soon, shifts are supplemented by sporting events where winning and losing has a direct effect on mood and on the Game Record metric.

Work Location: Llama Memorial Stadium (both towns)

How Hired: Report to stadium, answer computer ad, answer newspaper ad

Work Week: Five day work week with evening shifts. Soon, two shifts a week are replaced by games that only last a few hours. During this period, the work week increases to six days to offset the fewer hours.

Salary Progression: The Professional Sports career starts with a low salary. However, as the Sim progresses, that changes. At the upper ranks, this is one of the most lucrative careers.

Benefits and Rewards

Naturally, this is a great career for a Sim with both the Athletic trait and developing the Athletic skill. Once you reach the Toddler Sports Coach position, you can start using the Work Out at Gym work tone, which lets you continue developing the Athletic skill at work, albeit at a slower pace than at home or on personal time. (Up until this promotion, reporting to work does not increase the Athletic skill.)

PROFESSIONAL SPORTS TONES

| Tones | Description |
|--------------------------|---|
| Business As Usual | Perform average job duties |
| Prepare for Game | Get ready for next game. Increases chances of winning next game. |
| Meet Teammates | Allows Sim to possibly meet new co-workers that have not already been met outside of work |
| Hang with Teammates | Build relationship with co-workers |
| Slack Off in Locker Room | Take it easy at work to reduce stress |
| Work Out in Gym | Develop Athletic skill |

TIP

Sports professionals do not get the Stressed Out moodlet from work like other careers.

The Rookie promotion starts the game part of the career. Now work is often replaced by practice and the career keeps a running tally on the team's win-loss record. The higher the Sim's Athletic skill, the greater the chance at winning the game, which in turn improves the Sim's mood with the Winner moodlet. The chance of winning a game is also improved by the Prepare for Game tone.

TIP

Members of a Sim's household can see a sporting event for free.

Once the Sim reaches the top promotion—Sports Legend—two things happen. One, the Sim can now perform the Do Advertising Deal interaction at businesses for Simoleons at least once a week. Two, the Sim can also Hold Autograph Sessions at venues where they are handsomely rewarded for signing autographs for as many Sims on the lot as possible.

Science

A mind is a terrible thing to taste—er, waste. This career celebrates that organ between the ears, the cortex that pulses with thoughts and desires. The Science career requires a keen sense of Handiness and a real green thumb, as well as a desire to both observe and collect.

Work Location: Landgraab Industries Science Facility (Sunset Valley), Soil & Water Research Center (Riverview)

How Hired: Report to science center, answer computer ad, answer newspaper ad

Work Week: Normal work week: five days with average hours in the 9 to 3 range because of the extra time needed to advance skills.

Salary Progression: The science career offers a modest salary with moderate bonuses and increases over time. This is not a rich Sim's career, but the skills developed during the career can lead to alternate incomes.

| Hang Out with Fellow Soldiers | Build relationship with co-workers |
| Assist Boss with Research | Build relationship with boss |
| Do Independent Experiment | Doing this tone builds toward promotion or at least performance boost |

Benefits and Rewards

The benefits of the Science career are plentiful, but you must be attentive to skills to receive the promotions that award them. The immediate skill required for the career is Gardening which can be learned at the science center or through a book. Get a jump on gardening as soon as you join the career. Later in the career, two additional skill comes into play: Handiness and Fishing. At no point are relationships a metric for advancement because, warranted or not, scientists aren't exactly known for their social graces.

TIP

Do not wait until you close in on a promotion that requires Fishing or Gardening to start learning those skills. Develop those skills early.

One of the most useful tones in this career is Do Independent Experiment. While performing this tone, you do side experiments that have a chance of resulting in great things. These experiments take time, though. You will not complete one in just a day. If the project is a success, though, you might get an immediate promotion.

From time to time, scientists will come home with extras in their personal inventories, such as a fish or a harvestable. They tend to be uncommon. Upon reaching level 7 of the career, Genetic Resequencer, the Sim receives one of the following special harvestables: Flame Fruit, Life, Money Tree, or Omni Plant.

Perform Experiment On!

Upon reaching the height of the career, the Sim receives a new interaction to perform on household objects: Perform Experiment On. This interaction works on seats, beds, electronics, and appliances. It acts like an upgrade. Once the interaction is complete, the Sim stands back to have a look at what was accomplished. If the upgrade goes well, the following may happen:

- Object gets environmental boost.
- Object broadcasts music, giving all Sims in the area the Enjoying Music moodlet.
- Object earns random upgrade from Handiness upgrade list.

Object starts broadcasting random moodlets that affect Sims in the room: Attractive, Beautiful Vista, Cheered Up, Comforted, Feeling Lucky, New Car Smell, New Stuff, Oddly Powerful, Tranquil, or Warmed.

Conversely, this interaction can have negative effects, too. These things can go wrong:

- Object catches fire and is burned until useless.
- Object randomly electrocutes Sims who try to use it later.
- Object disappears—forever.
- Object breaks and must be repaired.
- Object starts broadcasting random negative moodlets that affect Sims in the room: Upset, Tastes Like Fridge, Stir Crazy, Offended, Buzz Crash, Horrified, or Disgusted.

PART-TIME WORK

In addition to these full-time careers, Sims can pick up part-time jobs at the supermarket, cemetery, bookstore, or day spa. These jobs are for just four hours a day, four days a week. These jobs are designed not to interfere with life too much. For example, a teen might take a job at the supermarket that starts after school at 4 PM and lasts until 8 PM. Or an adult could grab a late-night 6 PM to 10 PM gig helping bury bodies at the cemetery.

Part-time jobs include tones, just like the full-time jobs. However, because relationships and skills don't determine job performance, the tones are limited to: Business As Usual (average amount of work), Work Hard (put in extra effort), and Take It Easy (minimal effort). Each part-time job has only three career levels with minimal raises between each promotion. To get ahead at a part-time job, just show up with a good mood and put in a decent day's labor.

Part-time jobs can be quit at the location of employment. All promotions and raises are lost at the moment the Sim quits. The only way to get them back is to start the part-time career over again.

School

Children and teens have a different set of obligations from adult Sims—they must regularly attend school. Just showing up isn't enough, though. Students must complete homework to improve grades. Good grades are more than just a point of pride, too. Good grades lead to improved mood and the chance to select a new trait when the student ages up.

- School Schedule: Always Monday through Friday, but hours vary slightly depending on age. Children are in elementary school from 9 AM to 3 PM. Teens are in high school from 9 AM to 2 PM.

Much like a career, school has specific requirements for getting ahead and metrics for judging performance. For school, grades are the rating. Tones you use at school guide behavior and have a deep effect on performance. Here are the tones for school:

- Normal Effort: This tone puts in an average amount of work at school and does not add too much stress.
- Work Hard: Working Hard is a good way to increase performance, but it adds a lot of stress, which often results in the Stressed Out moodlet. After school, you need to relax and reverse the negative moodlet.
- Slack Off: Stressed students can reverse the effect by choosing this tone. Very little work gets done, so performance does not increase by much.
- Meet New Friends: This is a great way to socialize in school and develop budding relationships with new students. If you successfully meet another student, there is a good chance that you will either bring that new friend home or be invited to the friend's home. (See Friends After School below.)
- Talk to Friends: Talking to Friends at school is a good way to potentially increase your Sim's friendship rating of with another of the same age. This increases the chance you will be invited to a friend's house or invite a friend back to yours.
- Sleep in Class: If a student reports to school sleepy, then this tone becomes available to combat the effects of being tired. If the student is Exhausted, this tone happens automatically at random times. There is a risk of being caught while sleeping, though. If caught, the student is given detention.

Work Late on Homework: If the student comes to school with incomplete homework, they can use this tone to try and finish it while at school. Overall performance will not rise as much as a Normal Effort, though.

Homework

The first time students go to school, they receive a small homework booklet. This booklet is placed in the student's personal inventory and can be used via the new Do Homework interaction. Completing homework is essential for raising grades at school, so make sure to allot extra time in the afternoons and evenings for homework.

CAUTION

Doing homework lowers the Fun need and can sometimes cause the Stressed Out moodlet.

When you choose to Do Homework, the student finds a seat somewhere on the lot and starts scribbling in the booklet. A meter appears over the student's head, just like a Sim trying to complete any task.

TIP

The Logic skill helps the student complete homework faster. Using the Ask for Help with Homework interaction also increases the speed of doing homework as long as the Sim invited to help is in a good mood.

If the student finishes their homework before the next school day, their performance goes up. Coupled with being in a good mood, this can raise a grade. If the homework is only partially done, the performance boost is only modest. If the student does no homework and does not work on it at all in school the next day, their performance takes a significant hit and grades can potentially fall.

CAUTION

You can actually cheat on homework, but it's risky. Use the Copy Sim's Homework interaction on the homework of another student. This tags your homework as cheating, and if you are caught, you're given detention.

Detention

A student caught sleeping in class or copying homework is punished with detention. Detention keeps the student after school for a few hours, which can interfere with a part-time job. While staying late, the student cannot choose their tone and they will not see any improvement in grades or performance. When detention is over, the schoolbus takes the student home.

NOTE

Detention also results in a mood hit due to the Detention moodlet.

Grades

All students start school the first day with a C. Doing well in school raises that to a B and then an A. Doing poorly drops it down to an F. Grades are the culmination of mood and homework completion. If you keep reporting to school with a good mood and complete homework, you will get an A. Keep that A up for three days in a row to get the Honor Roll moodlet. Every day after getting the Honor Roll moodlet that you maintain the A, you keep the moodlet. If you drop back down to a C, though, you must maintain an A for three straight days to get the Honor Roll award back.

If you do not do homework, get caught cheating repeatedly, or go to school in a poor mood, your grade will slip down to an F. The first time you get an F, you are warned that unless measures are taken, there will be consequences. The next F results in the Failing moodlet.

Grades are very important during age transitions, so pay attention to the age of the student and try to have an A when the student moves into the next phase of life. If you have an A when the child becomes a teen or the teen becomes a young adult, then you get to select the trait awarded during the age transition. If the student has a F, then the student is assigned a bad trait. If the student has a C at the time of transition, then the trait is random—could be positive, could be negative.

Friends After School

Making friends at school satisfies the student's Social need. Students sometimes bring another student home from school with them or are invited to another student's house to play. You choose whether or not to go home with another student for a couple hours. Doing so and then engaging in socials at the friend's house is a good way to improve a relationship.

One factor that determines the chance of this happening in the distance between the homes of the students. Students who go to each other's houses will live within a reasonable distance from each other. The closer the other student, the more likely an invitation is.

New Objects

Ambitious Objects

If you are just starting out with a new household or in the early stages of a new career, tight finances may preclude splurging on many of the new objects in Ambitions. That's okay. There are many community options for some of the new objects, like washing clothes at the laundromat or using the Inventing skill-developing workstation at your local fire house. However, as you bank some Simoleons from a job well done or sold wares, invest in your household. Sims love new gear. They get moodlet boosts when new objects appear on the lot. In addition, many objects increase personal comfort, skill development, and career paths. So, check out this new catalog of objects introduced in Ambitions and then plan your household budget. You know you want a trampoline in your back yard...

Laundry

Laundry is new to Ambitions. Now Sims can clean their own clothes, which results in positive moodlets. To do laundry at your lot or at the local laundromat, you need to interact with washers and dryers.

NOTE

Use a clothing hamper to stack up multiple piles of dirty clothes without getting a negative moodlet. However, if your Sim has the Slob trait, there is a chance that clothes will not automatically be placed in the hamper.

Washers

To start the laundry process, Sims must place their dirty clothes in a washing machine. Choices for home use are the cheap The Swashbuckler Washing Machine and the expensive The Cleanesque Alpha Washing Machine. The cheaper machine is noisier and can wake up nearby Sims and leave puddles around the laundry area, which need to be cleaned up. The more expensive machine is much quieter and it breaks down much less.

NOTE

Level 6, Handy Sims can upgrade the washing machine or dryer so they are unbreakable. Also at level 6, Handy Sims can upgrade the washing machine with the Cleaning Polymer Injection System, which keeps clothes cleaner longer.

Dryers

There are also two dryers: the cheap Le Dryer du Clunk and the expensive The Clothing Dehydrator Dryer. The cheaper dryer is louder and takes longer to dry clothes. The expensive model breaks down less and increases Hygiene when clothes from it are worn. Alternately (and the preferred method of Eco-Friendly Sims), Sims can buy and install the Flappin' in the Wind Clothesline and allow their clothes to dry out in the sun.

Hobbies & Skills

The Sculpting and Inventing skills add new objects to the Hobbies & Skill category. Stylists can also purchase new objects for their lots to advance their careers.

The Drafting Table by Scuzzmarr Industries

The Drafting Table by Scuzzmarr Industries was created for Interior Designers and Stylists who need a place to sit and research their respective careers. Working at the table increases the Painting skill, albeit slower than working at an easel. Interior Designers use the table to research interior design while the Stylist researches fashion.

Pedestrian Sculpting Station

The Pedestrian Sculpting Station is an essential install for budding sculptors. Once it's placed on the lot, Sims use it to carve statues out of the mediums they have unlocked by advancing the skill. At first, sculptors only work in clay. But eventually, they can place giant ice blocks or topiary bushes on the station. As Sims work at this station, they increase the Sculpting skill. Unfinished projects can be scrapped and completed projects can be sold right from the station.

NOTE

For a complete breakdown of Sculpting, please see the New Simology chapter.

Scraptronic Workbench

This is the Inventor's workstation, where Sims developing that skill work on their newest creations. A scrap bin attached to the station is filled as Sims collect scrap from the junkyard, detonate objects, or purchase scrap directly from the station. As new inventions are created, more interactions with the workstation become available, such as choosing specific projects or manufacturing multiples of discovered blueprints.

NOTE

The Inventing skill is completely detailed in the New Simology chapter.

Fuss no Muss Styling Station

The Fuss no Muss Styling Station is a key object for Sims in the Stylist career, but other Sims can use it to enter Create a Sim and make cosmetic alterations, like new hairstyles or make-up, via the Makeover Self interaction. Sims can offer makeovers to friends and neighbors, which pays out depending on the success of the makeover. (The amount paid is modified if the Sim is a Stylist.)

NOTE

Sims with level 6 Handiness can upgrade the station with Look-Good Mirrors that increase positive reactions to makeovers.

The Ink-in-Comfort 3000/Digital Tattoo Applicator

Sims can use these two tattoo chairs, either at the salon or on their lot, to perform tattoos on themselves or other Sims, often for a price. The chairs offer several interactions, such as Offer Tattoo, Get Tattoo, and Remove Tattoo. You cannot give tattoos to baby, child, or teen Sims.

NOTE

At level 6, Handy Sims can upgrade these stations so they do not break. Level 6 Handiness also unlocks the Inkization upgrade on the Digital Tattoo Applicator that increases the likelihood Sims will like tattoos received from the station.

Outdoor Activities

Ambitions offers a couple of new outdoor activities: Gnubb and a trampoline. These objects are perfect for blowing off steam, increasing Fun, and building up hidden skills for each object. (For more on the hidden skills associated with these objects, see the New Simology chapter.)

Portable Gnubb Set

The Portable Gnubb Set is typically set up in the yard on a lot, although it can be placed or found on a community lot. The game is very simple. Sims attempt to knock down pins by throwing wooden batons. The Practice interaction is a good way to get your Sim acquainted with the game and begin building the hidden skill. Soon, Sims can choose Play Gnubb, ask others to play, or attempt to join an active Gnubb match. While playing Gnubb, all Sims are gaining Social, Fun, Friendly STC, and relationship with each other. Keep these things in mind:

- ❖ Mood is affected by Gnubb performance. Winning raises mood while losing lowers it.
- ❖ Loser or Unlucky Sims have a greater chance of losing a Gnubb match or missing pins.
- ❖ Lucky Sims or Sims with higher Athletic or Martial Arts (World Adventures) skills have increased chances of winning matches.
- ❖ Evil or Mean Sims boo other players for fun.
- ❖ Party Animals or Excitable Sims cheer and have extra Fun.
- ❖ Due to the hidden Gnubb skill, regardless of the above modifiers, the more your Sim plays Gnubb, the better he or she gets at the game.

Blast-Off Trampoline

The trampoline is another fun activity, perfect for letting loose. Sims can jump on a trampoline alone or with a friend, either by joining them as they jump or inviting them when the trampoline is nearby. Jumping alone or with a friend increases Fun and advances the hidden Trampoline skill, which eventually results in better jumps and fewer falls. (Falls result in a mood hit.)

While bouncing with another Sim, though, there are no falls. As the two Sims jump and play, their relationship improves thanks to the inherent Friendly STC of bouncing together.

Object Catalog

The objects in this catalog are listed with prices, important depreciation values, and any effect the object may have on your Sim as well as the environmental rating of a room.

CAUTION

Remember the rules of depreciation when buying these objects in Buy Mode. As long as you sledgehammer the object before leaving Buy Mode, you get the full value of the object back. As soon as you click out of Buy Mode, the object starts depreciating. Each day, the object depreciates 10 percent. The bottomed out value is 40 percent of the original price. The value of an object can never drop below 40 percent unless the object is broken or ruined.

Catherine Browne

Catherine grew up in a small town, loving the proverbial "great outdoors."

While she still enjoys hiking, camping, and just getting out under the big sky, Catherine also appreciates the fine art of blasting the Covenant in Halo as well as arranging a perfect little village in Animal Crossing. (Seriously, you cannot just plant apple trees all willy-nilly. Neat rows, people!)
